The announcement of Councilman Francis G. Hewitt that he would be a candidate for representative in the general assembly from the First Westerly district, in opposition to the present incumbent, Joseph T. Murphy, the choice of the town committee, and the possibility of an opponent against the reelection of Albert E. Langworthy, representative from the Second district, created more than ordinary interest in the town and district caucuses held here for other than the usual purpose of electing delegates which were held in the town hall Thursday evening. There were fully 600 present.

The town convention, for the nomination of a state senator was called to order by Arthur L. Perry of the town committee. Eugene B. Fenwick was chosen chairman and John A. Perry clerk. After the reading of the call for the caucus, Town Clerk Everett W. Hipple moved that Senator Louis W. Arnold be renominated. There was no opposing candidate and Mr. Arnold was unanimously renominated by acclamation. Senator Arnold expressed sincere thanks for the hearty endorsement given him by his fellow townsmen. He said he had been a resident of Westerly forty years and was known to all the residents. He accepted the nomination and said that if reelected his course would be the same as in the past.

On motion of John J. Dunn, the town committee was authorized to fill vacancies, should any occur. The town convention then adjourned.

Charles F. Barry, of the district committee, called the First district caucus to order. Dr. John A. O'Connell was elected chairman and John J. Dunn clerk. The chairman stated that the business of the caucus was the nomination of a representative in the general assembly.

Charles F. Barry placed Joseph T. Murphy in nomination, stating that he had served with credit and was the unanimous choice of the town committee.

James McKenize placed Councilman Francis G. Hewitt in nomination as the opposing candidate.

It was voted to ballot for the candidates by check list, and a motion

The Evidence Is At Your Door.

Norwich proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt: Eugene Sweet, Norwich, says: "I was confined to my bed as the result of an attack of lumbago. I suffered from sharp pains across my loins and was greatly annoyed by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. I consulted the best doctors in Providence, but their treatment failed to help me in the least. I finally read about Doan's Kidney Pills and as I was badly in need of something that would help me, I began using them. Improvement was soon noticeable and I continued using this remedy until the trouble disappeared. Others of my family have taken Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint and have been cured. I confirm all I have ever said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills."

that the ballot box remain open until 9:30, made by George B. Utter, prevailed. It was then voted to adjourn for five minutes, to give the Second district opportunity to hold caucus, it being understood that there was to be no contest in that district.

Samuel H. Davis of the Second district committee, called the caucus to order and organization was completed by the election of Eugene B. Fenwick as chairman, and Samuel H. Davis as clerk. Mr. Davis, in behalf of the district committee, made motion that Representative Albert E. Langworthy be renominated by acclamation, as he was the only candidate for the office. The motion prevailed and E. Langworthy was declared the nominee.

Judge Edward M. Burks made motion, which prevailed, that the district committee be empowered to fill any vacancy and the caucus adjourned.

The First district caucus was then reconvened and Chairman O'Connell announced that Mr. Hewitt had named as his tellers D. Hays, Rogers and P. Barry and called upon Mr. Murphy to name tellers to represent JUMPED FROM RUNAWAY. Mrs. Daniel Larkin Struck on Her Head—Died Friday Night.

Mrs. Daniel Larkin was fatally injured in a runaway accident on East Franklin street Friday afternoon, 6 o'clock when she jumped to save herself, and striking on her head, was so seriously hurt that she died at 10:45 without having regained consciousness.

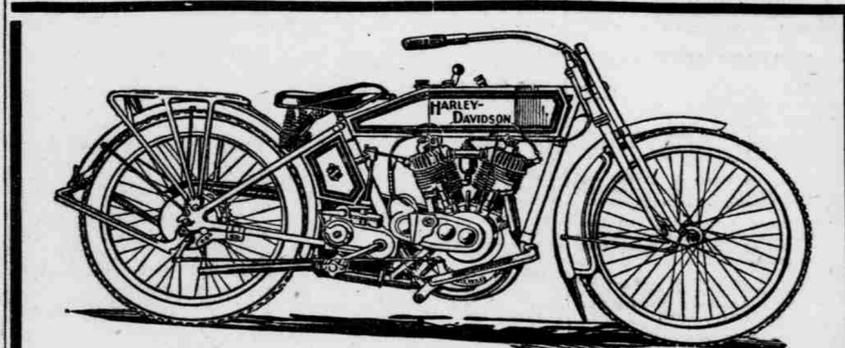

With Mrs. Larkin at the time of the accident was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Byron Wood, in a motor car. The horse at her home on East Franklin street, by an oversight, one of the holdbacks was not put into its hook. The horse started to run, Mrs. Larkin jumped almost from the first, but was perjured for the time being by Mrs. Wood to remain in the car.

Mrs. Larkin had jumped out on Broad street and Mrs. Wood escaped without injury.

Mrs. Larkin was taken home in an improvised ambulance and physicians summoned. The injuries to her head were so serious as to preclude any possibility of her recovery. Mrs. Larkin grew gradually weaker until her death.

Mrs. Larkin was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, her maiden name being Avis. Her first husband was Samuel Roff, who died 34 years ago. Two children are the issue of this marriage, William J. Roff of the Lar-Kin-Reed company and Mrs. Charles B. Hutchins, also of Danielson. Later in life she again married, her second husband being Daniel T. Larkin, who died in September of last year.

A new motor, with no larger bore and stroke, but with 47% more power, greatly increased speed, yet running quieter and with much less gas and oil consumption, and much longer life. With absolutely no vibration on the road, and an oiling system that is positively reliable and trouble-proof, the new motors will last indefinitely.

New Transmission, 3-Speed Selective Sliding Gear, also trouble-proof, and as large as the transmission in a light car, running direct and free of the gears when in high, and is noiseless in any gear. Impossible to shift gears until clutch is released, doing away with any chance of stripping gears.

Special Interest in Campaign. The hearing on the allowance of claims in the case of A. F. Wood vs. the A. F. Wood company, a Danielson case, occupied a considerable time, the judge finally taking the papers and some of the books of the corporation were laid in as exhibits. The two particular claims that received attention were those of the late Evelyn H. Curtis, Danielson, represented by Attorney Harry J. Williams, Providence, executor of her will, and that of S. S. Stone, Danielson, a contractor who has a claim of $84, this for materials and labor in constructing a building of the A. F. Wood company, not a creditor.

Mr. Wood and Mr. Stone, both of whom testified, agreed that Mr. Wood owned the company, that the stock was held in the name of the late Evelyn H. Curtis, Danielson, represented by Attorney Harry J. Williams, Providence, executor of her will, and that of S. S. Stone, Danielson, a contractor who has a claim of $84, this for materials and labor in constructing a building of the A. F. Wood company, not a creditor.

Mr. Wood testified that Miss Curtis bought her stock one month, paying $100 in cash for five shares. Miss Curtis' estate's claim is disputed on the ground that she was a stockholder, not a creditor.

The status of the company in regard to its being a corporation was discussed at some length, the verdict being in favor of the stockholders bearing on the disputed claims.

Woodward, an agent of the New Haven road, says that the number of trespassers on the company's right of way has been greatly reduced as the result of the active campaign that was started against this class a few months ago. A number of the trespassers found their way into the local city court, some of them being sent to jail.
