GREENEVILLE

Local People Enjoyed Launch Ride to New London Sunday—Michael Sadoski Gave Picnic to Friends—Other Local Happenings.

A party of ten Greenville young people enjoyed a launch ride down the river as far as New London and return on Sunday. They left here about 9 o'clock in the morning and stopped at Gates Ferry and the navy yard on the way down, arriving at New London shortly after noon. Dinner was enjoyed and during the course of the afternoon the party went on to Ocean Beach, where a brief stay was made. The return trip was made about 6 o'clock.

Picnic on Sunday. Michael Sadoski of North Main street entertained several personal friends at a picnic in the woods off Edwilem avenue on Sunday. There were a few athletic games, racing, jumping, etc. Basket lunches were enjoyed under the trees and the gathering broke up during the late afternoon. The picnic was in honor of Mr. Sadoski's birthday.

Personals and Notes. Work is progressing at the coffee dam.

Flags were generally displayed in Greenville on Labor Day.

The masses in St. Mary's church on Sunday were largely attended.

Oscar Barrett of Willimantic was a visitor at his home on Eighth street over Labor Day.

The Central Village cars passing through here all day Monday were crowded to the doors, every bit of standing room being taken up.

New Haven papers state St. Francis' parochial school of that city will reopen today (Tuesday). It is expected that the 15 school rooms will be filled to their utmost capacity and the attendance will number in the neighborhood of 400. Rev. J. Smith a former Greenville pastor is the present rector of the parish.

MISS DORIS HALL

RETURNED ON TANKER Was in Europe with Party of Dana Hall Girls.

Miss Doris E. Hall of North Willimantic, who was one of the party of two Wellesley teachers and 12 students in Europe when the war began and were forced to return to the country on all tank steamers which arrived Saturday, is a daughter of Col. William Henry Hall. Miss Hall was a passenger on Italian tanker Lampo, which left Genoa Aug. 19. The girls of the party are all athletic and are well acquainted with the officers who gave up their quarters to the girls and the latter report a very pleasant trip. All were well on their arrival in New York except Miss Margaret Hinds of Honolulu, who was threatened with appendicitis and was rushed from quarantine on a tug and taken to the Presbyterian hospital.

Entertained Camp Girls. Miss May Fisher of Far View, on the Corning road, entertained the Dwellers Camp girls Saturday afternoon and evening. The party included Miss Lina Ackley of Ledyard, Miss Clara Stearns, Miss Katherine Mallett and Miss Lillian Crumb of Norwich. During the evening the parlor was entertained by Howard L. Fisham, pianist, and with pleasing vocal selections. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Fisher.

Cuba's 1914 sugar crop is estimated at 2,575,000 tons.

What Causes Wrinkles? What's The Remedy?

Stop to consider what produces wrinkles and sagging of skin. Premature aging, malnutrition, etc. cause the flesh to shrink, lose its youthful plumpness and elasticity. The skin then is too thin and weak. It wrinkles, sags, and droops. It is not until it is too late to do anything to remedy it. It is not until it is too late to do anything to remedy it. RECENT CRITICISM OF CITY

Mayor Murphy Answers Report Made on Norwich Fire Protection by Engineer Howland—Disputes Assertions Made as to Political Influence and Use of Undersized Water Mains—City's Business Transacted by Council.

Criticism of Norwich and its fire-fighting facilities as expressed in the report made on July 31, 1914, by Engineer J. H. Howland of the National Board of Fire Underwriters brought out a vigorous answer from Mayor T. C. Murphy in the common council meeting with a defense of what the city was doing along fire protection lines. The council backed up the mayor's opinion by a unanimous vote and Clerk Stephen D. Moore was directed to inform Engineer Howland of this action.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by the mayor and the roll call showed the absentees to be Alderman Dr. W. C. McLaughlin and Councilmen A. E. Crutcher, William Kramer, J. J. Connelly and Hugh Kinder. Cahoon Street Sidewalk Hearing. After Clerk Stephen D. Moore had read the call for the hearing on a sidewalk grade on both sides of Cahoon street the hearing was opened, but no one appeared to be heard.

Mayor Murphy then declared the hearing closed and the resolution establishing the grade was adopted. Alderman M. J. Howland for the public works committee reported that they advised that Charles Parry and Mayor Murphy should withdraw their petition for the acceptance of Vine Yerrinton avenue, and that Vine S. Peterson also be given leave to withdraw his petition for accepting Cedar avenue. The report was accepted and the recommendation adopted.

Mayor Murphy reported for the finance committee that they had met with the gas and electrical department and also with the water department and had learned from the gas department that all accepted streets where there was not now gas might soon expect to have gas, and that the water department was also in a position to extend water mains in accepted streets. Mayor Murphy reported that he proposes next year to lay a large main in Thames street and on Water street.

Petitions for Lights. A petition from the American Thermos Bottle company to have the city streets lighted with Thermos bottles was referred to the police commissioners.

A petition from the residents of Summit street and Spring Garden avenue asked for two lights there and a light moved. This was signed by Frank Lovell and others. It was referred to the police commissioners. John Crimmins and 15 others petitioned for a bug light on Mt. Pleasant street, between the Summit streets. Referred to police commissioners.

Pay for Shetucket Street Land. The sum of $1245 to John A. Brady for a parcel of land on Shetucket street was made when the widening of the street was made was voted to be paid to Mr. Brady.

For Chelsea Parade Walks. The selectmen's letter to the common council was read by the clerk, stating that it would cost $400 to repair the Chelsea parade walks and $1,800 for new granite walks and gutters. They proposed to put the latter amount in the next warning for a town meeting.

Mayor Murphy remarked that there were other walks that needed to be repaired and he thought they ought to be looked after.

Alderman Henry Gebraht stated that a number of walks had been looked over lately and notices sent to property owners had been sent out. He thought the property owners were obliged to and then collect from the property owners.

Letter on Fire Protection. A letter from B. P. Learned & Co. to the council spoke of letters which had been received from the strongest companies calling attention to their report on the Norwich fire and asking that the common council order that what was possible to better the fire protection.

TRADED CLOTHES WITH MAN FROM LEDYARD.

Morris Rowe Lost His Money and Attires to New London Stranger. Morris Rowe of Ledyard met a general young man about his own age in New London Sunday and they were friends for the day. Rowe had some money. His friend had none. He could, however, tell Rowe enough about inside life in New London to make up for his deficit in funds. Rowe concluded to enter into partnership under these terms. When it came night Rowe had $1 left. This was enough to pay for new lodging and get him back to Ledyard, where he did not need any money.

Sunday night in quest of a bed the two went to Morris Row's lodging house at 82 Bank street. Rowe gave his friend of a day's standing $1 to pay for the bed. The friend returned 50 cents. Monday morning Rowe's friend, his 50 cents and every etich of clothing had disappeared when Rowe awoke.

Serb said the man went out at 3 o'clock. He wore Rowe's clothes, but he thought it was Rowe himself. Rowe got into his missing companion's clothes in the morning and went to the morning police station where he told his story. The police could not find the other man.

Mayor Makes Reply. Mayor Murphy said that he had thought at first that he would not notice this letter, for it seemed to be a reflection on the city. He read the following letter to the common council: Gentlemen of the Court of Common Council: I wish to bring to your notice the report of J. H. Howland, engineer of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, of 135 West 10th street, New York city, dated July 31, 1914.

In this report he claims he visited our city and made a head-on examination of the fire protection in the matter of fire protection with a number of our city officials and interested citizens and that nothing has been done in regard to the betterment of our fire department since his last report in 1911.

I had no interview whatsoever with this gentleman during his visit here, and had I had the opportunity of conversing with him I am confident that I could have shown him several instances where his report was far from correct.

For instance, he makes the statement that we are continually using undersized water mains. This is not so, because the water department has been doing in regard to the betterment of our fire department since his last report in 1911. I have no interview whatsoever with this gentleman during his visit here, and had I had the opportunity of conversing with him I am confident that I could have shown him several instances where his report was far from correct.

He makes another alarming statement, namely, that he had carried out improvements that are most urgent indicate generally unsatisfactory support in the water department. We all know this is not so. I can't recall any instance where the water department has not been doing its best to support in the water department. We all know this is not so. I can't recall any instance where the water department has not been doing its best to support in the water department.

He also states that there has been less money appropriated for men and additional hose and apparatus than in former years. The inaccuracy of this statement is shown by the fact that in 1904 about $1,000 was appropriated, year by year this sum was increased until in 1914 $38,000 was appropriated. Thus you see that in 10 years the amount appropriated has been doubled. This sum is appropriated for maintenance only, not taking into consideration amounts appropriated for new buildings, etc.

He said that the efforts of our competent chief of fire department, political influence and that the chief did not receive sufficient support from the city. Of all the things that I have seen the most, and I wish to state most emphatically that this is absolutely without any basis of fact. I have seen the chief of fire department, political influence and that the chief did not receive sufficient support from the city.
