$3,000 DAMAGE SUIT ON TRIAL

Mrs. Augusta Paulsen is Plaintiff Against Albert G. Greene of Griswold—His Automobile Knocked Her Down on West Main Street Crossing—Evidence for Foreclosure of $1,100 Note and Mortgage Was Heard.

Before the April additional session of the superior court here on Wednesday two cases were on trial before Judge Gardner Greene, one over a note and the other a damage suit for $3,000 for injuries in an automobile accident.

For Collection of Note. Trial of the suit of Henry C. Lanphear of Westerly against Margaret Greene of Griswold was held for foreclosure of $1,100 mortgage on property in Westerly, was started when the court opened.

Henry C. Lanphear, 75 years of age, of Westerly, was the first witness and told of giving Mrs. Barrett a mortgage of $1,100 on some property in Westerly. Later she made the property over to her son, Herbert L. Greenwood, who again took out a mortgage of $600 on the property in 1913. Since that time the property has again been transferred to his mother.

The witness testified that he never knew Mrs. Barrett in the transactions concerning the property and that he always did the business with her son, Herbert. Other witnesses were William Wilcox, who wrote the mortgage, John T. Murphy and Mrs. Margaret Greenwood Barrett. The latter testified that her son had to act as interpreter, as she is accustomed to his voice.

Her son is employed in the life saving station at Water Hill and paid his mother $35 a month and she commended him in court, but he married and then moved into another house, after it is claimed caused her death. The defense is that Mrs. Barrett never authorized the securing of the second mortgage, which her son got without her consent. She claims that she retained a life interest in the property.

Greene took the papers after the arguments had been concluded at 2:47 by Attorneys H. W. Rathbun and Agard. Claims $3,000 Damages. The following case was the damage suit of Mrs. Augusta Paulsen of this city against Albert G. Greene of Griswold who is driving an automobile that hit Mrs. Paulsen and knocked her down on the crosswalk at West Main street and Griswold avenue. She claims $3,000 damages.

In the complaint in the case it is charged that between 4 and 5 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 5, 1914, Mrs. Paulsen was passing over the crosswalk at West Main street and Griswold avenue, when she was struck by the automobile driven by Mr. Greene, who had failed to give any timely warning, and was operating the automobile at an imprudent and excessive rate.

She was thrown to the ground and as a consequence of the accident the side and back of her head were cut, her back and neck wrenched, bruised and strained, her knees and left hip injured, her right elbow, wrist and arm muscles scraped, her right hand and second finger of her left hand wounded and bruised in such a manner as to permanently affect the bone, the heart.

FAVORS $10,000 FOR NURSES' DORMITORY

Humane Institutions Committee Sees Backus Hospital Needs.

Senator John H. Barnes, who accompanied the committees on humane institutions and appropriations on their recent visit to the Backus hospital and the Winslow Williams farm, has been busy on the proposition concerning these places ever since.

The committee on humane institutions has reported favorably a bill appropriating $10,000 for the building of a nurses' dormitory at the Backus hospital, which was referred to the appropriations committee, said to be favorable to the project.

The committee on appropriations will probably report favorably the proposition to remove the school from the Backus hospital, with an accompanying appropriation of $20,000. The bill submitted provided that the new location be left at the discretion of the trustees of the school, who are wedded to a site in Simsbury.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC. Shephard B. Palmer, civil engineer, of this city, was the first witness, explaining the place of the street where the accident occurred.

Plaintiff's Testimony. Mrs. Paulsen, who lives at 17 Maple street, was called to the stand and testified that the note was signed by the automobile driver and that she was struck as she was in the middle of the crosswalk when the automobile which was turning to go from West Main street into Griswold avenue, struck her.

On cross examination by Attorney Babcock, Mrs. Paulsen said she did not see the automobile until her daughter called out, "Oh, Mamma!" and Mrs. Paulsen turned and caught a glimpse of the car within four or five feet of her. She was struck immediately and knocked down on her back. The auto hit her in the knees and body and the wheels passed over her right arm at the elbow, passing beyond her and stopping after it had crossed the sidewalk. Mr. Greene took her and her daughter home in the automobile and came to see her the next day, but did not see her as the doctor had given orders not to let anyone in.

Roast of Beef Saved Arm. Mrs. Paulsen said that she was carrying a ten pound roast of beef on the morning of Aug. 5, 1914, when she saved her arm from being broken as the wheels went over the roast of beef, but the marks of the fire cord could be seen on her arm for a week afterwards.

Saw the Accident. George R. Barber, who lives at 151 Main street, was called to the stand as the next witness. He testified that he was across the street at the time of the accident, and he was positive no horn was blown by the automobile. Court adjourned at 4:40 to continue the trial the next day.

The Other Bosphorus

To spell the Bosphorus with an "H" as the easygoing how do, would have been a criminal offence in the eyes of the schoolmaster of fifty years ago. For Bosphorus is pure Greek less so notoriously rendered into English as the "Passage of the Cow." It is as she tried to force the passage, became the immortal heroine of the "Bos." But the Bosphorus, which the Russians are now hammering at, is not the only one. There is the Cimmerian Bosphorus of the Sea of Azof, and there is that ancient and romantic Greek kingdom, now the Crimea, over which Greek kings ruled for 150 years. It lived after the fall of the Empire, and perished only under the attacks of the Huns, whose descendants are now helping the Turks to resist the new invasion of the Bosphorus.—London Chronicle.

Siberian Tigers

One is apt to regard the tiger as essentially a native of the tropics; and many readers will be surprised to learn that this ferocious animal is found as far north as icy Siberia, where it has become a distinct species (Tigris amurensis) remarkable for its great size, the beauty of its fur and its immoderate love for human flesh.—Wide World Magazine.
