Thompson Dogs Must Be Muzzled. Next Tuesday morning, June 1, all dogs in Thompson must be muzzled in accordance with an order that has been issued by Jeffrey O. Phelps, state commissioner of domestic animals. It was issued in North Grosvenordale Friday afternoon that one or more rabid dogs ran through the town of Thompson recently, heading in the direction of Dudley, and it is believed that more than one dog in Thompson was bitten. One dog believed to have been bitten has been killed. The muzzle order is to be in force through three months, usually the length of the hot weather period. In the order particular force is laid on the fact that the muzzling rules require that dogs on leashes must also be muzzled while on public thoroughfares.

Talk of Independent Political Party. Some talk has been heard here recently of the formation of an independent political party. Whether or not it will develop, it is said, depends upon the trend of things political here during the next few months. The prospect is interesting, if no more, and may forecast events of more than passing interest. Quietly, must take heed of politics and political changes, though this is the off season and a time of year when such subjects get little attention as a general rule.

Allege That Turk is Jailed Unjustly. A Counsel was sought here Friday for a former Turkish resident of North Grosvenordale arrested recently and held in the jail at Hiddedford, Me., on a charge of having stolen $800 from a cousin with whom he had been residing. The prisoner claims that he is not guilty and his friends and relatives are doing everything possible to aid him in making the necessary defense. The trial is set for August and will be held in Hiddedford.

A number of members of the Putnam Equine Franchise league went to Danielson Friday evening to hear the address by Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn at the home of Mrs. H. C. Atwood.

Some creditable scores have been made over the new golf course at the grounds of the Putnam Country club, although no very low ones have been recorded yet.

Measures Tested. Charles Johnson, North Grosvenordale, county sealer of weights and scales, was in this city testing scales. He has a novel idea for testing platform scales. Knowing the exact weight of his touring car, which weighs about 460, but is frequently, he runs the machine on scales to be tested and weighs it.

Small But Noisy. Captain John Murray was manager of an opera company Friday. The business in the city was considerable one white, the other black, and gave all-day performances at the police station. Captain Murray described the vocal efforts as something extraordinary. One of the prisoners is a colored man who has been with a circus and was released from the town court of Killingly Friday morning.

New Claim of Nearly $300. Attorney Charles L. Torrey was in Hartford Friday to appear for the city as counsel in a case in which a claim is being made by the Berlin Bridge company for between $250 and $300, claimed due the company under a franchise agreement with the Connecticut Contracting company, which was engaged in building sewers in this city when it was attached by a number of creditors in 1912. This claim was one not known of when settlement was Circus Receipts $1,052. The circus that showed here Thursday did well from a financial standpoint. Motorcycle Races. Arrangements were completed Friday for motorcycle races here on Memorial day. Permission has been granted by the selection of Killingly, Brooklyn and Plainfield for use of the state highway running from Danielson to Brooklyn and to Wauregan for the event. The starting line will be in the vicinity of the plant of the Danielson Cotton company. The event is to be a 25-mile race, which will mean two round trips between Danielson and Wauregan. The races are to be handicap races, shore races and "funny" races. As all the events are to be held on the open highway the sport will undoubtedly be witnessed by a large crowd, as was the case last labor day, when a number of events were run on Brook street. Local riders will participate. The meet is being promoted by Henry Burnett, King Albert's Book at Library.

Among the latest additions to the library is King Albert's Book--a wonderful collection of testimonials by noted persons to the "brave struggle of the Belgians" since
