Triumph of Mutes. It was but the other day when the triumph of the deaf and dumb faced me. It was a ship that starting from Southampton to Canada. You know the unheard shouts during the last hour from the shore. There were two men, deaf and dumb, talking quietly with their fingers to the brother on board, who could reply. They were the only three that could talk freely among the unheard tumult.—London Chronicle.

The one great test of any shortening is with biscuits. Use Cottolene—use a third less than of any ordinary shortening. It creams up quickly; it mixes easily; it blends perfectly with the flour.

It bakes wonderfully, and when you have enjoyed biscuits made with Cottolene you will be ready to believe that it is easily the finest cooking fat you ever used, and you will use it for all your shortening, frying and cake making.

Paradise Lost Was Popular Book. How many English soldiers, one wonders, have read Paradise Lost? Maurice Barin, when in Russia, found that nearly every soldier he met knew it well. "When two years ago a schoolmaster in the Tambor government told me that Paradise Lost was the most popular book in the village library," he writes, "I was astonished, and thought it an isolated instance. At a fair in Moscow, during Passion Week, I noticed that there were five or six different editions of translations of Milton's poem, with illustrations, ranging in price from 12 roubles to 30 kopeks, and while I was looking at one of them a moushik came up to me and advised me to buy it. 'It's very interesting,' he said. 'It makes one laugh and cry.' " It is impossible to purchase Paradise Lost at almost every village booth.—London Chronicle.
