RUSSIA CHRONICLES A GERMAN REPULSE

On the Right Bank of the Dneister, in the Vicinity of Zurawna, and Several Other Points

ITALIANS CLAIM THE CAPTURE OF PLOSKEN

Austrian Dispatches Claim Victory Everywhere—French Have Fortified Their Positions in Front of Neuville St. Vaast and in the Region of the Toutvent Farm—Serbians Are Reported to Have Captured Two Towns in Albania and Are Marching on to the Important Seaport of Durazzo—Albanian Insurgents Have Proclaimed a Republic—Both London and Rome Deny the Austrian Assertion That a British Battleship Has Been Sunk in the Adriatic by an Austrian Submarine.

While fighting is going on in all the various theatres of war, it is from the official statements of the belligerents that the war office that it is partaking of the same character as has been the case for many days. As is usual, there is some difference in the reports as to victories claimed.

Russia chronicles the repulse of the Germans on the right bank of the Dneister in the vicinity of Zurawna and also several other points in this region and asserts that thousands of the Austro-German soldiers were captured. Vienna, on the other hand, says that in southeast Galicia and in Bukovina the Teutons were successful in their attacks on the Russians south of the Dneister and along the Rutch.

While the Italians are claiming the capture of Ploksen, a strategic point on the Austro-Italian frontier, the Austrians assert that Italian attacks on all their fronts have been repulsed. On their western lines the French declare that they have fortified their positions in front of Neuville St. Vaast and in the region of the Toutvent farm, southwest of Rebuterne. Little fighting is going on along this front.

The Serbians are reported to have captured Elbasson and Tirana in Albania and to be marching on the important seaport of Durazzo.

It is declared that the Albanian insurgents have proclaimed a republic, which, it is considered, may complicate matters in this region.

Both London and Rome deny the Austrian assertion that a British cruiser was sunk in the Adriatic by an Austrian submarine.

COMMITTEE HEADS BECOME IMPORTANT DURING WAR CRISIS

Rome, June 11, 11:40 p. m.—An official statement issued here tonight says:

"The report contained in an Austrian official statement that a British warship of the Liverpool type had been sunk off San Giovanni Di Medua is untrue. ## Good For the State, Good For Others

When Deputy State Treasurer Marsh made the statement the other day that the revenue from the investment tax for the present fiscal year would exceed that of the previous year by from $75,000 to $100,000 he attributed this increase to a large degree to newspaper advertising.

In other words it was believed that the state was not getting as much as it should from this source. Realizing the necessity of reaching the people resort was made to the newspapers with the result as indicated above. It tells its own story, not only does newspaper advertising reach and influence the people but it brings results. It is the same whatever the message may be and the larger and more thorough the circulation the better are the returns. What helps the state will help other business.

Throughout Eastern Connecticut the Bulletin circulation is unequalled and it helps the advertiser accordingly. If you want to reach the people in its territory use the Bulletin.

Its columns have contained the following matter during the past week:

REAR ADMIRAL FULLAM INDIGNANT AT REFLECTIONS.

Cast Upon Him in Conduct of Naval Academy.

Annapolis, Md., June 11.—In an authorized statement tonight Rear Admiral Fullam said he would welcome a searching investigation into his administration as superintendent of the naval academy. He expressed strong indignation at what he considered reflections upon his honor and the honor of the officers under his command in the course of the proceedings before the Board of Inquiry which is investigating irregularities in examinations at the academy.

Since he had been superintendent of the academy, he had endeavored every way to impress upon the members of each successive first class that nothing in it shall be construed to be a reflection upon him or upon the officers under his command in the course of the proceedings before the Board of Inquiry which is investigating irregularities in examinations at the academy.

BRYAN NINE TO GERMAN-AMERICANS

Urges Them to Aid in Maintaining Peace Between the United States and the Fatherland

SEES CHANGE IN TONE OF "JINGO EDITORS"

Washington, June 11.—William Jennings Bryan tonight issued an appeal addressed to "The German-Americans," urging them to aid in maintaining peace between the United States and the Fatherland by exerting their influence with the German government to persuade it not to take any steps that would lead in the direction of war.

Last Statement for the Present.

With this statement Mr. Bryan expects to end for the present his efforts to leave the peace with the situation which caused him to resign the portfolio of secretary of state. On Wednesday he gave out an explanation of why he left the office and resigned the last American note to Germany regarding submarine warfare. Yesterday he made an appeal to "The American people" to stand for persuasion rather than for force in asserting rights under international law, and today he made a brief statement expressing gratification at what he termed a change of tone on the part of the "Jingo editors" regarding the note to Germany.
