SUES FOR RIGHT TO BUY PLACE

Wilfred E. Brown of Stonington is Plaintiff Against John E. Hart of Wisconsin—Wants Chance to Buy Place in Old Mystic—Still Holds On After Several Efforts to Evict Him.

In the superior court here on Tuesday before Judge Howard J. Curtis, the case of Wilfred E. Brown of Stonington against John E. Hart of Erroy, Wisconsin, trustee under the will of the late Elijah E. Morgan of Stonington, was on trial all day and was not concluded when court adjourned at 4:40 in the afternoon until Wednesday morning.

The suit was brought on the claim that Mr. Hart as trustee under the will of the late Elijah E. Morgan of Stonington had refused to carry out the terms of an agreement into which he entered with Mr. Brown on Feb. 21, 1907.

The agreement was a lease of three-quarters of an acre of land with the buildings thereon in the village of Old Mystic at the annual rental of $180, from the 24th of March, 1907, for the term of one year. The lease contained the provision that the lessee should have the first opportunity to purchase the premises during the term of the lease and that the lessor should not sell the same to any other person or persons without first giving the lessee an opportunity to purchase at the same price and terms on which the sale would be made to the other person or persons.

Mr. Brown has continued to occupy the property without other agreement and he claims that on January 31, 1914, Mr. Hart made arrangements to sell the property to some other person and that the plaintiff demanded to know the purchase price and offered to pay it to Albert Denison, agent for Mr. Hart, it was refused and he has since then been occupying the property as a tenant of the plaintiff.

The plaintiff is still occupying the property, although several efforts have been made to evict him from it. When the case was called in court on Tuesday morning, Attorney B. H. Hewitt, who was counsel for the plaintiff, asked for a continuance because of the sickness of Policeman William Foley of Stonington, a material witness, but Attorney Abel Tanner for the defendant opposed this, as he said that one of his witnesses came from Wisconsin and the attorney brought that they could all agree on what Mr. Casey would say if he were in court.

The judge denied the motion of Attorney Hewitt and told the attorneys that the court would take a recess while to enable them to draw up a paper which would contain what Mr. Foley might say. When this had been accomplished, the trial proceeded.

The witnesses put upon the stand to show the plaintiff's side of the case were the plaintiff himself, the defendant, and Albert Denison. At 1 o'clock the plaintiff rested.

The first witness for the defense was Daniel E. Denison and he was followed by Mr. Hart and Mr. Brown was also called to the stand by Attorney Tanner.

In his testimony Mr. Hart stated that he had understood through letters that came to him that Mr. Brown had practically agreed to purchase the place, although he had had frequent opportunities to do so.

In April of 1912 he claimed he gave Mr. Brown notice that he was determined to dispose of the place and Mr. Brown refused to buy it until a customer was found.

It was shown that the checks for the rent that had been sent out west to Mr. Hart had all been signed by Mrs. Brown and he testified that he never wrote any letters to Mr. Hart but that his wife had written all the letters and that she had agreed to the purchase of the place and he disapproved of them.

A man named Whitford wanted to buy the place and offered $2,300, but the best that Mr. Brown would offer was $1,750, although at one time he had said he would buy at $2,500. Mr. Hart claimed, a deed had been lodged at the Mystic River bank for Mr. Brown to take it at that price, but he had never done so.

Bring Back Your Appetite

With a Little—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet, the Secret of Perfect Digestion.

You should see our farmers and their boys eating in the fields. On the farm five meals a day is the rule. No one ever has stomach trouble because meals are digested and people live normally.

In the city we lose our "pep" and indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach trouble, etc., make us look on five meals as an impossibility.

A majority of people have come to know the blessings which an occasional use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets confer upon the stomach. They are unquestionably the most popular remedy known for the reason that dyspepsia is the national disease, and these wonderful little tablets have long since acquired a national reputation as a thoroughly reliable and efficient cure for all forms of dyspepsia and indigestion.

No matter how great the excess of food taken into the stomach, one of two of these tablets will digest every particle of it. A package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should always be in the house. Many a person has saved himself from a serious attack of acute indigestion by using them after heavy meals, such as are eaten Christmas, New Year's, Thanksgiving and other holidays and festive seasons.

After attending banquets, late suppers, heavy fancy dinners, after-theatre parties, etc., where one has dined on a large quantity of food, it is to be used, as they digest the food perfectly and completely, and prevent all possibility of dyspepsia, which, without their use, is more than likely to ensue.

Go to your druggist today and buy a box. A small sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will be mailed free to any one who will address F. A. Stuart Co., 180 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
