SIGNIFICANCE OF EUROPEAN WAR

Rev. F. O. Cunningham Applies Biblical Prophecy to Modern Times—Advises to Watch Turkey in the Light of Daniel's Forecast on the Ottoman Empire—United States Not in the Area of Prophecy.

At the Central Baptist church on Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Joel E. Sloum, upon his vacation, the pulpit was filled at both services by Rev. F. O. Cunningham of New Bedford, who spent the evening in an intensely attentive congregation upon the theme, "The Significance of the European War."

In his forecast of the present war, the preacher applied the prophecies to be found in the book of Daniel in the 11th and 12th chapters and strongly affirmed the progress of the disintegration of events showed that they had been fulfilled in the history of the nations and for that reason were worthy of acceptance as indicating world events that were yet to transpire.
Just as the physician who diagnoses a cancer in his patient is not responsible for the progress of the disease, so God is not responsible for this war, because he has foreseen the forces working among the nations and has foreseen the progress of the disintegration of the world. The prophet leads to when we realize that ten million men are under arms, that the casualties have already reached 100,000 and what will come next, we are appalled and saddened.

Two months ago the editors of the world would have laughed at anyone who would have prophesied that the present war would come to pass. They would have told you of the Hague tribunal, the tremendous cost of armor and armament, and the great expenditures had to prevent such colossal expenditures. But the situation now is not a theory, but a fact. If the editor of the world had predicted that the present war would come to pass, he would have been shown to be wrong, how shall we now believe them in what they say as to how the war is coming and what will come next?

But the Bible has proved its right to be heard as a book of prophecy. Rev. Mr. Cunningham said, and as a proof that this is no mere theory, the birth of Christ an obscure prophet, Isaiah, foretold that Jesus was to be born in Bethlehem of Judaea and although there was every consideration why Mary should have shunned that uncomfortable journey of 80 to 70 miles from Nazareth to Bethlehem and it was in Bethlehem that the village of Bethlehem just in time for the fulfillment of the prophecy, while at the same time the registration decree of Augustus Caesar was being cause to accomplish the fulfillment of this prophecy.

The capture of Babylon by Cyrus was another prophecy, made by Isaiah 250 years in advance, that proved the value of Bible prophecies and in the 11th chapter of Daniel the consecutive history of two and a half millenniums is to be seen forecasted. The conquest of Xerxes and Alexander, and the splitting up of Alexander's empire are shown and the Ottoman empire is clearly indicated. Then watch Turkey, the preacher said, and if you find that Turkey is forced out of Europe and is placing her power between the seas and the Holy Land, you may conclude that the last act is being played. Jesus believed in the book of Daniel, and I rather stand with Jesus, said the speaker, than with the professors who do not believe in it.

Is this the final war? I don't know, and I don't say so, but what is happening today proves the possibility of such a general war as is covered in the area of prophecy. The United States, however, does not see that we are on the side of God, and therefore be ye ready for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh.
A hymn of praise service at the church one of the hymns used was one of which the words were written by Rev. Mr. Cunningham. It is called A Century of Missions.

Commissioner Walsh led off with a few remarks to the effect that the department under his control was giving now, he believed that with a little more co-operation quite a little better service was being rendered. Mr. Walsh stated that as collector he could not be in every nook and asked for the ideas of the men doing the real work as to improvements. He stipulated that there was no fault finding in his report, but that he was anxious to get the best out of the service on the best possible basis.
