COUNTY HOME UNDER STATE CONTROL

Advocated by Dr. W. De Loss Love of Connecticut Humane Society—Has Been Increase of Children in the Last Dozen Years—Influx of Foreigners a Cause.

Placing the county temporary homes under state control, is advocated by Rev. Dr. William De Loss Love, president of the Connecticut Humane Society, in a pamphlet just completed.

Dr. Love reviews at length the history of the county homes since they were established in 1833. They were then, he says, intended to be only temporary places where children could be sent until such time as they could be placed in families one at a time," says Dr. Love, and the almshouse avoided. No one anticipated the large expenditures for county home properties and the maintenance of inmates. It was considered sensible to find homes in good families.

Dr. Love cites the present law whereby children committed by the courts to the temporary homes, are supported by the state. He says: "This principle of state maintenance has thus been considered by town, county and state authorities, and has been accepted by all as the policy of the state. We have come thus, by our legislation and practice, to the conclusion that commitment by a court is the proper method by which children of the above-named classes should be placed in the temporary homes; that the expense of such procedure and their support while there should be paid by the state, which thus practically supports these county homes; and that all these children so committed are wards of the state, to whom the state owes the fullest discharge of the duties of guardianship."

Seven in All. There are seven county homes proper. In Litchfield county the children are sent to the William L. Gilbert home, a private institution.

EMPLOYERS AND THE COMPENSATION ACT. Those Who Refused Last Year May Come Under For This One.

New Haven, Jan. 1.—Employers who refused to come under the compensation act at the time of its taking effect a year ago, need not again refuse this year, unless they desire to do so. The ruling also gives an employer of less than five employees stand unchanged according to a ruling by the board of compensation commissioners. The ruling also gives an employer of less than five employees the same right of refusal although during the year he has become an employer of more than five. The employer however loses his common law defenses by so doing.

Any case which is brought before the commissioner and with the employees.

SCARCITY OF NEUTRAL SHIPS TO CARRY REVIVING TRADE Emphasized by Chairman of House Merchant Marine Committee.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Scarcity of neutral ships to carry the reviving trade between the United States and Germany is emphasized in a letter written by Secretary McAdoo to Representative Alexander, chairman of the house merchant marine committee, concerning development of the work of the war risk insurance board in the treasury department.

"Some of the steamship companies," the secretary said, "are offering boats that have been in port out of use for a considerable length of time, and some, indeed, of such a class as to render it questionable whether they should be permitted to sail on such voyages."

Marine Insurance. Mr. McAdoo said that the board was writing insurance up to $750,000 on cargoes of cotton to Germany, the amount divided between vessels and cargoes, and added that he understood that the regular marine insurance companies were not writing policies more freely. He quoted the board as reporting "It can be safely assumed that the American and German companies are doing their utmost to relieve the existing situation and to develop a sufficient market to take care of the largest cargo. The German companies have a very special reason for desiring to do the utmost in this direction."

Must Differentiate as to Ports. "As far as marine insurance is concerned, we must differentiate between ships destined to German ports and those to neutral ports, with the possibility of transshipment to Germany. As to the latter, the situation is practically no different than exists in ordinary years. Rates to Rotterdam, Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports are practically the same as last year on similar vessels. The size of the market is more than sufficient on such risks to take care of any cargo by a suitable steamer. Shipments to Germany Difficult.

The situation as to shipments to Germany is more difficult and the available market is limited to German and American companies. The situation is rapidly improving and the market is developing under the operation by one company during 1914 at Ogden, Logan and Lewiston, Utah, and Burley, Idaho, was $5,000,000 pounds, an increase of 25 per cent over 1913. Conditions of the sugar market as a result of the European war, with the belief that the war will curtail the output of Germany and Austria, are given as the reasons for the further increase.

Best Sugar Crop. Ogden, Utah, Jan. 1.—Beer sugar crops of 1915 will be made into a tonnage of sugar 25 per cent greater than that of 1914. It was announced today. The output of four sugar factories operated by one company during 1914 at Ogden, Logan and Lewiston, Utah, and Burley, Idaho, was $5,000,000 pounds, an increase of 25 per cent over 1913. Conditions of the sugar market as a result of the European war, with the belief that the war will curtail the output of Germany and Austria, are given as the reasons for the further increase.

General Scott, who came here from Washington two weeks ago to see the intermittent border trouble caused by Mexican warfare, with his accompaniment of being across the boundary had expected to dispose of the affair early this week. He says, however, that the situation is far from hopeless.

The plan proposed to the Mexican leaders provided for the withdrawal of Maytorena from his blockade of Naco, Sonora, the evacuation of the town by Hill and his removal to Agua Prieta and the neutralizing of the Sonora border towns.

OBITUARY. William I. Lewis. New Haven, Conn., Jan. 1.—William I. Lewis, of Westbrook, Conn., a former postoffice inspector for Connecticut, died at his home in this city tonight, in his 74th year. He had been in failing health for several months.

Mr. Lewis was well known throughout the state. For twelve years he was an assistant sergeant-at-arms in the United States senate and was a member of the general assembly from Westbrook in 1895 and '97. As acting sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate when Benjamin Harrison was inaugurated president it was his official duty to introduce the retiring president, Mr. Cleveland, to Mr. Harrison. It was understood at the time that this was the first time the two had met.

As a member of the house in 1895 Mr. Lewis introduced the bill providing that the flag should be flown on the capitol each day in the year. The passage of this bill is recalled as an unique incident. When Mr. Lewis presented the bill he asked that it be passed under suspension of the rules and without reference to a committee.

Mr. Lewis was a candidate for congress in the convention which nominated the late Nehemiah H. Sperry. It is said he went into the convention with more delegates than other candidates, but finally John H. Hutchinson of Essex, another candidate, threw his strength to Mr. Sperry, who won out.

Mr. Lewis is survived by his wife, two sons, Senator-elect W. H. Lewis, and John C. of Baltimore and three daughters, Mrs. Brown of New Haven and the Misses Mary E. and Jane C. of Westbrook. While living in Washington Mr. and Mrs. Lewis founded the mission which is now the Pres. Memorial church.
