WESTERLY NEWS AND VIEWS

Local Interest in Highway Act—Seventh Day Baptist Aid Society's Officers—Deaths, Phineas M. Randall, Mrs. Harriet J. Kenneth.

Westerly citizens are interested in the highway act just passed by the senate in the general assembly by which the state tax in cities and towns is increased from nine to twelve cents. The additional tax if the act is made a law is to be used for the reconstruction and maintenance of the state highways.

Miss Amelia Potter of High street was elected president of the Ladies' Aid society of the Pawtucket Seventh-Day Baptist church at the annual meeting held in the parlors of the church. Other officers elected were as follows: Vice president, Mrs. H. Woodman; treasurer, Herbert Lanphers, Mrs. George N. Burdick, Mrs. William H. Browning; directresses, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. L. K. Burdick, Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mrs. Fred Oton, Mrs. Everett E. Whipple, Mrs. Herbert Babcock; secretary, Mrs. Lucille Woodman; auditors, Mrs. Charles H. Stanton; collector, Mrs. LaVerna Langworthy; auditors, Mrs. C. Clarence Maxson, Mrs. Howard Lanphers.

The reports of the officers showed that while there had not been as many church services as in former years, the work of the society has been successful, the ladies devoting much of their time in working for the mission. The treasurer's report showed the society to be in good financial condition.

Mrs. Joseph L. Peacock of Westerly has been chosen vice president of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary society of Rhode Island at the annual meeting held in Providence, Mrs. H. Howard Pepper was re-elected president and Mrs. Peacock was one of the speakers. She spoke in an encouraging manner. In spite of the setback the society has experienced as the result of the European war.

After being in failing health for a number of years, Phineas M. Randall of Westerly, died at his home on Main street Wednesday evening. Bright's disease was the cause of death. Mr. Randall was born in San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 5, 1854, the son of Phineas M. and Harriet Cutler Randall. When he was fifteen years of age he came west and was employed in the Cottrell and Babcock shop, learning the machinist's trade.

December 2, 1885, he married Etta Edwards and they were blessed with seven children, Miss Etta E. Randall of this town, Albert G. Randall of New Rochelle, N. Y., Mrs. Phineas M. Randall, Mrs. M. J. Howard Morgan, Ellen Palmer and Honor Estates, also of Westerly. Besides his children Mr. Randall is survived by his widow, three brothers, Benjamin C. Randall of Hong Kong, China, Joseph C. Randall of Lachelle, Miss Etta E. Randall, and in the plumbing business on Main street.

He was a member of Taunton lodge, I. O. O. F., and of the local order, Golden Cross. In the latter, for many years, he was an active worker.

The death of Mrs. Harriet J. Kenneth occurred at her home on Spring street at 11 o'clock Wednesday evening after an illness of four weeks caused by a severe fall which she had and by which her hip was fractured. She was in her eighty-third year.

Mrs. Kenneth was a native of Westerly, born May 26, 1822. She was the daughter of New York and was married to William Kenneth in Stonington, Conn. Her husband died May 2, 1891.

A daughter, Mrs. Sarah A. Clark of Elizabethton, Tenn., a son, William D. Kenneth of New York, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Mary Holberton, Mrs. Frances Sullivan, Mrs. Lanphers and Mrs. Amanda Vars of Westerly.

The Visiting Nurse association will hold its annual meeting at the Memorial building next Tuesday evening. There will be two speakers to address the meeting, Dr. Ladd of the School for People Minded at Exeter and Miss Bloom of the Immigrant Educational Bureau of Providence. Dr. Ladd's talk will include the relation of the school to Westerly, while Miss Bloom will discuss the assimilation of the alien and the making of a citizen.

Haley, are spending a few days in New York. At the Wequetequoct meeting of the chapel Tuesday evening, George W. Haley of the borough was elected treasurer of the association. Mr. Haley's father was connected with the association for over 30 years.

Local Laocoonics. Peter Comi will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Antioch club at the Christian church tomorrow night.

A successful operation has been performed on Mrs. Harry M. Clark of the Watch Hill road. Mrs. Clark was in a critical condition when taken to a private hospital in Providence. A very interesting meeting was held Thursday evening in the Memorial building which the principal speaker was Edwin P. Wells of Newton, Mass., who gave an illustrated lecture on Japan.

With recommendation of passage Representative Reddy of West Warwick has introduced for the finance committee, an act making an appropriation of $250 for janitor services at the Westerly courthouse. This amount is back pay due Charles S. Taylor who recently completed his services at the courthouse.

Barred Rock from Brookfield Center, Conn., and a Buff Wyandotte from Holden, Mass., each of which has a score of 107 eggs up to April 1st. It is interesting to know in this connection that the Buff Wyandotte hen in question is the full sister to the Buff Wyandotte that won third individual honors in the contest last year and both of these hens were sired by a cockerel whose sisters won first and second and grand champion of their class in the Madison Square Garden poultry show three years ago. Thus it is entirely possible as in this case to find good layers among birds of the show room type.

The ten leading pens to date are as follows: Ed Cam, Houghton, near Preston, England, White Wyandottes, 851; Hill-view Poultry Farm, St. Albans, Vt., Rhode Island Reds, 801; Tom Barron, Calforth nr. FROM LUCILE'S DIARY. Having been in the city continuously since October, I felt last week that I really must have a little change.

When we rose from the dinner table, Carol remarked that she and Tom had to go to the ballroom early. "Do you think you and Arthur can find your way over to the club later, Lucile?" "Yes, certainly," I answered, and I had only just begun to dress when I heard the Nodines leave the house. I was horrified to discover when I took my dancing frock out of the suitcase that it was simply a mass of wrinkles. My first thought was to have it pressed, but I remembered what Carol had told me of her maid, so, of course, I did not dare trust it to her. Moreover, as Cousin Fannie is such a wonderful dresser and does it so easily, I have had no experience myself. I did not know what to do. But there was one thing certain—I could not appear in that corrugated costume.

Lucy lies in the fact that there isn't a dancing man left in Erowhah who hasn't already invited somebody for the ball. It would be stupid for you to go with Tom and me, for there will be no unattached men for you.

"I might provide an escort for myself. You know what an old dear Arthur Knicht is. I'm sure he'd be glad to come."

"Why, that would be all right, I guess," she replied, and I immediately telephoned Arthur, who accepted with pleasing enthusiasm.

"You've no idea how skilled I am in domestic arts." "Yes, indeed," agreed Arthur. "You're a little odd, but while we were finishing our tea before the open fire she slipped off her slipper and when I followed her I found her flying around hurriedly setting an extra guestroom to rights."

"It's so dear of you to entertain me, but I don't wish to disturb your morning nap. She must be very tired. Won't it be fun having breakfast in the dining car? We can eat nearly all the way to Chicago."

"What a child you are!" he said in his delightful tone of admiring indulgence. "Chicago, New York."

Suffering From the Remedy. Traveler (to disconsolate fellow voyager, at steamship's rail)—"My dear old fellow! What's the matter? The sea's like a duck-pond!" "I know, old boy—but I've taken six different remedies."—Punch.

Amended. "That girl you introduced me to is dreadfully slow." "Why she said she thought you so bright and entertaining." "Did she? Yes, she's pretty slow, but she gets there, just the same."

WORLDWIDE WAR ON LIQUOR WAGED BY THE RULERS OF NATIONS. London, April 8.—The great war of the nations has brought about another great war—the world-wide war on liquor. The czar of Russia opened the crusade against drinking alcoholics by barring the manufacture and sale of vodka, the popular Russian spirituous beverage. Now France has legislated against alcohol at the demand of President Poincare; King George of England, Lord Kitchener and Chancellor Lloyd-George have joined in denouncing intoxicants, stating that they will not allow them in their households. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, it is remembered, recently ordered that no liquors should be used on board United States warships.
