SPECIAL MEETING CALLED

To Discuss $1,500 Appropriation for Fire Department Needs.

A special town meeting is called for Monday evening, August 23, to discuss the appropriation of $1,500 to be used in purchasing hose for the local fire department, and for laying a new floor in the Montgomery hose house. The regular appropriation is not large enough to permit an expenditure of this nature, hence the necessity of this action.

Three Automobiles in Mix-up.

Three automobiles, two coming toward Willimantic, and one going toward Hartford, collided about a half mile this side of Andover, Monday evening. The Hartford car, which was being towed, caused the trouble, when the drag rope caught in the wheels and rendered the machine unmanageable. The towed car shot across the road just as the two autos bound for this city speeded past. The result was a general mix-up, in which no one was hurt, but the second car that tried to pass, owned by Mr. Mathewson, of Mt. Hope, was considered unsafe and the occupants were transferred to the other car, which was but slightly injured. This car was run into the city by the chauffeur and temporary repairs made. A Mr. Belden, of Hartford, who owned the two machines going in that direction, assumed all responsibility for the affair.

Willimantic Camp Ground

Speakers and Events of Tuesday—Meeting of Cottage Holders—W. F. M. S. Auxiliary Election—Old Home Day Planned for Today.

The leader of the Tuesday morning devotional hour was Rev. W. H. Bath of South Manchester. He read Isaiah, the sixth chapter. His theme was Worship and Prayer. Worship is the supreme act of the soul. Prayer is a most important element in worship. Prayer is instinctive with God-lovers. Christ and the best men of earth prayed. Through prayer we get in sympathy with God's will. It is not a substitute for action, but an inspiration to action. Isaiah's prayer was most worshipful. We get the vision of God and himself. It resulted in complete consecration of himself to God's service.

Methods of Evangelism.

Dr. J. F. Knott in the next hour said that Christ's method of evangelism was not so much formal preaching as conversational with many or few. He compared historic evangelism with the modern campaign and said that preference is seen in what may be termed commercialism of the modern methods. Paul says: "I have coveted no man's silver or gold; these hands have ministered unto my necessities." John Wesley's methods were giving rather than receiving. During his life he earned $50,000 and gave it all away. From Moses to William Booth all great evangelists have given all and died poor. Contrast this with the great sums received by professional evangelists of recent times. Now personal evangelism is both a mental and a spiritual tonic. You can diagnose an individual.

Nearby Demands.

Rev. Ralph T. Flewelling's topic, the next hour, was "The Divinity of Man; Now Are We the Sons of God." He insisted that we had not to sympathize with the heathen far away and neglect the foreigner at our doors, the man who may be laboring on our own premises, or the woman in our own kitchen.

Social Service.

Rev. Otis H. Moore, who was detained Monday because of a recent baseball accident, was at his post Tuesday and occupied the forenoon with a practical talk on Social Service, describing something of the work done in North Canton, a fine example of what a church can be as the social center of a community.

Dr. Spaulding continued his talk on Junior League Methods the next hour, at the tabernacle, and Mr. Natzger talks to young men in the South Manchester house, speaking on Christian Opportunities.

Afternoon Meetings.

At 1 p. m. in the New London house Mrs. Read's children's gathering was addressed by Rev. Otis H. Moore of Canton, Conn. A good number of children were present and a few adults. As in former years, Mrs. F. H. Bushnell of Norwich Town is at the organ.
Mr. Moore said the sign on a boot-black's shop was a good one for Christians, "Shine Inside." Then you will surely shine outside. He spoke about conscience being an alarm clock. We must always heed it at once, lest our ears get dull.

Dr. Spaulding's Address.

The 2 o'clock preacher was Dr. Spaulding, who filled the place of Dr. Irwin, who was unable to be present. His text was found in the first chapter of first John, "The blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sin." "Light" and "life" are favorite words with John. He uses the latter about one hundred times. Many have scoffed at the idea of the "cleansing blood," yet more have been fascinated with its prescient meaning, and are the ones who have been of use in the world. Pure blood is the greatest cleanser of our physical system. Hence it is a proper symbol of Jesus' cleansing power.

Cottage Holders' Meeting.

About 25 cottage holders gathered at the New London house at 4 o'clock and were called to order by the president, Jason L. Randall, of Groton, who offered prayer. The secretary, Arthur Newell of Rockville, read last year's minutes. The following delegates were elected to the annual meeting of the Campmeeting association, to be held today (Wednesday) at the Niantic house: Mrs. Smith Talcott, Mrs. Jane E. Read, Mrs. Costello Lippitt, Mrs. Jacob Estlin, Mrs. Dunstan, Mrs. Adda Webber, Miss Alice Strong, Mrs. George Woodward, Mrs. James Purdie, Mrs. Sarah Palmer, W. L. Backus, George Buckland, Mrs. W. M. Burlingame, Mrs. Julia Hutt and Arthur R. Newell.

A discussion arose as to the inconvenience of having no store on the grounds this season. Some favored the present free-for-all arrangement of order wagons twice a day from Willimantic. Others considered the store to be a necessary convenience, especially for transient attendants. It was finally voted by the majority present to recommend to the annual meeting of the association to open a store on the campground next year.

The following officers for the coming year were elected: President, Jason L. Randall, Groton; vice president, Harlan Hill, East Hampton; secretary, Arthur Newell, Rockville. By vote the president appointed a committee to draw up resolutions in memory of the late vice president, B. B. Gardner of New London. Miss Minnie Barlow of New London, and Secretary Newell were appointed. The meeting then adjourned.

Monday Evening's Sermon.

Although a gentle rain fell in the early evening, the service was held out-of-doors under a broad roof erected about two seasons ago. It is an ideal place on a warm summer night being well lighted and comfortably cooled. Dr. Flewelling read scripture and prayer was offered by Rev. H. H. Critchlow of Burnside.

Dr. J. Franklin Knott, of Somersville, preached an earnest sermon on "The Immortality of the Soul from the text from Job: 'If a man die, shall he live again? Immortality is imperatively demanded by the very longings of the soul, because of the brevity of life, its illusions, its end. Philosophy, science and experience all prove the necessity of a life beyond. Jesus corroborates it by saying: 'I am the resurrection and the life.' Let us live, then, like immortals." Mr. Natzger sang a solo.

W. F. M. S. Auxiliary Meets.

The annual meeting of the campground auxiliary of the W. F. M. S. was held at 5 o'clock in the Niantic house, Tuesday evening. The president, occupying the chair. The report of the secretary, Mrs. J. M. Currier, Chelsea, was read, and also that of the treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Colver of Manchester. The total receipts of this branch last year were over $121, including what was received from the modern campaign in the city. There were 102 years old, sent her dollar membership dues. Her name is Miss Betsey Capron, of Eastville. The organization elected for president, aged 60, receive the resignation of Mrs. Jane Read, as leader of the Children's Missionary band.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Mrs. Costello Lippitt, of Norwich; vice president, Mrs. Green; secretary, Mrs. Costello Lippitt, of Norwich; collector, Mrs. E. C. Colver. Six collectors were appointed to solicit memberships and contributions. The auxiliary is supporting two orphan and a Bible woman in India. The meeting adjourned until Saturday, when the collectors' reports will be read.

Children Organize.

The children organized among themselves a King's Herald's Missionary band, with Marion Smith, Freeport, L. I., as president; Annie Shippee, of Norwich, as secretary; and Dorothy Wheeler, Providence, secretary and treasurer. There are 18 members and they went about the grounds and houses in their mite boxes $2.21 for W. F. M. S.

E. L. Headquarters.

Prof. William J. Hastie has charge for this, his third year, of the cottage leased from the East Thompson M. E. church. This building is also headquarters for the Boy's Club, being the office of the Institute throughout the week. It is also thrown open to the public as a rest room for children and a place for writing.

Mr. Hastie reports the work of this popular academy on Narragansett bay as progressing most encouragingly. The following officers for the coming term of about 85 boys and 30 girls. It was necessary to remodel and enlarge a building in order to accommodate the boys and even now it is almost overcrowded.

The annual Institute campfire under the leadership of the academy, will be held this year Friday evening after the regular service.

Personal Items.

Dr. Frank D. Maine, of Springfield, Mass., is on his annual pilgrimage to the grounds.
Mrs. Laura Flagg, Arnold's Mill, R. I., is organizer at this season's services. Her skilful playing of the hymns and sympathetic accompaniments to the solo rendered by Mr. Natzger are much enjoyed.

Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Critchlow, of Burnside, returned home Tuesday evening after a few days' stay. Mr. Critchlow had as her guest at the Niantic house the first of the week Mrs. Ada Anthony Dean, of Myricks, Mass.

The leaders at the Stafford Springs house at 9 a. m., 1 and 6 p. m., were Rev. J. R. Miller, West Thompson; Jason Hill, Groton, and Rev. Frank Chamberlain, East Thompson.

Notes.

The grocery store which has been opened on the grounds for a number of summers, remains closed this year, as no one in Willimantic cared to hire the privilege from the Campmeeting association. Arthur Stiles ran it last season.

Over a dozen students from East Greenwich academy represent that institution at the Epworth League institute.

Old Home Day.

Today (Wednesday) is to be Old Home day at the camp. Three kinds of tags will show whether those present are first comers, were here last year, or have been here ten years.

At the conclusion of Tuesday morning's hour of worship there was a flag raising at the eastern door of the tabernacle. The pennant says Willimantic Institute upon it. There is to be such a raising each morning with somewhat different exercises.

From 2 to 2:30 daily, Mr. Natzger drills his large chorus choir in the new song book used this season. The singing is a most inspiring feature of the meetings.
