

THIS YEAR THE GREATEST EVER

The New London County Fair

AT NORWICH, CONN.

September 6th, 7th and 8th, 1915

YOU HAVE HEARD

The Brazen Throated Throng

The Silver Throated Few

LISTEN TO OUR GOVERNOR

THE GOLDEN THROATED ONE

EDUCATION AND PROFIT

CE DORA in Her Globe of Death Act

Mdlle. Marquretes--Five Performing Lions

Shaw's Comedy Circus--18 foot Ring on the Stage

THREE TUMBLING TOMS | THE ZOBINOS

HARRY HENRY--The Man Who Sings to Beat the Band

EIGHT OTHER SHOWS AND RIDERS

Fine Band Music by Two Bands

A Fair Full of Interest to the People of Eastern Connecticut

THE ONLY FAIR IN THE STATE WITH A CATTLE SHOW THIS YEAR

OUR POULTRY SHOW -- A Big Sight -- Everything in Chickendom

Advertisement for Governor Marcus H. Holcomb's visit, including dates (Sept 7th-8th), times (1.30 P.M.), and details of the 'MIGHTY MIDWAY' and 'MUSICAL FESTIVAL'.

Advertisement for the Chelsea Line, offering travel services between Norwich and New York.

Advertisement for Bermuda travel, including 'GO TO BERMUDA' and 'Twin Screw "BERMUDIAN"'.

Advertisement for 'Overhauling and Repair Work' on automobiles, wagons, trucks, and carts.

Advertisement for Scott & Clark Corp., located at 507 to 515 North Main St.

Advertisement for 'Rests with the Cook' and 'Modern Gas Range'.

Advertisement for 'The City of Norwich Gas and Electrical Dept.' at 321 Main St.

Advertisement for 'FAMOUS FURS' and 'DR. A. J. SINAY Dentist'.

Advertisement for 'THE CHELSEA SAVINGS BANK'.

Advertisement for 'COLCHESTER' and other local notices.

JUNIOR O. U. A. M. AT WESTERLY

State Assemblage Held Saturday Evening--Funeral of Deputy Sheriff Andrew McKenzie--Auction at Post Office--Fireman Injured--Clarks Defeat Potter Hill.

Members of the Junior Order of the American Mechanics from all sections of Rhode Island assembled in Westerly, Saturday night in Mechanics hall, as guests of Hope lodge, and enjoyed the reception and entertainment arranged by Past State Councilor Everett Lawton and his associates local committee.

Charles J. Butler for fifty cents a piece, and Mr. Pendleton was the purchaser of the safe on a bid. This safe was originally in the New London post office and cost $350. In 1875, Mr. Pendleton, then postmaster at Westerly, purchased the safe from Postmaster William H. Tubbs for $300 and on Saturday Mr. Pendleton bought the identical safe, a second time for $100 or $140 below its first cost, and $150 less than his former purchase price, and will dispose of it for twice the price he paid, $10, and the safe will be retained in Westerly. As the new post office building is furnished with vaults instead of safes, and the carrier's office equipment being up to date, there was no further use for the old desks and the safe. Before Mr. Pendleton is through with that safe he will have purchased it and sold it twice, which is just a bit out of the ordinary.

Fireman A. I. Williams, who was at work on engine No. 309, hauling a local freight train from New London, was seriously injured Sunday morning by the escaping steam from a burst boiler tube and is now at his home near Main's crossing in North Stonington. The tube burst when the train was about a mile and a half east of the Clark thread mill siding. Mr. Williams jumped from the engine while the train was in motion and rolled down an embankment. The train was backed down and Williams was assisted to a trolley car and taken to Westerly, where he was attended by Dr. M. H. Scanlon. The fireman was severely burned in the face, legs and arms and is in a critical condition. He has a wife and three children. The disabled engine was towed to Westerly and another engine took its place when the freight train proceeded.

Friday evening a big motor truck laden with peaches was on the bridge in Pawcatuck and the peaches were being sold at retail. A store man nearby, who pays a tax for doing business in the town of Stonington, objected to the interference in trade as he, too, had peaches for sale. When the store man threatened to have the peach peddlers arrested for doing business without license, the motor truck was rushed over the bridge into Westerly, R. I., just as a Connecticut police officer arrived. A small boy who was helping the peddlers fell off the truck and he was gathered in. Before Judge Hinckley in the town court the boy was charged with peddling without a license after spending the night in a prison cell. On motion of Prosecutor Benjamin Hewitt the case was nolle.

Stonington Painters. It is expected that a Stonington District Nurse association will be formed now that the people have shown a desire for such an association by attending the entertainment Saturday evening to raise the nucleus of a fund to support the charitable work. The net profit was $110. As a matter of preservation, repairs are to be made to the steamboat wharf which is free from steamboats just at the present time. The freight house on the steamboat wharf is being converted into a temporary dormitory and general living place for the laborers who are to be employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in the work of rock-ballasting the roadbed.

Death of Mrs. Arthur Hollow--Rev. Edgar Brightman Preaches at M. E. Church--Personal Items. Word was received in Mystic Saturday of the death of Mrs. Minnie Hollow at her home in Worcester, she having died suddenly of heart trouble. She was a sister of Mrs. Harry Perry of Water street and was in Mystic on a visit only about three weeks ago. She was born in Mystic and has many friends here. The body was brought to Mystic on Saturday and taken to the home of Mrs. Perry. She leaves her husband and sister, Mrs. Harry Perry. Preached at Methodist Church. At the Methodist church Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Dunnack, who is enjoying his vacation, the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Edgar Brightman, who is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Alfred Baker.

Two Westerly young men, both engaged in the clothing business, and graduates of the Westerly high school, will marry through brides next month in just one week apart. On the first day of September Adam Archie will be married to Miss Leah Connell and on September 7th, Frank Foster Dodge and Miss Annie Atwood will be married. The former wedding will be of the 'quiet home class', but the latter will be the swell event of the season. This marriage will be held in the church, especially decorated for the big event and a reception will be held at the Stonington Manor Inn. The Atwood family is probably one of the wealthiest in the town of Stonington. The Boy the Goat. Friday evening a big motor truck laden with peaches was on the bridge in Pawcatuck and the peaches were being sold at retail. A store man nearby, who pays a tax for doing business in the town of Stonington, objected to the interference in trade as he, too, had peaches for sale. When the store man threatened to have the peach peddlers arrested for doing business without license, the motor truck was rushed over the bridge into Westerly, R. I., just as a Connecticut police officer arrived. A small boy who was helping the peddlers fell off the truck and he was gathered in. Before Judge Hinckley in the town court the boy was charged with peddling without a license after spending the night in a prison cell. On motion of Prosecutor Benjamin Hewitt the case was nolle.

BALTIMIC. Jean Dumas Painfully Burned with Molten Metal--Many at Supper and Festival. Jean Dumas, of this village, who is employed in a foundry in Willimantic, was seriously burned while at his work Friday morning, and is in St. Joseph's hospital in that city. The accident occurred while Mr. Dumas was handling a scoop of molten metal. The boiling fluid was spilled over his head and chest, and as he had only a light shirt on as protection, the burns were very severe. One eye was so badly burned that it is thought he will lose the use of it. His brother, Napoleon, of Baltic went to see him Sunday and reported that he was still suffering very much. In a Few Words. Miss Catherine Remmert of Hartford spent the week-end with local relatives and friends. Miss Helen Courtney of Willimantic was the guest of Miss Rena B. Smith Saturday. Mrs. Joseph Allard of Wauregan spent Sunday with local relatives. John L. Cronin, of Hartsville, R. I. was at his home over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Desjarlais and family have moved from the Barber farm to Main street. John Higginbottom of Plainfield was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Higginbottom, Saturday. Supper and Festival. There was a large attendance at the supper and lawn festival which was held at the old Inmanville Congregational church building, Saturday evening. Supper was served from five to eight o'clock, and the tables were well filled all the time. Different booths under the galleries and along the walls attracted many and a thriving business resulted. During the week previous to the festival a number of partitioners worked faithfully to get things in readiness and it is largely owing to their efforts that the affair was the success it proved to be. Local Notices. Thomas Delaney spent Friday in Northville, Pa., and Young Seavigny have returned from Springfield, Mass., where they spent two weeks vacation with their family. George Heibel, U. S. N., was the recent guest of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown were guests of friends in Westerly, R. I., Sunday. Miss prevented the gala between Westerly and Baltic from being played Sunday. Joseph Dector was the guest of New London friends Sunday.

COLCHESTER. Charles T. Wilson of Worcester has been a Colchester visitor. Walter K. Johnson returned Friday from a few days' visit in Watch Hill and New London. Mrs. M. H. Brown of New York is at his summer home on Broadway for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hudd of Pawcatuck, Pa., who are visiting relatives in town for a few days. Mrs. M. H. Brown of New York is at his summer home on Broadway for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hudd of Pawcatuck, Pa., who are visiting relatives in town for a few days. Mrs. M. H. Brown of New York is at his summer home on Broadway for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hudd of Pawcatuck, Pa., who are visiting relatives in town for a few days.

Enough Said. It will be observed that President Wilson has spent most of the time since Mr. Bryan's resignation in taking a much-needed rest. Ananda's Headache.