FAVORABLE MERCHANTS' WEEK

Business Men of City Think Plan Ought to be Continued. Some Changes Suggested—Committee of Five to Devise Working Scheme for This Year—Report in a Week.

In response to a call that had been sent to the 95 business houses that participated in Merchants' week here last spring, there was a meeting at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in the Thayer building to consider whether it was advisable to conduct a Merchants' week again. The prevailing opinion was that the plan, possibly with some modifications, should be carried out again in a week with a plan for another Merchants' week this year.

Representative business houses were present when John M. Lee called the meeting to order shortly after 4 o'clock, and Frank J. King was elected chairman with Terence McKinnock, secretary. In a brief way Mr. King said that the general opinion among the business men believed was that the Merchants' week had been a satisfactory experience and he called upon Mr. Lee to speak upon the purpose of this meeting.

Not only at the time of Merchants' week, but also at the time of the plan carried out last year, and it seemed to be the opinion of many that the plan of the Merchants' week had been a success. Each time would profit by the experience of the year gone before and the plan of the Merchants' week to year to year with increasing success and satisfaction.

Mr. C. M. St. George, W. T. McGarry and Abner Schwartz spoke in approval of another similar week with Mr. McGarry giving the opinion that it would probably be better to have the week this time. Albert Boardman was another who thought it was worth while to carry out the plan again.

R. F. Smith made the suggestion that a rebate ought to be given to all customers, whether they buy or out of town, and that it would be advisable to follow that plan.

George Greenberg was one of the first to speak in favor of another Merchants' week, and J. E. Marchessault gave it his opinion that many customers objected to the necessity of going to the central clearing house to get their rebate on purchases and he thought the plan ought to be made so that the rebate could be given right at the store, instead of through the clearing house.

The crux of the whole matter, said Mr. Lee, when he spoke again, was in the rebate on purchases and he thought the plan ought to be made so that the rebate could be given right at the store, instead of through the clearing house.

It was voted that it was the sentiment of the meeting that another Merchants' week should be had and Chairman King was directed by vote of the meeting to call a meeting to take the matter into consideration and to report a plan at a meeting to be held at 4 o'clock on the Board of Trade rooms.

The committee appointed was John M. Lee, C. M. St. George, W. T. McGarry, Abner Schwartz, William T. McGarry, Daniel T. Shea and Samuel Kronig.

All present were invited to assist the committee with suggestions.

STORM CENTER IN THAMES SQUARE. Fight Microbes Were in the Air on Thursday Afternoon.

Peter Boletski, a young man about 21 years old, wearing a red sweater, was a storm center in Thames square on Thursday afternoon about 5 o'clock, and he was the center of a fight which fell into the hands of Policeman Frank S. Henderson, who was on his way home after a day's work.

The other young fellow in the red sweater started off on the way to work, through Falls avenue and up the tracks past the Central Vermont railroad station, but was chased and caught by Harry Crumb, who started off after him at the request of the policeman, who had handed over his other prisoner to a bystander.

Boletski was a good sprinter, but Crumb was a better one and he caught the fugitive before he could reach the freight station, where he held him for the arrival of the policeman, who was called to the scene.

While the three men were walking down the railroad track Boletski suddenly drew a knife and made a heavy punch on Crumb's eye, but the fighter went down in a heap as Police- man Henderson retaliated with a right hander on the forehead.

Thereafter he was docile and was walked to the police station by the policeman, who was called to the scene. He was locked up on charges of breach of the peace, intoxication and resisting an officer.

The other man who had been handed over to a citizen had reached the police station before the incident, and he muddled with drink to be able to tell his name before he was locked up.

Dr. E. Ingram, deputy state cattle commissioner and federal officer, are here to direct and conduct the work of inspecting dairy herds which will be continued until it is absolutely determined that all cases of the disease have disappeared.

Milk Inspector's Order. Dr. D. J. Shaheen, milk inspector of the city of Norwich, has issued a notice to all milk dealers, forbidding the sale or exchange of cattle or swine, declaring that the disease must be observed strictly the regulations published by the state, and demanding a written, signed statement, to be made within 48 hours, of the head of cattle of all kinds on every farm at the present time, with a list of all purchased or sold in the last month, and by or to whom. All milk dealers in Norwich must supply, within 48 hours, a complete list of all farms or sources of milk supply. Failure to comply is the warning to allow no one in stables or about cattle except government or state inspectors, as but man beings can very easily carry the germs of the disease.

By a strictly enforced quarantine, quick destruction of infected herds and observance of the rules laid down by the state cattle commissioner, it is hoped that the disease will be stamped out in a short time. Inasmuch as the cause of the disease is unknown, and the germ has been isolated, the work of the government, state and local officials is made doubly difficult, even under the most favorable conditions.

Kosher Meat. The foot and mouth quarantine which forbids the driving of any cattle along the highways will make it impossible now for the Haverly butchers who supply the trade in "kosher" meat to drive any cattle to the city for slaughtering.

It is estimated by butchers in the business that the "kosher" trade in Norwich requires the slaughtering of about 20 to 25 head of cattle per week.

NORWICH BULLETIN, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1915

Rev. George L. Paine of St. Paul's Church Preaches on The True Christian Life.

The True Christian Life was the theme of the sermon delivered at Trinity Episcopal church on Thursday evening by Rev. George L. Paine, rector of St. Paul's church, New Haven. The service was the sixth of the united church services being held by Trinity and Christ Episcopal churches and there was a good sized congregation.

The first lesson, taken from II Samuel, was read by Rev. Richard R. Gramel, rector of Christ church, and as the second lesson he read a part of the first chapter of St. Luke, Archdeacon J. Eldred Brown, rector of Trinity church, offered prayer before the hearing of faith.

"To the Hebrew, said Mr. Paine, the end of history was moral. The Greeks, the Romans and the Byzantines cared for other things, but the Hebrews' great hope was that God would establish his kingdom on earth. The Hebrews felt there was to be, some time, a kingdom over which God would rule. The Israelite had no other conviction and that was that he had God send the Messiah it was necessary that the people recognize and live up to God's law. If you follow the history of the Hebrews you will recognize that their great leaders laid down the fundamental principles of the law. They were a separate people and that they must confine themselves to the carrying out of the law. The Jew tried to keep the law, and his whole life came to be one of the most infinite detail in order to expedite the carrying out of the law. The Jew kept the law. One of the most vigorous of these men who tried to keep the law was Saul of Tarsus. Saul of Tarsus lived a miserable life because he realized he failed day by day. It was impossible to keep all the laws. If he broke one, he knew how the law read, he was guilty of them all.

When Paul realized that the Nazarene was really the Christ, his theology was overthrown. He began life anew. God had not waited until the people kept the law. He sent His Son to save them.

The law is essential in its way. It is the law that is the basis of the schoolmaster to bring us to Christ. That is the kind of gospel we want today. We are not to be saved by the lives if they live an honest life. We are satisfied to try to keep letter A, B and C of the law, but the whole Christian life is totally different from that. If Paul was dissatisfied with himself, he was dissatisfied with the law. There is something different in the Christian life. In order to get a clear understanding of the Christian life we must study the epistles to the Romans. Until a man lives in the spirit of Jesus Christ he is no Christian. Many do not go to church because they think that all that is necessary is to keep the law. The religious community needs today a sense of the reality, the truth and the power of God.

The united service next week, which is the last of the series, will be held at Christ church and the preacher will be Rev. Alvin P. Knell, rector of Trinity church, Brooklyn, Conn.

INFECTED CATTLE KILLED. At Preston Farm—Federal and State Inspecting Officers at Work—Looking for Traces of Foot and Mouth Disease.

The two-year old registered bull, a yoke of cattle, if you will, which was made up the herd of John H. Wilson of Preston were shot at his farm on Thursday by the federal and state officers because the herd had been found infected with the foot and mouth disease.

Least two of the animals were found to have died of the disease. After the herd had been killed the bodies were buried with lime in an eight foot trench which was filled with six feet of earth is thrown on top of the bodies.

Dr. E. Ingram, deputy state cattle commissioner and federal officer, are here to direct and conduct the work of inspecting dairy herds which will be continued until it is absolutely determined that all cases of the disease have disappeared.
