Says Walsh Distorted Facts

KING PROTESTS STATEMENT OF INDUSTRIAL CHAIRMAN.

ON COLO. HEARING

Employee of Rockefeller Foundation Declares Version Given Out at Kansas City is a Complete Perversion of Testimony Given.

New York, June 1.—The charge that Chairman Frank P. Walsh of the United States industrial relations commission distorted testimony when he issued a statement at Kansas City yesterday seeking to make it appear that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was personally responsible for the conditions in the Colorado coal fields was made here tonight by W. L. Mackenzie King, former minister of labor for Canada.

King, who presided over an investigation into industrial relations for the Rockefeller foundation. To support his contention, Mr. King quoted from the official stenographic record of his testimony given in Washington recently. His rejoinder follows:

Protested Mr. Walsh's Methods.

"No better example could be afforded of the methods adopted by Mr. Frank P. Walsh, the chairman of the commission, in the investigation of the kind of things against which I protested so strongly whilst testifying in Washington, than the following paragraph from a statement issued yesterday by Mr. Walsh at Kansas City, and which is given to the public in the name of the commission as a whole:

Walsh's Statement.

"But, above all, the commission has proved the absolute responsibility of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., himself for everything that happened in Colorado. W. L. Mackenzie King, former labor commissioner of Canada and at present an employee of the Rockefeller foundation, stated that the will and conscience of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were more potent in Colorado than all of the public opinion of the United States, and that the American people must look to that one man for an improvement of conditions, conceding that to be un-American and intolerable."

Stenographic Report.

"That this is a complete perversion of my testimony is shown from the following stenographic report:

"Chairman Walsh: Is there any force to control the Rockefeller interests in Colorado? Or do you think, if they are not doing the right thing, except the ordinary people in America?"

"Mr. King: If you are speaking of the immediate force and immediate influence, I think that the conscience of young Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is more powerful on that and will affect social justice in Colorado than any other single force that you could bring to bear. I think he realizes there is a great work to do there and he intends to 'have it done.'"

"Chairman Walsh: You think that the will and conscience of Mr. Rockefeller in bringing proper conditions and enduring conditions in Colorado is more powerful than the will and conscience of all the balance of the people of the United States, directed in that field?"

"Mr. King: No, Mr. Chairman, I don't put it that way at all."

Denial by Mr. King.

"It will be seen that the reply in which I made reference to Mr. Rockefeller's conscience referred to the question as to what was the most powerful influence for correcting conditions among the Rockefeller interests in Colorado, and not as to whether or not as the result of the contrast of the will and conscience of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with the power of public opinion, as well as the introduction of a reference to Mr. Rockefeller's 'will,' were Mr. Walsh's own, not mine."

Protested Effort to Pervert Testimony.

"A perusal of the evidence in its entirety will show that instead of there being on my part any boast of the kind Mr. Walsh alleges, there was the most vigorous protest against the attempt which I recognized he was making at the time to so distort and pervert testimony as to make it appear to the public that such a contrast could be drawn. Not only did I object against the distorting and perverting of words into the framing of so absurd a contrast, but the record will show that, with reference to it, I made the following positive assertion: 'I do not see the necessity of drawing that distinction. Mr. Rockefeller is not a deity. He is a man. I think he is distinctly anxious to fall in line with it.'"

Did Not Discuss Colorado Situation.

"An examination of the testimony will show further that I resolutely refused to be drawn into a discussion of the Colorado situation one way or the other and that I positively declined to fix responsibility for it or any individual or group of individuals. Nothing could be plainer than the following which appears at page 1365 of the official record:

"Chairman Walsh: Who was responsible for the conditions in Colorado?"

"Mr. King: I could not and would not attempt to fix the responsibility. 'I trust that these questions will be sufficient to indicate how much credence is to be placed in statements emanating from Mr. Walsh and how far they are entitled to consideration.'"
