The fire department was called out Thursday noon to respond to a bell alarm rung in from Box 236, corner of North Main and Erin streets. The fire was in a house at 193 North Main street, owned by Michael Kelley and occupied by George Ajar. A pile of wood in the rear of the kitchen stove which was placed there to dry, in some manner caught fire. The fire was easily extinguished with a few pails of water, making an unnecessary run for the department. No damage of serious nature was done save that the mantelpiece in the rear of the stove was scorched.

Pasquale Caruso Gave Frank Florian Two Wounds Four inches Deep—Walter Sakoski Found Guilty of Theft of $9.50 From Occum Man—Given Fine of $25 and 30 Days in Jail.

Charged with assault with intent to kill Frank Florian by stabbing him at Colchester late on the afternoon of Sunday, Jan. 3, Pasquale Caruso was on trial in the superior court here all Thursday afternoon before Judge Gardiner Greene and a jury. The attendance at court was unusually large and any late comers during the afternoon were fortunate if they could find places in the seats for spectators. At the same time the space inside the rail was well filled as the witnesses were present who had been in the Norwich case in which Marcelus Alves is accused of assault with intent to kill Arba Simons on September 7th, and there were also present a number of persons from New London who are the witnesses in the case brought against Thomas F. Morton.

On Cross Examination. On cross examination by Attorney Douglas, Florian testified that he had come to Colchester from Portland, Me., on the Tuesday before the Sunday in which the assault was made by Caruso. The witness said he had been around on Sunday with a man by the name of Pole and with the brother-in-law of the witness, Florian denied that he had been drinking any beer or liquor on that Sunday. There was no liquor or beer at his brother-in-law's home. The witness said the man Pole had invited him to go and have some ice cream and they were on their way to the ice cream parlor before the attack was made by Caruso.

How the Stabbing Took Place. Pole saw Caruso first behind them and told Florian that the man had an Italian face. Florian answered, "We will ask him if he is an Italian." Pole denied around asking if he was Italian, which Caruso answered, "That is my business, go to —" Caruso was then 6 or 7 feet behind them, Caruso went out into the street and asked if he had a bottle of liquor with him or asked the witness to have a drink. Florian positively stated that he had never seen, spoken to or heard of Caruso before this day.

Cuts in Florian's Clothing. The witness was shown the shirt he was wearing on the day of the attack and he pointed out the cuts, which corresponded to the cut that he received in his right groin. The witness hung the shirt across his front. During the afternoon Major Hull informed the court that Ella Beebe of New London, a witness who had been subpoenaed to appear in court, had not appeared and that a capias be issued for her and Judge Greene directed that this be done.

BRIEF STATE NEWS. New Haven.—Over 350 men attended the annual installation banquet of the new Haven, No. 342, F. O. E., Tuesday night at the Grand Hotel and it proved one of the most successful gatherings in the history of the organization.

Waterbury.—In the report of Tenelement Inspector E. F. Callahan it was revealed that a horse had been occupying quarters in a cellar of a family tenement in this city, sharing the basement of the building with a family of six or seven. The horse, which by its general appearance must have been at least 20 years of age, was separated from the family quarters by a wooden partition. Inspector Callahan ordered the horse removed and the basement cleaned.

It is expected, says the New Haven Journal-Courier, that New Haven will ask for $200,000 for a site for a new armory in that city, but if the present idea of economy in state expenditures continues until the summer the chances of the appropriation will have had sliding.

TAFTVILLE Danielson Hero on Tuesday Evening—Garde Postponed Drill—Personal Mention.

For the first time this season the local basketball players and fans realize that they will witness against a tough proposition when they tackle the strong Danielson team Tuesday evening in Parish hall. The visitors have collected a delegation of players whose names are very familiar to the basketballists of Eastern Connecticut, especially the Martin brothers who played against the local team with Baitte last season. Martin, Killiany, High School's crack center will appear in their lineup and Paine and Bennett will fill the other two positions. The game promises to be one of unusual cleverness and speed and Manager Caron is relying on his quietude to win the prestige of the town in the winter sport.
