ADVISE EMPLOYERS OF FEWER THAN FIVE PERSONS BY COMPENSATION COMMISSIONER.

Compensation Commissioner George B. Chandler of the First district was asked concerning the proper procedure to be pursued by an employer with less than five persons pending the decision of the supreme court. Mr. Chandler said:

"I see no impropriety in my stating that until the supreme court has rendered its decision the only absolute safe position for an employer with less than five persons to take is to assume that he may be under the compensation act. The highest tribunal which has rendered its decision on this matter is the superior court for New Haven county, in which Judge Case has held that employers of less than five persons are not under the act if I were forced to make a decision at the present time on any specific case, I should, of course, follow the ruling of the superior court, but there is always a possibility of reversal by the supreme court."

"As I have previously said in interviews and to a great number of persons who have called at my office or spoken with me over the telephone, it is not necessary for an employer of less than five persons who has his office at any time served notice upon me of his refusal to accept the act, by the use of form No. 1, to file it with me, to do this again. In other words, such notices of refusal do not have to be renewed at the beginning of the new year."

"The point upon which such employers need caution is that of always serving notice upon their employees. Notice once served upon an employee does not have to be renewed, but runs as long as the employee remains in the employer's service. When a new employee is taken on, however, notice must be served upon him before he goes to work; otherwise it will not be valid for 30 days. Employers of less than five persons should always keep a supply of the smaller sized forms on hand to be ready to serve upon a new employee. Those who served notice of refusal upon the commissioner before January 1, 1914, should serve form No. 1 upon their employees. If, however, any employer makes a mistake and confuse these two forms thereby serving the wrong one upon the employee, I should be inclined to rule that the service was valid, being a clear expression of the intent of the employer."

INCITY COURT.

Sentence For Stealing Feet Boots—Fighters Were Fined.

Sazuel Troland of New London was sent to jail for thirty days at the Friday morning session of the city court for being drunk.

Fifteen days was the sentence imposed upon James Dougherty, alias James Mallon of Willimantic, for stealing and selling felt boots for 15 cents. He was arrested Thursday night while applying for lodging.

For creating a fight in a West Side saloon Joseph Jackson, colored, was fined $5 and costs and he went to jail.

Accused of fighting and carrying concealed weapons Joseph Egan and Frank Vitterette were given a hearing. The former was discharged and the latter was fined $15 and costs which sum amount to $28.85.

He was armed with a pistol and carried a knife.

At the Thursday morning session the continued case of the state vs. James Sullivan alias Vincent Salvatore and Frank Ferraro, both of Worcester, was called up. They were charged with incest and adultery in bringing Mary Denobli to this city and placing her in the Backus hospital.

The case against the investigation by the selectmen when they were made cognizant of the woman's condition. The arrests by Policeman Ralph Myers, Monday evening, followed. Sullivan who is said to be the girl's uncle was arrested when he came to visit her in the hospital.

The men agreed to pay upon the keeping of the girl. When she is able to travel she will be taken back to Worcester. The case against Vitterette and Sullivan was continued to Wednesday.

She was once in the house of the Good Shepherd, but for sometime past has been with an Italian family in the city. The girl was committed to the House of the Good Shepherd and she was taken there by an officer.

INTO NEW ROOMS.

Y. M. H. A. Moves to Building on Franklin Square.

The Young Men's Hebrew association has removed from the Carroll building to the third story of the National Shoe and Clothing Company building. Additional pieces of new furniture are to be purchased and the quarters are being partitioned to provide suitable rooms for the different work. The large quarters will enable the members to carry on their night school, their naturalization work and their Sunday school work more effectively. Herman Alosin 2nd has charge of the Sunday school and is assisted by Mrs. Alosin, several young ladies. While there is work along this line in the synagogue on High street, the available space is not large enough to get required.

It was expected that the association would have a lecturer here on Sunday, the 23d, of this month, but it has been postponed until March 7, owing to the fact that there is a double wedding here on the 25th. Dr. Max Radin, the first speaker, will be the speaker and he will speak on the Jews in Asia. Julius Lasker of Boston is also to speak taking for his topic Modern Jewish Literature.

New Rooms for Gospel Mission.

Messrs. Peabody, Tracy and Gardner, the leaders of the Gospel Mission at the Steiner building, wish to announce that owing to the increased attendance they have been forced to secure a larger hall in the same building and have moved into the new quarters. The mission work is progressing rapidly and interest is daily growing, which may be evidenced by the ever-increasing attendance. Through the efforts of the mission workers many have been inspired to consecrate their lives for the salvation of their fellow sinners. A number of men out of employment have been given work and others have been given lodgings. A meeting is to be conducted in the new hall on Sunday afternoon at 7 o'clock and everybody is invited to attend.

Connecticut Public Buildings.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was reported to the house at Washington Thursday, late in the afternoon. It contains among other things public buildings in Connecticut: Putnam, $19,000; Rockville, $1,000.

There was a teachers' meeting at Palmer Memorial school at Montville Friday afternoon.

IN HANDSOME NEW QUARTERS

White Cross Council, No. 13, K. of C., Rejoices in Opening of Rooms in Sunlight Building—Class of Seventeen in the First Degree—Presentations Made to the Council By Rev. W. A. Keefe, State Lecturer, and By M. V. Murphy.

J. EDWARD DRISCOLL, Grand Knight.

In an informal manner, the members of White Cross Council, No. 13, Knights of Columbus, took possession of the new quarters in the Sunlight building on Franklin street. It was the original intention of the council to have the opening ceremonies at an appropriate ceremony, but as the committee did not get possession until Thursday of this week that plan was abandoned and an informal exercise was decided upon instead.

The doors were thrown open at 7 o'clock and soon after that time the members began to assemble and long before the hour for the regular meeting to begin the rooms were filled with members, all of whom were delighted with the general appearance and arrangement of the new quarters. To add to the general attractiveness of the rooms, handsome bouquets of flowers graced the stands of the several officers in the assembly rooms, and the reading room, and the reading room. Those who saw the council home for the first time Friday evening, expressed delightful surprise at the great amount of room available for the various society purposes.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the business session was called to order by Grand Knight J. Edward Driscoll and the first meeting in the new assembly was in progress. Besides a great deal of routine business the council conferred upon a class of seventeen candidates. This was the first exemplification given by the new degree team since its organization and the work was done in such a manner as to elicit the commendation of the members and deeply impress the large class of candidates.

Among those present, occupying seats on the platform were: Rev. John H. Froderick, Rev. John H. Brennan, Rev. Ignatius Maciejewski, Rev. Thomas A. Grumbly, Rev. William H. Kennedy, Rev. John Langley, Rev. Michael J. Conboy, Rev. A. Keefe of Plainfield, Rev. P. P. Morrissy of Voluntown and Mayor T. C. Murphy.

Presentations.

Two surprises for the council that made an interesting part of the evening's exercises came in gifts made to the council by Rev. W. A. Keefe, the state lecturer, and by M. V. Murphy.

The state lecturer presented White Cross Council a suitably framed certificate of a letter from Christopher Columbus, which had been procured from the national library at Washington, D. C., and which will be hung in the council rooms.

Mr. Murphy made the original a present of the first banner of the order ever made. It is of silk, and is inscribed with the emblem of the first degree. It was made by the daughter of James T. Mullins of Worcester, the first supreme knight of the order, and makes a unique and valued possession which White Cross Council will cherish.

During the period preceding the adjournment, interesting remarks were made by many of the members, congratulating the members upon the achievement of the council in securing such a comfortable and well near of the reading room. There is a doorway between the reading room and the pool room and on the west side of each of these rooms there are double sliding doors which give entrance to the large lodge room which is 60x32 feet in dimension occupying the entire west end of the building from front to rear.

All the rooms are brilliantly lighted at night by electricity and by day are unusually sunny and pleasant owing to the large number of windows, which there are 21 in all. The folding doors between the lodge room and the two other rooms, makes it possible to throw all together and thus secure practically one large room for unusually large gatherings.

The lodge room is fitted out with mahogany furniture, with mahogany desks for the secretary and treasurer at either side of the grand knight's station at the Franklin street end of the room. The chairs are cane seated and of a particularly attractive pattern.

The pool room, which is 28x30, is fitted out with one upright billiard table and the reading room, which is 28x26, has oak furniture, consisting of round center table, card tables, settee, bench, and arm chair under the center table. All the furniture and fixtures in the rooms is new and was secured through Shes & Burke, M. H. Corrigan, and The Porteus & Mitchell Co.

The walls are tinted in an agreeable shade of green and there are hardwood floors throughout. Off the pool room are a coat room and a wash room, both of good size and supplied with suitable fixtures.

White Cross Council, No. 13, was instituted on February 17th, 1888, being as its number would indicate, the thirteenth council organized in the membership in an order which today has nearly 2,000 councils and a membership of 300,000 in the United States and Canada. The first grand knight of the council was Corporation Counsel Joseph T. Panning, who is an active and interested member today. During the past year the council has had as its president, William J. Conboy, and as its secretary, the council was instituted, it has numerous members.

JOHN M. LEE, R. S. Master of Fourth Degree.

Harold Jordan, the 14 year old son of Alexander Jordan, of No. 10 Sturtevant avenue, had his unfortunate break in his leg while riding on a double rider at the fair about 8 o'clock on Cedar street.

He was steering his double rider down the hill with two boys on the seat behind him when the sled slipped away from his control and crashed into a stone post. Young Jordan's right leg was broken in two places, but the other boys were not much hurt.

The boy was taken to his home, where he was attended by Dr. Patrick Cassidy, Dr. P. J. Cassidy and Dr. Louis T. Cassidy.

Another Arrest in Counterfeiting Case.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 5.—Word was received today that Deputy Marshal John J. Breen would arrive here this afternoon with Solomon Schwartz under arrest for complicity in the counterfeiting conspiracy case in which Philip Johnson was arrested in Marlborough a few weeks ago.

Something Saved to the States.

The electoral franchise, according to the President, is a matter for the states to control. The states are to be congratulated on having something left to control.—Exchange Herald.

NEEDS OF NORWICH TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM

Explained Before Appropriations Committee at the Capitol.

In hearings before the appropriations committee at the capitol on Thursday the Norwich state hospital asked for $451,614. Of that amount, $252,214 was figured for work of construction.

For the state tuberculosis commission, Dr. Stephen P. Maher of New Haven, Jonathan Goddard of Bridgeport and Dr. David R. Lyman of Wallingford appeared. The needs of the commission were explained at some length. Dr. Maher asked that $475,574 be appropriated for two years.

Dr. Goddard explained why the commission wanted $120,000 for improvements at Meriden in kitchen equipment and facilities for handling the cost $35,000 for a new pavilion, and $25,000 for further improvements at Norwich. It was imperative that $5,500 be obtained for isolation rooms, and a $4,000 superintendence cottage was needed; $3,500 was asked for a recreation pavilion; a poultry plant would cost $1,000, and a fire protection system $2,000. The total amount needed among essentials at Norwich were for road lights $100 and an incinerator $1,750.

DECORATED WITH THE UNION LABELS.

For Cigar Makers' Fourth Annual Dance.

At their fourth annual social and dance given on Friday evening in T. A. E. hall, the Cigar Makers' union, local No. 407, had an attendance of about 200. The successful affair was carried out by the committee consisting of Dr. J. W. Brown, Thomas H. Lynde, Saul Goldblatt, Edward Olson and William Carbery. Match boxes for the tournament and carnations for the ladies were the souvenirs distributed.

The decorations of the hall were one of the features of the evening and were in charge of the label committee. Their consisted of the union label and small American flags on the walls, while across the front a file gallery was erected for the Cigar Makers' Home Industries. The committee in charge of the decorations consisted of Charles Rice, Edward Olson, Rudolph Khron and Henry LaRose.

C. L. U. OFFICERS.

William Fitzgerald Elected for Third Term as President.

At its annual meeting this week the Central Labor union elected William Fitzgerald for a third term as president. Florence Delaney was elected vice president; James Donnelly recording secretary and Tracy R. Burdick, secretary-treasurer.

The reports showed the C. L. U. is in a fine condition financially. Two new unions were added in the past year, making it now affiliated and representing about 1,000 union men.

R. E. Pine of Hartford was a visitor and spoke upon the paper "The Labor Standard."

Had Jolly Sleighride.

One of the pleasantest and jolliest sleighing parties of the season started from the West Side on Friday afternoon and had as its objective point the Artur's place near the Franklin meeting house. There were refreshments served. The trip, which was made in Larsons' sleigh, included Mrs. Charles Fox, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs. Lewis O. Potter, Mrs. Everett Sawyer, Mrs. Lloyd May, Mrs. Hoffmann, Mrs. William R. Bishop, Edward Adams, Mrs. Julia Chapman, Miss Edna Maguire, Miss Elizabeth Hall, Miss Clara Johnson, Miss Margery Merry and Mrs. O. B. Merry.

WOMEN, CHILDREN ARE FACING STARVATION

In Sessions in Northern France Along the Meuse River.

Nancy, Belgium, via London, Feb. 5. (AP)—The situation of women, children and aged men in those portions of northern France lying along the Meuse river, which are occupied by the Germans, are facing starvation. The hope of relief except the food that the American commission for relief in Belgium is sending mainly from Canada, the German army are being used for the transportation of food through the mountains to some sections.

The bridges over the Meuse were burned by the French when they retreated. The German built pontoon bridges and consequently water transport is absolutely cut off in a large portion. A messenger walked 150 miles from Nancy to Belgium bearing a message from the mayor of the former place to the relief commission.

The commissioner sent an inspector to Sedan and he also visited many other towns finding them in a deplorable state. At Montmezier the burgomaster said that many civilians were starving rather than appeal to the soldiers for food.

As the railway was operating to give these carloads of flour were ordered by the commission. Upon the arrival of the flour, the burgomaster said to the commission's inspector:

"We have dreamed of such generosity as this in Belgium, but we never had an example of it before the arrival of that flour."

Carranza's Wife at Eagle Pass.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Venustiano Carranza, wife of the Mexican first chief, reached here tonight from Eagle Pass, Texas, to make her home here until conditions improve in Mexico.

A Republic Without Ambition.

San Marino, whose inhabitants are clamoring for war with Germany, has never sought to extend its sway. When Napoleon was master of Italy he offered San Marino a large accession of territory, but the offer was declined. Thanks to its weakly impregnable position—which atones for its lack of numbers—the miniature republic has secured its way safely through all the vicissitudes of Italian history, repelling many attacks of covetous princes. Never did it lose its independence for more than a few months at a stretch—only in 1806, when it fell into the hands of Caesar Borgia, and again in 1798 through the treachery of the pope. During the past century its chief troubles with foreign powers have arisen from the convenience of the republic as a harbor of refuge for political refugees.—London Chronicle.

A Real Sensation.

At all events, the fact that Secretary Ryan went rabbit hunting in Virginia, even if it was against the law, shows that he can do something besides run around the chautauqua circuits.—Philadelphia Press.
