JAIL FOR LUCIER.

Killingly Man Given One Year—Business in Superior Court Friday—Divorce Granted Mrs. Charles Adams

There was a short calendar session of the superior court in this city Friday morning at eleven o'clock. Judge Joel H. Reed of Stafford, presiding. In the case of Wheeler Brothers Show vs. Andrew Downie et al., a default was ordered unless pleadings were filed within a week. In the case of C. H. Jensen vs. Henry L. Spalding an order was granted for pleadings within two weeks. In Albertus F. Wood company, the receiver's semi-annual account was accepted, and his application to compromise the claim against L. E. Kennedy granted. By a bookkeeper's mistake this claim had been allowed in excess of the proper amount.

The case of the T. R. Sudd Co. vs. Town of Windham went off the list by agreement. In the Town of Sterling vs. Anne B. Foley et al., Arthur E. Stiles vs. John Lucy, Fred R. Benoit vs. Namarie Paquin, and the unconsented divorce cases of Robertville, Tripp vs. Tripp, Rouillard vs. Rouillard, and Whittaker vs. Whittaker, these matters were continued and kept on the list.

The following additional cases were assigned: Wed., Oct. 23, Clara Beatrice Noel vs. Bert H. Latham; Oct. 12 (at Putnam) the jury cases of Harmon's Appeal from Probate, and Charles Barron vs. The County of Windham; Nov. 17, Latham & Crane vs. Raymond J. Jodoin.

P Florence B. Adams of this city obtained a divorce from Charles H. Adams (colored) of parts unknown, on the ground of intolerable cruelty.

Mrs. Adams said she was married in New London, 1912, both parties being at that time residents of this city. Soon after their marriage Adams took to drinking and abusing her, and going about with other women. He struck her several times, and at one time threatened her life with a bottle. On this occasion John Filpen, a neighbor, interfered. At another time Adams drove his wife out of the house with a razor. They were then living on Maple Avenue, and she fled through the rain and lightly clad to the home of the Filpens on Schoolhouse lane. Once when Adams threatened his wife and assailed her, he was arrested and received a sentence in the police court. Both Mr. and Mrs. John Filpen corroborated the plaintiff's story, and Judge James A. Shea was put upon the stand to testify to the conviction of Adams in the police court.

At the conclusion of these civil matters, State's Attorney Searls announced that he was ready to proceed with the balance of the criminal business, and John Lucier of Killingly was the first one called.

Lucier, who is said to be a tramp weaver, had work in Attawaugan, rooming at the house of Mr. Grimshaw, and took one hundred dollars from the pocket of a fellow boarder, going to Putnam, then to Worcester, Mass., and finally to Woonsocket, R. I., in which place he was apprehended. He had used up the money. It was stated to the court that Lucier was known to the Woonsocket police, and had the reputation of having been in trouble there on account of drink. Because he submitted to arrest without extradition papers, and pleaded guilty, he received a light sentence, one year in the county jail.

Arthur Payette Gets Sprained Ankle When Horse Runs Away.

While coming down North street from Prospect Friday morning about eight thirty, with a load of lumber for W. Gerick's garage, recently damaged by fire, a horse belonging to the Willimantic Lumber & Coal company, and driven by Arthur Payette, took fright and ran away, when part of his load shifted and struck his back. The result was a lively dash, which caused no great damage, Payette pluckily kept his seat and attempted to turn the corner when Main street was reached, but the horse slipped and fell, and the lumber was spilled out and onto the animal. Another wagon came and the load was picked up and delivered. The horse was cut somewhat on the side. Payette received a sprained ankle by getting his foot caught under the seat.

DANIELSON

Parcel Post Record

During the first 15 days of October, 553 parcel post packages were dispatched from the Danielson post office, the total weight being 1,119 pounds. The number of parcels received was 1,217. The number sent out shows some falling off from the record of the spring months, but average in average weight. Only 29 of the parcels sent out were insured.

Forty Hours' Devotion

At the Sacred Heart church in Waukegan Friday morning the annual observance of the Forty Hours' Devotion was opened with a solemn high mass. The special devotions will be concluded at the high mass Sunday. Priests from surrounding parishes are assisting the pastor, Rev. J. C. Mathieu.

Explains Chicken Theft

The Bulletin's "hook and line" chicken fishing story in the Danielson news Friday gave a number of poultry owners an inspiration. They have been missing members of their feathered flocks steadily this fall and could not just figure out how the trick was being done. Now they think they know and rather than let persons who mean to overcome it, one man swears he will catch some of his own bait—and some other treatments, some of which may be legal.

FUNERAL

Mrs. Louis Andrews
Funeral services for Mrs. Louis Andrews, who died at Rice City, were held at her home there Thursday afternoon. The Rev. J. C. Mathieu officiated. Mrs. Andrews was buried in the Oneco cemetery. Mrs. Andrews was the funeral director.

BOROUGH MUST BE DRY

Barrels of Booze Coming in, But Laws Will Be Enforced

Is Danielson going to be dry during the no-license year that commences November 1? This may or may not be indicated by the liberal shipments of liquor that it is said are being rushed in her barrels and barrels of it, if reports be true. What is to become of it? Has it been purchased for some other purpose? Is it to be kept around just to prove that temptation can be resisted right in the face of the tempter? Is it for medicinal purposes, or for just plain, ordinary boozing? Has someone discovered that one can get more miles per gallon out of it than other kinds of fuel? These are questions asked daily and constantly by persons who have heard the stories. Some of these questions may be answered within the next twelve months and those who run and rear will get the answers. There is a movement on foot to make Killingly a no-license town in fact as well as in name during the coming year. The sale of liquor is going to be a precarious industry—and an expensive one. No-license workers will get help from strong-armed people who have joined in their campaign to keep the town dry. All they will have to do is to see that help is made to count. There are some who believe that they have decided to see how the town will hold up if it really suffers from a liquor famine during which the man who drinks whiskey because he likes it and the man who drinks the same brand of "medicine" will have equal difficulty in getting his regular
