GEORGE E. HINMAN HONORED.
Local Lawyer Receives Republican Nomination for Attorney-General.

Attorney George E. Hinman of this city, who was nominated for Attorney General of the state at the Republican convention held in New Haven, Thursday, has a host of friends in this city, who speak very favorably of his chances for election to what they consider a well-deserved honor.
Mr. Hinman has been a resident of this city for over twenty years, and studied law and was admitted to the bar in this city. He has been clerk of the house and of the senate, and clerk of bills at different meetings of the General Assembly, and for several years has been the secretary of the Republican central committee. He has acted as counsel for Columbia and other towns in this vicinity, and is now county health officer for this county.
His legal training and ability should make him well fitted for the office of attorney-general, should he be elected, and it is a certainty that, whether he had to do would be done thoroughly. Politically, he has no enemies to speak of, and it is considered here that the presence of his name on the ticket will add strength to a re-united republican party.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Wilmer Bradbury.
The death of Mrs. Mary Ella Bradbury, widow of Wilmer Bradbury, for many years superintendent of the Willimantic Machine company, which occurred Thursday evening, was a distinct shock to her large circle of friends.

Mrs. Bradbury was apparently in good health and spirits, although she had been afflicted with Bright's disease for a year and a half, and spent two weeks in St. Joseph's hospital in July.

Mrs. C. F. Risedorf and Miss Ethel Risedorf were calling upon Mrs. Bradbury on Thursday afternoon, about a quarter of 5, when she suddenly complained of a severe pain in her head and became unconscious. Dr. Laura Hill and P. E. Wilcox, summoned, and Mrs. Bradbury was taken at once to the hospital, where her death occurred at 7 o'clock, without regaining consciousness.

A ruptured blood vessel was the cause of death.
The deceased was born 55 years ago in Wauregan, Conn., the daughter of Elisha Clark and Mary Cady. Her parents removed to this city in 1862 and practically all of Mrs. Bradbury's life was spent here, where her cheerful disposition had made her a host of friends.

She is survived by two brothers, George Clark of Providence, R. I., and Charles Clark of Hartford, and two sons, Homer of Hartford and Leonard of this city.

A contest developed for the position of first selectman. H. T. Burr nominated A. L. Gellinas, who has headed the ticket in two previous caucuses, while two former holders of the office, S. Gellinas received 55 out of a total of 93 votes and was elected.

For recorder the names of Elmer M. Young and Herbert J. Spaulding were presented to the caucus. Of 92 votes cast, Mr. Young received 54 and was declared the choice of the caucus.

Attorney Curtis Dean and Walter King were the two nominees for the first name on the town committee, and on the ballot Mr. King was chosen by 52 votes to 31.

After giving the town committee power to fill vacancies, the meeting adjourned at 10.

Only One Hunter's License Taken Out.
Inquiry at the office of the town clerk as to the number of hunting licenses issued shows that only one such permit has been taken out. September is open season for duck hunting, but, evidently, most hunters are aware that a federal act makes the shooting of migratory birds an offense punishable by law, though the statutes of Connecticut have amended since the federal legislation, permit hunting of duck during this month. Few hunters here care to take the chance of running up against the agents of Uncle Sam, for ducks are migratory birds and therefore protected under the federal law.

If no results are obtained at the special town meeting, either as to electing Mr. Hathaway or someone else, it is probable that more will be heard about the matter or the situation developing from it at the annual town meeting in October.
