CITY WATER HAS BAD TASTE

Superintendent Corkery Says It Will All Pass Off by Today—Due to Stirring Up System by Shutting Off Stony Brook Line Saturday to Repair Break—Department Now Busy on Corning Road Extension

All over the city on Monday and Tuesday inquiry was made as to what caused an unpleasant taste in the city water, which some described as having a fishy taste and others as a vegetable flavor.

When asked about it Tuesday evening Superintendent John J. Corkery said he had heard of the inquiries and that he ascribed it to the stirring up of the water in the city reservoir, thus changing the direction of the water, which probably resulted in sending through the pipes a lot of water that had been standing stagnant somewhere. The same condition had been noticed on other times, he said, when Stony Brook line had been shut off, and he believed that the trouble would not be noticed after today.

During Tuesday a number of people who knew where spring water was to be secured, filled out their drinking water by securing bottles of the city water. During the evening a number of people were seen traveling Preston bridge with bottles and other receptacles to collect water from the drinking fountain on Main street, East Side.

The water department is now engaged in putting in the extension of the water main on Corning road from the corner of Hamilton avenue. There is 2100 feet of 4 inch cast iron pipe to be laid. When this is finished, it will complete the extensions which the water commissioners decided to lay this year. Other extension work that has already been done, all within the city limits, include 800 feet of 4 inch pipe in Linden parkway, 265 feet of 4 inch pipe in Watercross avenue, 700 feet of 8 inch pipe on Bushnell street, between Potter Manor and 380 feet of 4 inch pipe on Crescent street to do away with a dead end to Broad street.

VOTES TO CHANGE TO PLEDGE CARD SYSTEM.

Action Taken at Meeting of Park Congregational Church.

At a meeting in the Osgood Memorial parish house of Park Congregational church on Tuesday evening it was voted to change the church's rental system now in vogue and to substitute the pledge card system, provided enough pledges be secured to meet all expenses, leaving no deficit. If the necessary pledges are secured, the old system will be phased out July 1, when the new system will go into effect.

It was the universal belief of those present at the meeting that the pledge card system is far superior to the old system, which gives every member of the family a chance to contribute, according to his means, to the support of the church, thus keeping them in close touch with the church work and preparing the younger generation for valuable church workers in the years to come.

The meeting was called to order by Oliver L. Johnson, who presided. L. O. Smith of the church society extended the merits of the new plan and was followed by Mrs. M. J. Grosvenor Ely, also members of the church society.

Expressions were then asked for from the church members, and the several heard all spoke in favor of the change. It was moved that the change be made, and the motion prevailed. It was also voted that the seating arrangement be left in the hands of the church society. Those now having reserved seats were asked to remain, but as vacancies occur those who have seats will be allowed to choose their seats. Pledge cards were distributed and the meeting adjourned.

USE OF INITIALS IN BUSINESS AFFAIRS.

Supreme Court Regards Practice as Preferable to Use of Full Names.

Washington, June 1.—Use of initials in business affairs, even in bankruptcy proceedings, instead of full names, was approved today by the supreme court, which reversed a decision of the Indiana supreme court that it was not a satisfactory compliance with the bankruptcy law for George F. Kreitlin of Indianapolis to register as one of his creditors "C. Perger" rather than Charles Egerger. The court also held that it was not necessary for a bankrupt to give street addresses of creditors, even in large cities.

OBITUARY.

Walter H. Woodworth. At 11:58 o'clock Tuesday night Walter H. Woodworth of the firm of Cudworth, Woodworth & Thompson, architects, passed away at his home, No. 208 West Thames street. He had been in poor health for several years past and had been seriously ill for some weeks.

Mr. Woodworth was a native of Quaker Hill, town of Waterford, where he was born Oct. 8, 1874, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Woodworth.

WALTER H. WOODWORTH.

When quite young he went to New London and later to New Hope, Pa., and Lambertville, N. J., and after returning to New London he located in this city.

He became superintendent of construction and estimating for the W. E. Hiseox company in 1901, remaining with them for eight months, when he formed a partnership with E. A. Cudworth under the name of Cudworth & Woodworth, architects, one of the most prominent firms in this part of the state. Recently Arthur M. Thompson was admitted into the firm and the firm name became Cudworth, Woodworth & Thompson. Mr. Woodworth was a Methodist by faith. He was past master of Somerset lodge, No. 34, F. and A. M., was a member of the Arcanum club, and belonged to Norwich lodge of Elks. He was a republican in politics and was elected to the common council as a councilman in 1909.

He leaves his wife and three children, Marion R. Helen R. and Virginia Woodworth, also four brothers, Oliver Woodworth of New London, Robert A. Woodworth of the Providence Journal, Ernest Woodworth of Waterbury and Richard Woodworth of New London, and a sister, Mrs. A. S. Nichols of New London.

As a business man and citizen, Mr. Woodworth was highly regarded for the honorable standards which were his, and his services in the community life were always freely given for the best interests of the city. He showed marked ability in his business calling and won the respect and esteem of all with whom he was associated.

James Fitzgerald. James Fitzgerald, 46, of New London, formerly of this city, died in New London about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. He had been in a generally weakened condition for a long time. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, a sister, Mrs. Edward Stanton of New London, a brother, Patrick, of this city, and these children: James and Mary of New London, John and Nellie of this city; Nora of Hartford, and Daniel of Santa Fe, New Mexico.
