crowds, while Lakeside park at South Coventry had a full house for dancing, both afternoon and evening. Those who had autos were in great demand during the day, and the ever present line of a big business. The streets were lined for the parade of the veterans and soldiers and civilians in the afternoon, and the moving picture shows reaped a big harvest during the day. Many went to the motorcades in Norwich and everyone who could not outdoors. All in all it was a fine holiday.

Well Kept Grounds Admiral.

Two pleasing spots at this time of year are the grass plots about the town hall and the U. S. post office. The lawns are well kept and excellently cared for, and the bright green of their herbage with the background of the buildings and the flowers of the town building, excite much favorable comment from passersby.

The banks and most of the stores were closed Monday, but the streets, however, and some few others, remaining open.

Silk Town Team Vanquished, 7 to 2.
Windham high school took the measure of the nine from the South Manchester institution on the field at Recreation park Monday afternoon, to the tune of 7 to 2. There was a good sized crowd present, and the score of the local team took a corresponding increase.

The game was close up to the eighth inning, Windham being one run to the good, but in that time at bat three hits, a hit batsman, a stolen base and a sacrifice hit netted the rug stores, put the game on ice. Not many hits were made by either team, and but few errors, and it was a very good game from the spectators' standpoint, fast and well played. The score:

WILLIMANTIC CAMP GROUND.
Opening of the Season—Cottagers Arriving—Holiday Visitors—Norwich Woman Buys Cottage.

The season of 1915 opens well on the camp ground. The grounds under the management of M. C. Walter show many improvements, perhaps the most important being the roads, which have had special attention given them.
William C. Grant, chairman of the playground committee, has had a new tennis court laid out and a new pile of sand for the tennis courts. This was a busy place, as all the week enders were plying paint brushes on the iron bars for the back stops. The grounds are now in order for the summer.

The Keables cottage on Haven avenue is having repairs made, and several cottages have been painted.
Many of the early cottagers are busy making flower beds, Miss Flora Smith, Mrs. Walter MacIntire and Mrs. Sterrett having the largest collection of wild flowers.

The pleasant weather of the past week brought many people to the grounds for the holiday.
Arrive for the Season.
Those who have arrived for the season are Mr. and Mrs. James Purdie of Providence, R. I., at their cottage on Mystic avenue; Mrs. Jacob Hills, Mystic avenue; Mrs. J. H. Hills of Hartford, Mystic avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dunstan, at their cottage on Church circle; Mrs. L. M. Montgomery of South Manchester, at her cottage on Wesley circle; Miss Eva Benton of Mount Vernon, N. Y., at her cottage on Haven avenue; Mrs. H. H. Sterry, at her cottage on Haven avenue; Mrs. Ellen B. Root of Hartford, at her cottage on Haven avenue; Mrs. Olive Randall, on Jones avenue.

Those who were the grounds for the holiday were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cleaveland and sons, Norman and Rexford, and Miss May Symonds, all of Providence, R. I., at their cottage on Haven avenue.
Mrs. W. S. MacIntire and daughter Frances, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. MacIntire and daughter Josephine, at the MacIntire cottage, Haven avenue; Mrs. B. B. Gardner of New London at her cottage on Haven avenue; Mr. and Mrs. William Gordon of Norwich at their cottage on Prospect street; Mr. and Mrs. William Groat of Providence at Uneda Rest cottage; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews of Providence at the Woodward cottage on Wesley circle; Miss Jessie Smith of New London, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wheeler, daughter Dorothy, V. R. Wheeler of Providence on Haven avenue; Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Gane of Willimantic on Cartwright avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gardner returned to her home in New London Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Comstock of New London were visitors on the grounds Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner of New London were at the grounds Sunday.
Arthur Keeney, Eugene Keeney of South Manchester, Chester Bailey of Milford and Earl C. Young of Hartford were visitors at the Keeney cottage over the holiday.
D. J. Purdie of New York city is spending the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Purdie, at the Gardie cottage.
Costello Lippitt of Norwich was a visitor on the grounds Saturday.

Miss Fox Buys Cottage.
Miss Clara Fox of Norwich, who recently purchased the Randall Brown cottage and Miss Rose Martin were Sunday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Burnham.

Opening Up Persia.
The railways to Tabriz and Lake Urmia and the steamers for the lake, which will open up one of the most fertile provinces of Persia, are more than half completed. The culverts and bridges are stone and are built for all time, and the grades exceptionally easy.
The province of Azerbaijan is dotted with grain fields, almond orchards and vineyards. The plain of Urmia is one of the finest in Asia. The other plains are well saturated, though water conservation is needed. American irrigation and farm implements apparently could work wonders here.

A government bureau in Uruguay recently estimated the population of the republic at 1,300,000.

JEWETT CITY

Members of Third Company from Norwich Participate in Memorial Day Parade—Exercises at Fanning Park—Dinner Served—Town Court Cases.

At 9:15 Monday morning Captain Church arrived here with 50 members of the Third company of Coast artillery, with a drum corps, being met by the veterans at the station. The parade was ready to move at once. At the town hall the wreaths for decoration were received from the committee in charge of Mrs. G. A. Haskell. But-tonhole bouquets were pinned on all except the regulars by Misses Agnes Olsen, Jennie Coyle, Alice Brennan, Jean Burleson and Dorothy Paul. The Baptist, St. Mary's and Jewett City cemeteries were visited in turn and with fitting ceremonies and after prayers by Rev. Allan Spidell and Rev. Samuel Thatcher the soldiers' graves were decorated.

Two hundred children from the Riverside grammar school, in charge of Principal Emerson, marched in the parade. At their head John Barnett gave time on his drum. Few of the veterans were able to walk. Daniel Finn, Louis Gindra, Dr. Richards and F. H. Gilbert offered their automobiles to carry all who wished to ride. There was a number of handsomely trimmed bicycles.

More than 500 were at David Hale Fanning park to hear the exercises and speeches. The decoration of the monument was most impressive. Miss Daisy Young placed a large wreath at the base, presented by the Jewett City greenhouses. Miss Young had most attractive badge, showing in emblems of miniature flags and gold letters the Colonial wars, the French and Indian, the Revolution, 1812, and Civil wars, of which she is a personal representative.

The other little flower girls were Misses Ellen Prior, Nellie Fayton, Alice Smith, Kathleen McCarthy, Rose Crumb, Edna Sharkey, Grace Sharkey, Ethel Morgan, Angeline Pariseau, Vivian McLaughlin, Mildred Olson and Ruby.

F. D. Ballou introduced the speakers for the day, Rev. J. J. McCabe, Dr. Thomas O'
