NO REVENUE STAMPS
Received in Danielson Up to Saturday Night—Predicament of Agents.

Up to Saturday night no special revenue stamps for use in accordance with the provisions of the act which becomes effective tomorrow, Dec. 1, had been received here, nor had any notice been received as to when to expect the stamps to arrive here by tomorrow, shippers and transportation company agents will find themselves facing a peculiar predicament.

An agent of one transportation company said he would receive no shipments unless the stamps to go on the bills of lading were on hand. The company has in mind the provision of the act imposing a fine of $50 for every instance where revenue stamp is not affixed to the bill of lading, and will not incur the risk of being so heavily assessed.

What is true in Danielson is also true of all the surrounding towns. No stamps had been received up to the end of the week. At the postoffice, where many have led themselves to be assured that the stamps would arrive, requirements of the new law might be had, none were to be had.

Insurance agents made up another group that were some weeks end worrying over their inability to get the special revenue stamps. The law requires that stamps representing one cent for every dollar of premium be affixed to each policy, this tax to be paid by the assured. The agents renewing or writing new business every day are at a loss as to how to comply with the law, and one said he could get no information here as to how to obtain them. The penalty for issuing policies without the stamps is not more than $100.

NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH.
Albert Sault resisted efforts of Ordinance Sergeant Frank E. Young to Rescue Him.

Albert Sault, employed here as a painter, had escaped from a death by incineration Sunday forenoon when he was dragged from a blazing one-room cottage in which he was being held by Ordinance Sergeant Frank E. Young, who happened to be at the state armory, and discovered that the little building just across, at the head of Water street, was afire.

Sault was sleeping heavily and Sergeant Young had difficulty in awakening him until he had smashed his way through the door. Young was unable to awaken him were without the desired result as were preliminary shakings, more strenuous methods were resorted to by the rescuer to get the drowsy man outside. Even after Sault had been taken out of the building, he made an effort to return, Mr. Young said, and effort to be restrained, this action probably being due to the fact that he had not fully awakened.

When Sergeant Young's attention was first directed to the little cottage, a tiny, weather-beaten structure huddled in between large buildings, smoke and flames were being seen pouring around the chimney, and from between the layers of shingles. He ran from the armory and, peering in through a window of the cottage, noted that the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Worden of North street.

Mildred Moriarity, who is attending school in New York, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Moriarity of Jackson street.

Post-Holiday Traffic Heavy.
Homeward bound travel of many who had been spending the time since Thanksgiving with relatives increased the passenger traffic on the New Haven through Putnam Saturday.

On Wednesday of this week the committee of the Ladies' Social circle of the Congregational church will make a canvass of the parishes for old members and rugs. A recent collection of old papers by the organization amounted to 7,500 pounds.

Massachusetts couples are again turning toward Putnam as a marriage center notwithstanding that the giving of a five days' notice now required by the present law has been taken as an indication that business is not booming in the territory where the answers came from.

VERDICT FOR RAILROAD.
Jury in Favor of Defendant For Suit of George E. Hill vs. New Haven Road.

A verdict in favor of the defendant company was found Saturday after long deliberation in the case of George E. Hill vs. the N. Y. N. H. and H. R. company. The case went to the jury Friday afternoon, late, but after considering the evidence until after 7 o'clock without arriving at a verdict the jurors were excused until 10:30 Saturday morning when they returned here and were again closeted.

The verdict was in favor of the defendant, but the verdict, after they had come out and reported that they could not agree. They were requested to return to the jury room by Judge Reed, to give further consideration to the case and seek if possible to reach an agreement. At building had caught fire from an overheated stove. Flames were lapping briskly at the woodwork and the room was heavily clouded with smoke.

Running around to the door, Sergeant Young smashed his way through the door, and the flames were immediately driven out by great volumes of smoke that threatened to suffocate him. After getting a little fresh air, he returned to the jury room and about discovered Sault calmly sleeping. By this time the opposite end of the room was a mass of flames.

After getting Sault to safety, Sergeant Young rushed over to box 23, at Woodward's corner, and pulled in the fire department.

By the time the department arrived the structure was completely wrapped in flames and the fire had communicated to a large wooden building occupied in part as a paint shop by Anthony Bouleau. Streams of water brought the fire under control in a jiffy, but not before the cottage was completely gutted. More than 1,000 gathered to watch the operations.

The cottage destroyed was formerly a part of the Ass Graves estate and is now owned by W. A. Graves. It has been rented to J. J. Bush, who it was said, had given Sault permission to sleep there. Mr. Bush lost practically all his clothes and valuables. His wife was not in the cottage when the fire broke out.

HECKERS' CREAM FARINA—DELICIOUS FOR BREAKFAST

this time, it is understood, the jury stood 11 to 1.

Mr. Hill was seriously injured April last when a team which he was driving was struck by a train at a grade crossing just east of the Moosup station. Mr. Hill had his left leg broken and lost cut from the spring foot besides sustaining other injuries that kept him in the hospital for weeks and more weeks at his home. One of his horses was so badly injured it had to be killed and his team was smashed.

The evidence submitted for the defence tended to show that the railroad company had taken every precaution to prevent such an accident as befell Mr. Hill. He testified that the automatic signal bell at the crossing was not heard ringing by him just before he started to cross the track. Witnesses for the railroad company testified that they had heard the bell ringing.

Brown and Perkins of Norwich were counsel for Mr. Hill, Shepard and Barnett for the railroad company.

No Stamps Received Yet.
Like other towns in this section of the state, Putnam was without the necessary stamps to carry out the provisions of the new emergency tax act, which becomes effective Tuesday, when the business week was ended Saturday night. An attorney reply and has been approached for legal advice and instruction by a number of clients who want to be informed fully as to what they must do to avoid the whole proposition seems to be up in the air at present; that he had written to a government revenue agent at Hartford without getting any reply and that the chances are that the stamps required in Putnam will not be available for everyone by Tuesday. He acknowledged to make cash as to the truth of the enormous demand being made upon the revenue officials is so great that they cannot handle it as promptly as they would like.

In the meantime, however, the stamp tax is to become effective and those who want to keep on doing business and are fearful of being assessed are somewhat worried over the situation.

MARRIAGE LICENSE CHANGES.
Town Clerk Flagg to Advocate Insertion of Relationship—Woman, Too, Should Take Oath as to Truth of Statements.

Town Clerk David Flagg is to take up with the bureau of vital statistics of the state the matter of having inserted in the forms for marriage licenses in Connecticut a question that all applicants should be required to answer—as to whether the proposed contracting parties are blood relatives. The idea is to prevent such cases as that of the late Mrs. Hill, when it was discovered that young man and his niece came here from Northbridge, Mass., last year and took out a license under which they were married. It has also been suggested that the woman named in any license to wed in Connecticut should be required to make the oath as to the truth of the license relative to herself and her antecedents. At present the male is allowed to make the oath as to the truth of the information about himself and his people but about his wife-to-be and her people, so far as is required by the questions now contained in the license form.

The bridesmaid's suit was of blue cloth, with which a large black velvet plumed hat was worn. Mr. and Mrs. Hart left at once for a brief wedding trip to Boston.

Mr. Hart is proprietor of the Hotel Chelceberg. His bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skelley, of Washington street, Norwich, is a graduate nurse from the Memorial, New London, New Britain and Providence hospitals and has been a district nurse for the Metropolitan insurance company in this district. ADVANTAGE IN THE FIGHTING LIES WITH RUSSIA.
Enormous Losses Have Been Inflicted on the Germans.

London, Nov. 23, 3:55 p. m.—While deprecating the exaggerated reports of Russian successes in the battle in northern Poland, where the German emperor has joined Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to offer his advice and to encourage his troops, the latest available official reports from Russian headquarters state that the advantage in the fighting still lies with the Russian army. It is also officially said that enormous losses have been inflicted on the Germans, but no mention is made of the capture of German divisions, which has been so freely claimed by the Petrograd correspondents of London and Paris papers.

Opposed to this is the German official report, which says that the Russians have been repulsed and that the German counter-attacks have been successful.

Some days must elapse before this battle which promises to prove the most decisive of the war is concluded. So far all that is definitely known is that the German advance has been stopped and that the troops of the German troops have been partly or wholly surrounded but they are still fighting stubbornly to break their way through the lines of the Russian army to the northward where they hope to join reinforcements sent from Thorn.

The battle before Craoov the Russians do claim decisive success. During the last week they took 20,000 Austrian and German prisoners in this region. This victory is taken in Petrograd to mean that Craoov will not bear the Russian advance in Silesia from the south but that with the Austrian army beaten it will be necessary only to mask the fortress.

The Russians likewise announce success on the Austrian side of the front. The reports of the Turkish advance in the Caucasus, although in both regions the worst of weather has prevailed.

NEWS BY WIRELESS
SENT FROM BERLIN.
Loss of British Battleship Bulwark a Cause For Satisfaction.

Berlin, Nov. 23, by Wireless to Sayville, L. I.—The following information was given out today by the official press bureau:

"In the absence of any definite announcement concerning fighting on land, attention is being turned to activities at sea, especially the sinking of the British steamer Hinchinbrooke and Primo, off Havre, by German submarines. The fact that submarines are able to go so far from their base and make the English channel unsafe is a source of satisfaction."

"The loss of the British battleship Bulwark also is regarded with satisfaction. No matter what was the cause, it is looked upon as another serious loss for the British navy."

"Berlin newspapers reprint without comment reports of the evacuation of where of a renewal of activities in the west. It is denied officially that Dixmude has been recaptured by the allies. It is still in the hands of the Germans."

"Referring to the situation in the east the press bureau says:

"The troops of the dual monarchy have again evacuated Czernowitz. The German minister of the interior has ordered as a preventive measure the isolation of Russian prisoners, on account of the fact that cholera is reported to be prevalent in the Russian army."

"News from Vienna state that the campaign against Serbia as proceeding successfully, but that progress is very slow on account of bad weather and the difficult nature of the ground."
