TONGUE POISONED BY STEAM OF CLAY PIPE.

Dr. J. A. Gaucher Taken to Hospital For Surgical Treatment—His Father Summoned From Baltic.

Dr. J. A. Gaucher of Union street was called here to take the practice of Dr. J. A. Girouard when the latter went to Europe a year ago, was taken to the private hospital in early Friday afternoon by Dr. F. M. Smith. Dr. Gaucher was suffering from an intestinal tongue that caused him much pain. The tongue had swollen so much that Dr. Gaucher was unable to raise his mouth and cut his tongue. He attended to the injury himself and did not expect any bad results. Thursday morning the tongue was suddenly swollen and Dr. F. M. Smith was called. He gave the doctor relief and it was decided that the doctor be taken to the hospital for surgical treatment. There was an abscess on the doctor's tongue and it is hoped to remove the infection out. Word was sent to the doctor's father in Baltic and he came here noon afterwards. The doctor was unable to talk when taken to the hospital by Dr. Smith and Dr. Gaucher's father.

GENUINE HOLD-UP.

Chief Richmond Believes Elmer Hawkes' Loss of Watch and Money No Chief.

Chief E. H. Richmond is investigating a peculiar case which at first was looked upon as possibly a joke on Elmer Hawkes of 128 Church street. Hawkes had been to the moving picture with a young lady and had escorted her home. On Prospect street, near J. L. Leonard's house, about 9:45 o'clock four men stopped Hawkes, according to his statement, and took a revolver from him of his watch and $18. Hawkes notified the police and a patrolman was sent to investigate the matter. He saw no trace of any men in the vicinity. The place where Hawkes says he was held up is right across the street from J. L. Leonard's. The fact that it was so early at night and so near a residence caused the police to think that perhaps some of Hawkes' young men friends had played a joke on him. He was unable to give any information about the persons except that there were four of them in number. Chief Richmond took up the case Friday and investigated the matter in detail. He said Friday afternoon that after listening to Hawkes' story and finding other Friday connected with the affair he felt now that it was a true enough hold-up. The chances of landing the men are not most promising because Hawkes could not give a description of them.

CITY ICE BRINGS $1,632.

A Large Amount Remains, Owing to Cool Summer.

The Aherm Construction company, which is buying and retailing the ice harvested by the city last winter has already paid into the city treasury $1,632. A large amount of ice remains. Had the summer been warmer much more ice would have been consumed. It has been an exceptionally cool summer so that people have been able to get along with less ice than usual. Yet the Aherm Construction company is to retail ice the year round and they have a lot of the merchants and their customers and most of the ice has been sold. At the present price of thirty cents a hundred the price of customers at dwellings will use ice that from all indications the entire crop of city ice will be used up by the people of the city before the next crop is ready to be harvested. The business men have been getting their job at 25 cents a hundred and the dwellings at thirty cents a hundred, which is considerable drop from what the people had been paying for ice under conditions which forced the city to produce ice for the summer. The municipal ice plant has done two things at least, it has reduced the price of ice fifty per cent. from what it was last year.

He received word from the French consul in New York to report there and immediately sent word he would be on hand. He has a wife and a fourteen year old son who have not been in this country very long. Mr. Obermeyer's father was a soldier in the Franco-Prussian war.

Nothing to Rumor.

General Eugene S. Ross said Friday that he did not see any reason, or any rumor that the American "Threat" plant here was going to shut down three days a week. When told that the people believed there was something in the rumor because of the conditions in Europe, he said that he saw no reason in that for any such rumor as running the plant on half time. Of course there was no telling what the future might have in store but he saw no immediate cause for any such thing.
