OBITUARY

Edward G. Andrews.

Edward G. Andrews died suddenly about noon Friday while at work in the basement of the store conducted by James F. Cosgrove and company at No. 206 Main street.

Mr. Andrews appeared to be in his usual health Friday morning and arrived at the store on time. He was working in the stock in the basement and about 11 o'clock Joseph P. Boylan, the manager of the store, hearing heavy breathing coming from the basement, found Mr. Andrews unconscious. Dr. E. J. Harrington and Dr. H. B. Higgins were summoned and later Dr. Kimball, the family physician was called.

Mr. Andrews passed away about an hour later without regaining consciousness. For the past year he had been in poor health having at times suffered from pains in his head. Of late he had seemed to be improving and the indications were that these troubles were from shock. Undertakers Henry Allen and Son took charge of the body and Dr. Kimball said an autopsy will be made to discover the exact cause of the death.

Mr. Andrews was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews, a native of Preston, November 28, 1872. As a boy he worked on a farm and later attended the Norwich Business college. About 20 years ago he went to work in the Cosgrove shoe store, afterwards going west where for five years he was a teacher of grammar, at Bowling Green, Ky. For a short time he was a member of a traveling orchestra but Miss Field now he returned to Norwich and went to work in Cosgrove's store. Mr. Andrews was a member of the Musicians' union, Lincoln Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., being a past noble grand of that lodge. He was also past chief patriarch of the Palmyra lodge, No. 1, O. E. S., and was also a member of the Broadway Congregational church. On July 30, 1904, he was married to Miss Emma Courtney and she survives her husband. Besides his wife he leaves a son, Edward Courtney Andrews, two brothers, Warren Andrews of Plainfield, N. J., and James Andrews of Norwich, Frston. His parents also survive him.

Mr. Andrews' sudden death shocked and grieved a host of friends whom he made and retained by his winning personality.

Mr. Andrews was a talented violinist found delight in music and played in local orchestras. The relatives and friends were his guiding star in his life. He was faithful and proficient employe and had the full confidence of his employers.

His wife, Mrs. Emma Courtney Andrews, a daughter of George Brooks, formerly of New London, is now in Frston.

Funerals. Mrs. Charlotte Hill.

The funeral of Miss Charlotte Hill was held from her home in Central street Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. C. Chappell conducting the service. Four friends acted as bearers and burial took place in the cemetery at Oakdale. There were a number of beautiful floral remembrances and the attendance was large.

Undertakers Church and Allen had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Miss Mary F. Shea.

Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock the funeral of Miss Mary F. Shea was held from her home at 143 West street and among those attending were relatives from Boston and other places.

Undertakers Church and Allen had charge of the funeral arrangements.

NORWICH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Business Men's Association Adopts Change of Name and Revised By-Laws—Will Hear Speakers from National Chamber of Commerce—Cigar Makers' Delegation Presented Resolution For Patronage For Home Factories—"Buy in Norwich" Cards To Be Distributed.

The Norwich Business Men's association at a meeting held in Forrester's hall on Friday evening, President William H. Crickbank presiding, voted to become the Norwich Chamber of Commerce, and will be known as such hereafter. The matter of the change of name was taken up first, but as it was necessary that three-quarters of the membership in good standing should vote favorably upon the change, before it could be carried, the matter was deferred until Friday night and the secretary was empowered to carry out the necessary steps.

The officers recently elected to serve the coming year as officers of the former Norwich Business Men's association, and the new Chamber of Commerce, were: President, William H. Crickbank; Vice President, Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn; Secretary, Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn; Treasurer, Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn; and the following directors: W. P. Habetkotte, Frank L. Farrell, H. Yerrington, E. P. Rose and Herbert Miller.

At this point in the meeting it was announced that a delegation from the local cigar makers' union were in the hall. The delegation, comprising Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn, was admitted to the meeting and Mr. Rice spoke of the advantages of encouraging the cigar-making industry in this city by purchasing as far as possible Norwich-made cigars.

The officers of the new Chamber of Commerce were: President, William H. Crickbank; Vice President, Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn; Secretary, Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn; Treasurer, Charles Rice and R. A. Krohn; and the following directors: W. P. Habetkotte, Frank L. Farrell, H. Yerrington, E. P. Rose and Herbert Miller.

ITCHING, BLISTERED SKIN-ERUPTION ALL HIS LIFE, NOW CURED

Nov. 19, 1914.—All my life, until last year, I was troubled with itching and sores over my entire body. The itching and burning was terrible, and the sores were very painful. I had tried many treatments that were unsuccessful and did not give me any relief. I started using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and they helped me wonderfully. I WAS RELIEVED AT ONCE, and after about two dozen applications I can say that I was free and cured of that awful disease. My skin now is as clear as anybody's.—(Signed) Geo. Whittier, Jr., R. F. D.
