THE BEST CONCERT YET! That Was What People Said After Tubbs' Band Played on Union Square Friday Night.

Just as many people as ever trooped forth to hear Tubbs band in the third annual concert of the summer at Union square on Friday evening and they were given a thoroughly delightful entertainment by Director Swahn and his orchestra. So neatly band was the programme, and so splendidly executed, that the audience of three thousand people found it difficult to pick out any particular number for special praise. Perhaps the popular hits would preponderate in public favor but again the classical appeals to many of the cosmopolitan crowd and everybody seemed pleased. Of course there are other factors than the mere presence of a band at a band concert, someone was heard to remark, in general people seemed to think it was the best programme yet.

HAILSTONES IN FRANKLIN As Big as Methballs, Writes a Correspondent—Lightning Did Things to a Barn.

The electrical storm that swept through the valley section along near the state road in Franklin was one that will not be easily forgotten, writes a correspondent from that town. The storm lasted about 10 minutes, rain fell in torrents; it hailed, too, for about a minute, hailstones as large as methballs. During the storm lightning struck a barn and silo owned by Thomas Newman. It struck the north end of the barn, tearing off some few boards and tearing off boards and making kindlings of a post. Fortunately, there was no stock in the barn at that time.

Young Proprietor of the Central Garage on Lafayette Street

Disappeared Thursday Night in Car Owned by Fred E. Baker of Colchester, Leaving Numerous Unpaid Bills—

Two Attachments Placed on What He Did Leave—

Claimed to Represent Boston Company, Which His Salesman Couldn't Find.

Complaint was made to Chief of Police Linton on Friday that Philip Stevens, who has been conducting the Central Garage, formerly the "Ocean Garage" at 11-13 Lafayette street at the Falls for about a month, departed from the city in another man's automobile, leaving behind him a considerable number of unpaid bills, amounting to several hundred dollars. It was stated Friday night.

His property and stock in trade Stevens left at his place of business when he rode out of town Thursday night in a Cadillac touring car owned by Fred E. Baker of Colchester, the destination that his creditors do not know, has been attached by Sheriff George H. Clendinning to the car. The first attachment was for $200 to secure a claim of Walter L. Farrar of this city, who has employed as a salesman for Stevens. Mr. Farrar is represented by Attorney John H. Harnes. The second attachment was for $100 and was served on a check Thomas H. Shields, his attorney, telephoned Mr. Baker to come here and get his machine. But later Mr. Shields learned that Stevens had left Norwich in Mr. Baker's car and so he sent a second message to his client that it would not be necessary for the machine.

It was stated Friday night that Mr. Stevens had given checks for amounts as high as $75 on two Norwich banks which were not accepted, as he had no money in the institutions.

Chief Linton was asked to look for the missing automobile man, who, it is thought, might have gone in a Massachusetts direction.

Stevens entered his employ as a salesman and in the last few weeks had sold nearly $1,000 of oil and gasoline to garage men in this city and vicinity and being paid at the rate of $15 a week with expenses and a five per cent commission had $16 coming to him as his salary. Mr. Farrar got no satisfaction from his employer, and so this week he went to Boston to consult with his attorney, Del Carlo, of the company. He found that the numbers on Atlantic avenue stopped at 754 and that therefore the petroleum company was indefinitely beyond his reach.

To Mr. Stevens an automobile was entrusted by Cesare Del Carlo to be sold and the garage man is said to have found a purchaser for $500, but Mr. Del Carlo did not get into his hands his money check. Mr. Baker of Colchester likewise left his automobile at the Central garage and when he was asked to come here and get his machine, he was told that Stevens had left Norwich in Mr. Baker's car and so he sent a second message to his client that it would not be necessary for the machine.

It was stated Friday night that Mr. Stevens had given checks for amounts as high as $75 on two Norwich banks which were not accepted, as he had no money in the institutions.

Chief Linton was asked to look for the missing automobile man, who, it is thought, might have gone in a Massachusetts direction.

Lighted Cigar Butt Caused Fire in Bridge. Autochemical Called Out During the Band Concert to Blaze on West Main Street.

The shriek of the siren of the auto-chemical from the Central station struck the melodious strains that had been issuing from Tubbs band on Union square, as the apparatus was called out to the bridge over the West Main street. Some passerby had dropped the butt of a lighted cigar between the tracks of the Central Vermont railroad and the sparks set fire to some of the dry material. When the firemen got there the bridge was burning and the door of the bridge but one tank of chemical was all that was necessary to put the hidden fire completely out. The firemen squadrons got back to headquarters without missing more than a couple of numbers of the excellent musical programme.

PRaise FOR ST. PATRICK'S The Grandeur and Beauty of the Arch-Temple is Joined With the Spirit of Service.

A member of the editorial staff of the Catholic Transcript, motored to call at the cathedral last week and has this to say of Norwich: The massive and beautiful St. Patrick's commands more than its own name as one rides through the Rose of New England. It is doubtful whether there is a finer piece of parish ecclesiastical architecture in the United States than this imposing temple.

Turning towards the rising sun, we found the pastor of St. Patrick's in the cemetery giving directions to those who are charged to keep it in condition. The Catholic people of Norwich are most profuse in adorning the last resting place of their departed. The monuments are stately and becoming and give evidence of a pious regard for the memory of the dead. Promising to call at the rectory on our return, we journeyed on to Taftville.

It was a distinct pleasure to keep our agreement with the amiable pastor of St. Patrick's, Norwich. In the morning we found him busy with the past of the parish, in the evening with the care of the cemetery. Each season, each hour, each class of person has its duties and then the problem and he was given permission to carry out his ideas. He took the melon and slamed it on the pavement and the boys started to eat and then the rush started. Down went the papers the boys had under their arms and about this time Officer Smith came along and the boys made a hasty disposal.

NEWSBOY'S MELON PARTY. Friday afternoon the news boys on Franklin square enjoyed a watermelon party on Ferry street. One of the newsies discovered a large watermelon in the gutter and he immediately started for the newsie who had summoned all his companions. When the boys came to opening the melon it seemed that no one had a knife so one thought of solving the problem and he was given permission to carry out his ideas. He took the melon and slamed it on the pavement and the boys started to eat and then the rush started. Down went the papers the boys had under their arms and about this time Officer Smith came along and the boys made a hasty disposal.

GARDNER LODGE INSTALLS. List of Officers Seated by Knights of Pythias on Friday Evening.

The officers installed were as follows: Chancellor Commander S. W. Armstrong; vice chancellor, C. A. Harvey; prelate, J. T. Stevens; master works, T. H. Beckley; master arms, master of the lodge, F. G. Thurman.

After the installation of the officers several speeches were made on the good of the lodge and the fine progress the lodge is making.

Transportation Without Accident. Lieut. James B. Crawford, Coast Artillery, U. S. A., who served as camp quartermaster, is still at the state camp ground at Niantic. The other regular army officers have departed. Lieutenant Crawford is detailed as instructor in mathematics at West Point.

Major Wise is pleased with the features of the camp of 1914. Transportation to and from camp was accomplished without accident. In about two hours and 30 minutes approximately 1,800 men, 350 horses, 15 cars of baggage, 1000 tons of supplies and 1000000 pounds were taken from the reservation and out of Niantic. This, the major believes is the best record.

For Beautiful Hair, Nourish the Scalp

Dandruff must be removed and the hair roots nourished to stop falling hair and itching scalp. It is unnecessary to have thin, brittle, matted, stringy or faded hair. No matter how unsightly the hair, how badly it is falling, or how much dandruff, Parisian Sage rubbed into the scalp is all that is ever needed. The hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life and beauty.

Parisian Sage, a dainty perfumed liquid, is one of the most pleasant, invigorating and refreshing hair tonics known, yet perfectly harmless and inexpensive. After the first application you will be surprised and delighted with Parisian Sage, for there is nothing that will so help to double your present attractiveness as luxuriant, glorious hair, and this tonic treatment is all that can possibly be desired.

Be sure to get Parisian Sage from The Lee & Gogood Co. or at any drug or toilet counter, as there is no other so effective.

Refreshments at the crane were a part of the afternoon's programme and ample justice was given the clam chowder and accompanying delicacies served in picnic style.

The accused men paid their fines to Chief Matthews and were glad to gain their freedom. The ring case was postponed until this morning as the complainant was still out of town.

Father and Son Fight on Street. A young man by the name of Clarence DeWolf of Groton, who was slightly intoxicated, happened to meet his father on the street Friday morning, who was sitting in a wagon with another man. It seems that the son tried to pull his father out of the wagon and trouble arose, and Officer Smith was forced to step in and quiet things. The men will have to appear before Judge Kelley this morning and straighten out things.

DR. KKAUFMAN ON BLOCK ISLAND TRIP. Had Enjoyable Sport Catching Big Tuna Fish Off That Resort.

Rev. Matthias S. Kaufman, D. D., now of Central Falls, R. I., who is spending two weeks in this city and vicinity, and is filling his old pulp at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon. He has just returned from a most enjoyable visit to Block Island. In the course of his sojourn at that delightful resort Dr. Kaufman was one of a party of three who made a fishing trip off the island and caught nine tuna weighing from 31 to 33 pounds apiece. The curious thing about the fish is that no bait is needed, for it seems to swallow the hook just as greedily as if lured down with a luscious mussel or other morsel.

GORTON FAMILY REUNION. Thirty-Six Descendants Met With Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bond at Black Point.

A family gathering of the Gorton clan was held on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bond at Black Point, who gave hospitable welcome to thirty-six descendants of the late William Gardner Gorton of East Greenwich, Rhode Island, who came from Cleveland, Ohio; Burnsville, New York; Boston, Mass.; New York city; Norwich, New London and Groton as well as Niantic and Black Point. No more appropriate place for a Gorton reunion could be found than the old farmhouse at Black Point, which has been the ancestral home of the ancestors of all those present. This farm at the end of the Point passed from the possession of the Niantic Indians to that of Christopher Christophers of New London and his descendants and was purchased from them by Robert Gorton in 1671. Since that time the Gortons and Bonds have been the owners for nearly 100 years. And as all of William G. Gorton's descendants are a critical inspection for a definite adjustment of the rival claims. An Indian battle axe and a British cannon ball were evidence of the historical
