Crusaders Meet. Members of the Crusaders held a meeting with Mrs. W. D. Swaffield Friday evening. Rev. James H. George, Sr. has returned to Newbury after a visit here.

Postoffice Employees Pass Examination. Postoffice Inspector Potter said Thursday that his office force successfully passed the examinations given by an inspector this week.

Killingly Teachers Will Be Present. Killingly teachers will be present both at Norwich and Putnam today at the annual convention.

Martin Shedd of Norwich has been a visitor with friends in Danielson. Mr. and Mrs. F. Tessier of Manchester, N. H., are visiting Danielson friends.

Teachers for 1915-1916 are to be elected at the meeting of the town school committee next Thursday.

Miss Marguerite Caron is to visit friends in Providence today.

K. H. S. to Play Plainfield. Killingly high school baseball team will play Plainfield High school team at Dayville this afternoon.

W. S. Brown is crushing stone for the foundation of a big barn to be built on the second hill farm near Wauregan.

Whist Netted $70. The Civic festival will net about $70 from the whist given at the rooms of the Bohemian club Wednesday evening.

It was estimated Thursday that over 300 automobiles are owned in the town of Killingly.

Few Tramps This Season. There is a remarkably satisfactory absence of hoboes in this town this spring, and the reason why is not difficult to guess.

Mrs. Mary Salotti is slowly recovering from an illness with pneumonia. John C. Riordan of Blackstone was a visitor with friends here Thursday.

Cemetery Association Officers. The newly elected officers of the Dayville Cemetery association are: President, W. P. Kelley; vice president, Joseph Pray; secretary and treasurer, W. Dyke Gosnell; trustees, W. LaBelle, F. W. Bennett, W. E. Kelley; superintendent, Charles Franklin.

Funeral. Miss Maria Johnson. At her home on Oak street Thursday afternoon the funeral services for Miss Maria Johnson were conducted by Rev. E. A. Legg. Burial was in the family lot in Brooklyn cemetery.

Garbage Inspector Appointed. Dr. W. H. Judson, health officer, has appointed as garbage inspector one who sees that all garbage accumulations in the borough are frequently and periodically removed, and indicating what action should be taken to prevent the accumulation of such accumulations. Notices to this effect have been posted about town.

Ice Company Aiding Patrons. The Quinebaug Lake Ice company, which announced this week that it would have no more ice to deliver after June 1, advising its patrons to make arrangements for getting a supply elsewhere, issued a supplementary statement Thursday morning in which a proposition under which such patrons are invited to get ice elsewhere will be furnished is outlined.

The statement that the Quinebaug Lake Ice company would be unable to supply ice in an endeavor, which was unsuccessful, by a number of their patrons to get ice elsewhere in town. This fact came to the attention of the company which stands ready to make a specified form of agreement with such patrons under which ice will be furnished them during the coming winter.

Children in the Danielson graded school who are of the required age of 10 years are coming in with enthusiasm over the plan to form agricultural clubs for the cultivation of many little gardens this summer.

Interest in License Fee Advance. While Killingly is a no-license town this year, there was great interest in the concurring action of the senate Wednesday with the house on the bill making the charge for licenses $750, an advance of $25 per cent. What effect this advance will have on the vote on the license question in this town, where the question is always so closely contested, is a subject for considerable discussion. Some maintain it will make no difference at all—as to how individuals will vote on the question; others hold that it will make a considerable difference on the basis of the belief that there will not be so many saloons, while others hold that it will have just the opposite effect, and will increase the no-license vote. Anybody's guess is as good as another's, apparently. No one of the men who have had licenses here, however, has been heard to say that he would refuse to apply for a license at $750 if the town votes license again.

PUTNAM

Thomas McNamara of Boston Completes Nine-Hole Golf Course for Country Club—Sessions of Teachers' Convention Today—H. K. Baseball Team to Play Dudley Tomorrow.

Thomas McNamara, expert golf player and representative of Boston sporting goods house, one of the best known in the country, completed Thursday the work of laying out the golf course at the grounds of the Putnam Country club.

When he returned here in the afternoon Mr. McNamara expressed his opinion that the Putnam golfy clubs is to have an excellent golf course. He dismissed positively the assertion heard that the grounds were not of sufficient area nor suited to golf playing and says that the grounds will provide a course that will be ideal in many ways, having some advantages possessed by very few courses.

The course as laid out and to be built is of nine holes in a distance of 3,300 yards of beautiful playing land. The contour of the land, Mr. McNamara says, is adapted to good golf. There are a number of water hazards that are to be of good advantage. One feature that is particularly advantageous is the absence of trees on the course, so the players will not be bothered by the fall. There is, however, plenty of shade on the grounds of the club.

The holes have been laid out as follows: First, 440 yards; second, 440 yards; third, 310 yards; fourth, 340 yards; fifth, 390 yards; sixth, 400 yards; seventh, 400 yards; eighth, 180 yards; ninth, 300 yards. The first hole is guarded on the right by out of bounds and by a stone wall set out and a second hole is guarded by a brook. This is a very good short hole. This requires all carry, starting on left by rough and brook. The third hole requires a carry from tee over a marsh, 150 yards; the back of the green is guarded by water for an overplayed second shot and lies on the right.

The fourth hole is guarded on the right by out of bounds and a ditch that will catch a poor second shot. The fifth hole on the second green is guarded by water and a brook; the second shot here must be very accurate.

The sixth is the best golf hole on the course. It requires two long shots, the second being all carry. A half topped second shot will ricochet off the bank to green and leaves an exceedingly difficult third shot.

At the seventh hole the tee is across the trolley track to the west and is guarded by the Quinebaug river on the right and by a pond for a pulled second shot. The eight-hole is a water hole—a very fine one-shot hole. There is nothing left to do here for a player to do; it's all carry.

The ninth hole is guarded by out of bounds on the right and presents a very difficult second shot, as the green is elevated.

Mr. McNamara's work was completed Thursday. It was said by a club member who spent the day on the links with him that the course could be made temporarily ready for use in about a fortnight. Another expert who has been to the course is Leonard Macomber. His specialty is turf and he will give advice and information that will be of great value in building the course as it should be.

Big Auto-Chemical from Norwich. The big American-LaFrance automobile chemical pumper and hose wagon that was in Norwich for the first time, came here in the afternoon. The men in charge of the truck made an inspection of the machine furnished the city of Putnam by the company last January, gave it a test spin and found it O. K. The bigger truck that the men brought to the city was critically inspected by the city fire department and many others. It remained here about two hours, leaving then for Boston.

Cars from Distant States. The annual appearance in this city of cars from distant states is again being noted. Among those seen in the business section of Putnam Thursday was a big machine bearing a California license number over $2,000, a few more cars than Connecticut can boast of as yet. During the afternoon a car with an Ohio registry whizzed into town and later a New Hampshire car was added to the list. A man who kept tabs on automobile license plates last year claims to have seen cars from 26 different states in Putnam.

Ex-Postmaster Letters Had Restless Night. Former Postmaster Frank G. Letters was reported Thursday afternoon as holding up well under his attack of pneumonia, although he had a restless Wednesday night.

Miss Hazel Converse will have the members of the Young Ladies' Mission club of the Baptist church at her home on a meeting this evening. The Southbridge high school team will be here to play the Putnam high school team this afternoon. This is not a school league game.

Teachers' Convention Today. Scores of teachers from eastern Connecticut towns will gather at the high school this morning for the sessions of the Eastern Connecticut Teachers' association. Principal Robert C. Bennett of Killingly high school, as president, will preside.

Miss Eva LaCroix has become an operator at the telephone exchange. To Open Season Tomorrow. The H. K. company baseball team is making arrangements for a notable opening of their baseball season here tomorrow afternoon, when the Dudley A. A. team will be here.

Home from Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Tourtelotte have returned from Limosa, Florida, where they have been spending the winter.

C. Fred Waterman and Percy Waterman were in New York Thursday on a business trip.

Town Clerk David Flagg continued to receive dog license fees Thursday, but there are many delinquents. I'll ricultural clubs for the cultivation of many little gardens this summer.

Frank H. Miller of Pawtucket was a visitor in Putnam Thursday. Putnam lodge of Elks is considering plans for a ladies' night during May.

Neutralization of the Holy Land. Facts Concerning Palestine Presented by James Bryce—Land of Ancient Strife and Splendor.

(Special to The Bulletin.) Washington, D. C., April 29.—A demand for the complete neutralization of the Holy Land, which has been growing in strength since the entry of Turkey into the war, and which would take away Palestine from the domination of the Ottoman and conserve and develop it as a shrine and museum for mankind, lends fresh interest to the observations upon this center of world pilgrimage, recently prepared by James Bryce, former British Ambassador to the United States for the National Geographic Society. That Palestine, after all, would not be so great a reservation for mankind, in point of area, appears in the comments of Lord Bryce upon its size.

"Palestine is a tiny little country. Though the traveler's handbooks portray him by being smaller than he expected, finding it as the region between the Mediterranean on the west and the Jordan and the Dead Sea on the east, from the spur of Lebanon and Hermon on the north to the desert at Beer-sheba on the south, it is only 110 miles long and from 50 to 60 broad—that is to say, it is smaller than New Jersey, whose area is 7,500 square miles, or Jerusalem, upon Philistine enemies only 25 miles off, on the one side, and looked across the Jordan to Moabite enemies about as far off, on the other. "Nearly all the events in the history of Israel that are recorded in the Old Testament happened within a territory no bigger than the State of Connecticut, whose area is 4,800 square miles; and into hardly any other country has there just crowded from the days of Abraham till our own time so much history—that is to say, so many events that have been recorded and assured to be recorded in the annals of mankind."

Nor is the Palestine of today so beautiful or so rich a country, as was painted by the Jews just emerging from the barren, comfortless desert. Its centuries of misgovernment and warfare have mightily assisted its somewhat stepmotherly nature in crushing out development, according to Lord Bryce; whereas the present-day proposal that this land at last be given rest and opportunity by neutralizing it and making it the care of all the nations is overdue. Palestine is a land of a multitude of pyramids, interrupted slaughter, Lord Bryce says, and more than 14 centuries of sad misrule have done their fatal work upon its physical appearance.

"Palestine is a country poor in any natural resources. There are practically no minerals, no coal, no iron, no copper, no silver, though recently some oil wells have been discovered in the Jordan Valley. Neither are there any large forests, and though the land may have been more wooded in the days of Joshua than it is now, there is little reason to think that the woods were of trees sufficiently large to constitute a source of wealth. A comparatively small area is fit for tillage."

"Such wealth as the country has consists in its pastures, and the expression 'a land flowing in milk and honey' appropriately described the best it has to offer, for sheep and goats can thrive on the thin herbage that covers the hills, and the numerous aromatic plants furnish plenty of excellent food for the bees; but it is nearly all this pasture, for the land is dry and the soil mostly shallow. The sheep and goats vastly outnumber the oxen."

Lord Bryce contrasts the beauty of Greece and Palestine. In both lands, he says, the traveler finds charm everywhere because of the traditions and history that hallow them. In practical reality, however, a great part of Greece is painfully dry and bare, and there is little striking beauty to be found in the Holy Land. The reverence and piety for spots hallowed by religious associations which the pilgrim brings to the places through which he wanders in Palestine, Lord Bryce says, causes him to see this land through a golden haze that makes it appear lovely.

"But," he continues, "the scenery of the Holy Land, taken as a whole (for there are exceptions), is inferior both in form and in color, to that of northern and middle Italy, to that of Norway and Scotland, to that of the coasts of Asia Minor, to that of many parts of California and Washington."

"If Palestine is not a land of natural beauty, what is it? What are the impressions which the traveler who tries to see it exactly as it is carries away with him? Roughly summed up, they are these: stones, caves, tombs, ruins, battlefields, sites hallowed by traditions—all bathed in an atmosphere of legend and marvel. In no other country are there so many shrines of ancient worship which is steeped in legend and sacred to Jews, some to Christians, some to Mussulmans. Neither has any other country spots that still bear a multitude of pyramids, not even Belgium and Lombardy, each a profusion of battlefields."

"From the moment that the traveler steps ashore at Jaffa, where he is shown the fabled rock to which Andromeda was chained when Perseus rescued her from the sea monster, and enters the city of Jerusalem, where he sees the great Dome of the Rock, until he leaves some Palestine port for home, he is in a wonderful bewildering atmosphere which is steeped in legend and marvel. He wanders in the valley over which the sun and moon stood still at the command of Joshua, and every step of his wandering leads him ever deeper into the maze of remarkable ancient history and tradition, religious association, and an environment of myriad-phased mystic lore of centuries of accretion."

STONINGTON. Grand Officers Visit Ruth Chapter, O. E. S.—Borough Team Defeats East Greenwich 9 to 5.

Thursday evening the annual visit of the grand officers of the grand chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was made to Ruth chapter. The ladies served an elaborate supper in Golden Cross hall, to about one hundred guests. An address of welcome was made by Worthy Matron Mrs. Mary Dally. The grand officers of the grand chapter present were: Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Fanny Y. Gardner, of Milford; Grand Organist Mrs. Nugent, of Hartford; Grand Associate Conductress Ethel Wood Latham, Noank; Grand Sentinel A. W. Jarvis, Norwich. The local chapter is in a flourishing condition and twelve new members have been taken in this year. One candidate was initiated.

Defeated East Greenwich. Wednesday afternoon the Stonington high school baseball team played the team from the East Greenwich academy at Stanton park. The score was 9 to 5 in favor of the local team. Owning to the visitors having to leave town early, only seven innings were played. The boys are in fine trim and good games are looked forward to Saturday. The Old Mystic team will play here.

Whist Club Entertained. Tuesday evening the C. L. C. Whist club met with Mrs. Herman Little at her home on Main street. She was assisted by Mrs. E. B. Noyes. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Gilbert Chester on Broad street. She will be assisted by Mrs. Chamberlain. Extra money in his bungalow at Lantern Hill this week.

Mrs. Gordon Pendleton is the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. F. Broughton.

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions. The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appears in an early spring, and readily is gotten rid of. "Marcolized wax" spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfigured skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process doesn't even temporarily make the complexion any one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness are best treated by a simple solution of powdered saccharin, or, to a rich chapter. The ladies served an elaborate supper in Golden Cross

Following the granting of the application for a jury trial to test the sanity of Harry K. Thaw by Justice Hendrick of the supreme court, who set May 17 for the beginning of the trial, Attorney General Woodbury said it plain that the state would fight the submission of Thaw's sanity to a jury to the finish and in view of the action of Thaw's attorneys would take advantage of every technicality of the law. The accompanying photographs show Thaw was taken to the New York courtroom just after Justice Hendrick had rendered the decision so favorable to the famous prisoner.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse. Scarcely, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four or ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.
