

GERMANY'S RECEPTION LATEST NOTE

Confidential Advices Reach State Department From Ambassador Gerard—Belief Exists in Washington That Germany Will Not Hasten to Reply—Diplomatic Battle is Anticipated.

Washington, July 29.—The state department today received from Berlin confidential advices from Ambassador Gerard relative to the reception of the latest American note. While no information on these advices was obtainable today, belief exists in official circles that Germany will not hasten to reply to the note, in fact, she replies at all. According to German sources here, the disposition in Berlin will be to weigh the American note in comparison with the negotiations which are about to begin with Great Britain. It is maintained in these sources here that if the United States deals with Great Britain as vigorously and pointedly as it has with Germany, much of the anti-American feeling in Germany will be overcome. The belief is that the United States is now on trial in German public opinion as to the efficiency of its diplomacy, and that the outcome of the negotiations with England will go far toward fixing the American position in the whole war.

On Sinking of 'Leslanaw.' The state department will protest the sinking of the 'Leslanaw' to Germany in the near future on the ground that the treaty between the United States and Prussia has been violated. Officials today stated that the fact that the ship today escaped did not affect the issue, inasmuch as the ship finally stopped and submitted to the demands of the captain of the German submarine boat. The case is believed to be substantially on all fours with the William P. Frye case, and Germany may acknowledge liability and pay the damages, although a prize court, under the German policy, may have to go through the form of awarding damages. Secretary of State Lansing said today that his report from Rome that the Kaiser had some time ago asked the pope to mediate between Germany and the United States on the question of submarine warfare was news to the state department.

Diplomatic Battle is Over. While there is optimism here over the outlook for the negotiations with the allies, no well informed official expects results to be achieved without a hard fought diplomatic battle. It is pointed out, however, that so far as the blockade of neutral ports is concerned, the records of this government have been fairly consistent against this policy, and the question of the efficiency as well as the legality of the present blockade of Germany is likely to come squarely to the forefront early in the negotiations.

Chancellor Sends for Gerard. Berlin, July 29, noon. Via London, 4 p. m. The German Imperial Chancellor, who returned to the capital yesterday from a visit to the army, heard a private conference with Emperor William, sent for James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, today. The conference between the American ambassador and the German chancellor is expected to have an important bearing on the future development of the relations between Germany and the United States.

GERMAN ARRESTED FOR USING FORGED PASSPORT.

Apprehended by British Authorities—Admits It is Not Genuine. London, July 29, 5.25 p. m.—It was learned on high authority here today that the British authorities have arrested a German subject who had in his possession a forged American passport which the arrested man admits is not genuine. The forged document has been compared with the original passport which was issued to a bona fide American citizen. The real passport which was sent to London by the state department at Washington shows that the forgery is a dangerous imitation.

Pending a motion to determine the sanity of the prisoner, he was remanded to the Tombs. Liebman on March 17, during the absence of his wife, who the night previous had him served with summons charging non-support, dropped his two children, Sadie, aged 7 and Samuel, aged 4, down an airshaft to the basement sixty feet below. The girl died as the result of her injuries and the boy will be a cripple for life. While waiting trial Liebman attempted suicide.
