First Formal Presentation of The Styles for Autumn

Tuesday ushers in the first formal presentation of the styles for Autumn and Winter. The garments displayed in our Ready-to-Wear Section embody in every line and feature the ideas of those who give to America her fashions. In style, weave and coloring each garment is typical of the best.

COMMENCING TUESDAY.

Your presence is cordially urged.

Westerly Textile Co. Has Water Pump

Addition is a Valuable Auxiliary to the Westerly Fire Department—Big Supply of Granite at Quarry Hill—Grand Jury Impanelled at Kingston Superior Court Session.

The fire pump of the Westerly Textile company in Main street, the heart of the business centre, is a valuable auxiliary to the Westerly fire department, as it is more efficient than either of the steam fire engines and the mill management is ever ready to cooperate with the department by the aid of this powerful pump. There is never less than 50 pounds of steam on the pump, nights and Sundays as well as on the regular work days of the mill. This pump is turned up weekly and is given practical tests once a month. By the use of a check valve in connection with the mill hydrants, the town water can be shut off and the water pumped direct from the Pawcatuck river through the hydrant, or lines of hose may be connected with the big pumping engine.

The monthly test was given the pump on Monday, just to demonstrate that it was in good working order, but no attempt was made to reach the record of pumping which is 1150 gallons of water a minute. The pump is 18x12 and with ease pumped 750 gallons of water a minute in three streams, through two hundred feet of hose each, with 1 1/8 inch nozzles, the pumps working seventy revolutions a minute. With the fire pump always ready for action, and man to operate, and with complete equipment, this mill has very good fire protection. Frederick B. Fowler, president of the Westerly Textile company, has assured Chief Engineer Samuel G. Cottrell that the fire equipment of the mill is at his service whenever it is required.

The supply of granite of high grade seems to be inexhaustible in Quarry Hill, but some of the quarries in other sections of the town of Westerly are nearly depleted of monumental stock. This means a big increase in expense of production, as much more must be expended in clearing the ground and opening up new quarries, and with the chance that the granite may not be of the required standard. While the granite companies on Quarry Hill are doing considerable business, as are some of the concerns located elsewhere there are others that have been doing suspended operations. Monday morning employees of the well known firm of Joseph Newall company, Danbenton's Granite works were notified that the plant was to be practically closed for an indefinite period.

This is the season for the biggest pumpkins, peaches, turnips and garden product generally, and it also seems to be the season for the biggest oyster. Monday morning Alexander Brown took from his oyster bed at Westerly a monster bivalve, the pumpkins on the shell denoting that it was nine years old. It was eleven inches in length, four inches in width, an average thickness of one and one-half inches, and weighed one pound and five ounces. He was telling Saturday of the wonderful fisheries at Westerly and in the course of the fish stories, mentioned the big oysters. Naturally his stories were discredited, whereupon he said he would produce the proof, and he did.

"Uncle Billy" Latham, he who has attended every fair of the New London County Agricultural society, since their inception sixty-one years ago on the Norwich plains, does not confine his visits to the Norwich fair, and he will leave Westerly today for the Rockville fair. In response to a query, Monday, he said: "Yes, I rather like the Norwich fair. I've seen it grow from a smaller start than the Stonington granite fair did five years ago, and grow to be as good as any fair in New England, but perhaps not as big as the Brockton fair. You know I've not much to do, so I take in the fairs, and I meet many old friends at them all. I make it a point to visit each year the Norwich, Kingston, Rockville, Stafford Springs and Brockton fairs, and nearly every day of the fair, but I generally manage to get back to Westerly at night and sleep in my own bed."

In the superior court at Kingston, Monday, Judge Chester W. Barrows presiding, the grand jury was empanelled and given five cases for their consideration. James E. Kennedy of Westerly was excused from the jury as he had served within two years. John C. Tucker, of Charlestown, was appointed foreman.

After the grand jury retired, the motion calendar was called and these cases considered: Ethel E. Laselle vs. Henry I. Laselle, passed; Sarah L. Gardner et al. vs. David Essex, et al., motion to have bill taken as confessed; Sarah K. Watson, et al. vs. David Essex, same action; Jennie Calano vs. Lewis A. Welbel, given one month to furnish surety for costs; Robert S. McKie vs. John M. Magi, set for trial at Westerly session; Henry B. Wheatcroft vs. Franklin K. Lawson, assigned for trial September 28; Natalie Bonvenuto vs. Joseph S. Gella, set for trial at foot of calendar at Westerly session; Nora E. Whitford vs. Rowland B. Palmer, assigned for trial September 28, at Kingston; Edward I. Main vs. Carl Andrews, set for trial Sept. 27, at Kingston; William H. Staplin vs. Grant H. and Roy O. Ames, to be tried at Westerly session. These action at law were assigned for trial at the adjourned session of the court to be held in Westerly: William H. Hiscor vs. John T. Edmond, administrator; Herman B. Bowen vs. Nick Piccolo; Herman P. Walton vs. Peter F. Palmer; Joseph R. Ellard vs. Julius Surace; Alexander McCall vs. Chauncey Delano; Lydia W. Palmer vs. Charles T. James; Mary S. Burdick vs. William A. Wilcox; David Spivey vs. Jean McNeil.

The case of Vernon H. Holberton vs. Frank C. Burdick was assigned for trial at Kingston. George W. Atkinson vs. Ruth M. Vars assigned for first jury day of November session. The grand jury returned an indictment against Rudolph Debardeleben charged with assault and attempt to murder Luigi Pellegrino. On the night of April 1 Debardeleben was invited to the home of Pellegrino and was then ordered out. The latter did not leave the premises but stood at the back door. When Debardeleben came home he was by the front door and shot him. The bullet caused nine punctures of the intestines but did not prove fatal. Debardeleben was arrested in New London week after the shooting. The case is assigned for trial next Wednesday. Indictment was also found against Edmund A. Crosby, 19, charged with manslaughter. He operated the automobile that struck and killed Little Irma Vaslet on the Watch Hill road. Joe Lima was indicted for maintaining a cider nuisance.

Before Judge Nathan B. Lewis of the second district court Monday afternoon the case of the schooner and vessels containing the same at the Kingston fair last Wednesday and Thursday were called. The seized liquor of W. J. Coughlin was taken from an automobile and those of E. A. Powers and Harry Hicks from stands in the midway. After a hearing, no claimant appearing, and Edward S. Burdick, charged with keeping for sale, was continued for two weeks.

Capt. Albert W. Burdick died Saturday afternoon at his home in East Greenwich in the 67th year of his age. He was born in South Kingston and at the age of 15 began his seafaring life and for 47 years he was in active command of vessels in the coastwise trade. He was the last master of the schooner Hannah Blackman, an old-time coaster. His last vessel was the large three-masted schooner, the E. J. McCall of New London. Captain Burdick retired 15 years ago. He is survived by a son, Capt. Albert H. Burdick, of Westerly, a daughter, Mrs. Robert Newberry, of Wickford; also by his second wife and two sons, Wanton Eugene Burdick of Manchester, N. H., and Edward S. Burdick of East Greenwich, R. I.

Local Liaisons. Miss Julia Conant of Yone street has as her guest Miss Genevieve Royce of Willimantic.

The Misquamicott group of Camp Fire Girls returned Sunday evening from week end camp at Pleasant View.

Carl Jaeger, mechanical instructor of the Hampton institute, is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Jaeger.

Arthur D. Swan, who succeeded to the livery business of the late James Welch, has sold his interest to Amos Burdick and Calvin Geer.

Frank H. Crandall has purchased from the estate of Leaster Sauter, the house and lot No. 58 Granite street and with his family will soon reside there.

Mrs. Percy C. Thomas of Rome, N. Y., daughter of the late William Hoxey, for many years town clerk of Westerly, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hoxey in Elm street.

Michael J. Turano of Westerly was one of the 16 who filed application with the clerk of the superior court to take the bar examination at the Providence county courthouse Sept. 19.

Beginning next Monday, and continuing for three days, the annual convention of the Rhode Island Woman's Christian Temperance union will be held in Grace Methodist church, Westerly.

The condition is not encouraging of Frank Martin of Westerly, who was operated upon for appendicitis ten days ago at Memorial hospital, New London. His case was considered serious from the beginning.

STONINGTON

Selectmen's Report Assailed at Annual Town Meeting—Motion of Henry A. Sterry to Receive Report Did Not Prevail.

That there is keen interest in town management was demonstrated by the large attendance at the annual meeting, representing all sections of the town, from Pawcatuck to Mystic, inclusive, and which was held for the first time in the evening. The meeting was held in Borough hall Monday and was called to order by Town Clerk Elias B. Hillier. Benjamin F. Hewitt was chosen moderator.

There were 23 propositions for consideration in the official call, and they were generally managed to get back to every instance there was discussion before final action.

These reports were adopted: Reports of highway commissioner, of the town treasurer, treasurer of town deposit fund, trustees of the Richmond fund, of the school committee, the health officer, the collector and the auditor. The selectmen were authorized to publish their report prior to the town meeting.

The selectmen were authorized to expend a sufficient sum of money to keep the highways and bridges in good repair.

To aid in the annual observance of Memorial day, $50 each was appropriated for Trumbull, Williams and Hancock posts, G. A. R., and $25 for Robert Post, G. A. R.

It was voted to appropriate $360 for the removal of ledges of rock on the city road, east side of Hunckley Hill.

The acceptance of Morton avenue as a public highway for a distance of 208 feet from the center of the Pawcatuck, was continued to the next meeting.

Appropriation was made to provide for a drain pipe from the railroad crossing in the borough to the harbor, in order to drain land that had become a public nuisance and menace to health.

Motion was made that hereafter on election days the polls be opened at 5 in the morning instead of 9 and close at 8 at present. The motion prevailed.

The proposition to remove the inner iron fence of the Pawcatuck bridge, or so much of it as is within the town limits, and to lay concrete sidewalks to conform to those on the Westerly section of the bridge was adopted.

It was voted to pay Arthur G. Wheeler $225, the amount of his claim for the transportation of school children in 1914, and $184.

It was also voted to have the tax list printed in book form for distribution. The selectmen's report, printed and fully audited, as directed by the town vote, was circulated. Jeremiah Purcell asked that the selectmen explain why the contract for building the Vito Point road was awarded to the Vito Construction company for $6,500 when Lewis Dufallo, a Westerly contractor, made a bid to do the work for $2,000 less. Selectman Wilcox said the town had the lesson of awarding a contract to an irresponsible bidder and in this instance the selectmen felt that they believed was for the best interest of the town.

The action of the selectmen was severely assailed by Selma G. G. Beebe and William Loudon and the motion of Henry A. Sterry to receive the selectmen's report did not prevail. The sum of $44,000 was appropriated for school, the same as last year. For highways and bridges $12,000 was voted, which was $3,000 less than in 1914.

Edward Bradley was re-elected a member of the highway commission for three years. Eugene O'Neil resigned as a member of the commission and William Loudon was elected to fill the vacancy for two years. The tax rate for the next year was fixed at 15 mills, and the rate to be paid for collection three-quarters of 1 per cent.

Winsted.—The 44th meeting of the Litchfield county auxiliary, Woman's Board of Missions, will be held in the First Congregational church in Winsted Wednesday.

Husband, Complained of by Wife, Draws Knife on Officer Who Arrests Him—Wife's Whistleman Bitten by Dog.

Boni Macock was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs and to spend 30 days in jail, after a trial in the borough court Monday morning for drawing a knife on Special Officer Kaddy Saturday evening. The judge later suspended the jail sentence. The officer had received a complaint from Macock's wife and was on the way to his house when he met Macock. When the officer attempted to make the arrest, Macock balked and Kaddy says he drew a knife on him. He was taken to the lockup where he remained until Monday morning. Judge Heald imparted some good advice and admonished the accused that further activities of the kind complained of would be more severely dealt with.

The Knights of Columbus will hold their meeting at Society hall this (Tuesday) evening.

Dog Bites Wheelman. William Donlin of Staffordville, while riding a bicycle Saturday afternoon was bitten by a dog belonging to Elmyr M. Chamberlin. As the young man was slowly riding by the animal it grabbed his leg, sinking its teeth in the fleshy part of the leg. The wound was dressed by a local physician.

Mrs. C. E. Butterfield is having a new garage built in the rear of her house on East Main street. The Methodist church will observe Old Home and Rally day next Sunday.

New Method Makes Straight Hair Wavy

(Popular Hygiene.) It has been found that a simple and harmless fluid, well known to the drug trade, has a remarkable action when applied to straight hair, turning it into waves in exquisite waves and curls which have all the appearance of sea naturalness. It has also proved a delightful and beneficial dressing for the hair.

This product is nothing more than ordinary liquid saltpeter, which of course appears on a shelf. A few ounces of it will last a long time. You will enjoy using it, too, not only because there is nothing sticky, greasy or unpleasant about it, but because it is so easy to apply. It is best to brush the hair with the fluid, and then to brush it down with a comb. It will be naturally wavy and curly in the morning, and will not have the usual, so-called look which comes from the use of a hot iron.

NORWICH TOWN

Secretary W. I. Woodin Speaks on Sunday School Work—Rev. Edward S. Worcester and Broadway Church Singers at Sheltering Arms—Mrs. William S. Laighton's 83d Birthday.

At the First Congregational chapel Sunday evening there was an address upon Sunday School Work given by Secretary W. I. Woodin of the State Sunday School association. The earliest Sunday school idea had its birth here, he began. This old New England church is the cradle of the Sunday school in the state. The Sunday school is an educational institution meeting once a week under the direction of the church, engaged in teaching religious truths and training for Christian character and service. On the part of the teacher, four hours should be used in preparation for the one hour of teaching. We must know the environment of the child.

The uniform Sunday school lessons have brought the whole Sunday school world of thirty million together; they give us a world of Sunday school literature, also great commentators. Of all the ministers and missionaries, 85 per cent of them got their first vision in the Sunday school. A New York judge who had sentenced 3,700 boys to the penitentiary said that not one of them had ever been to Sunday school. Four out of five boys and three out of five girls drop out of Sunday school before they are 15. Few get into the church as workers. There is a dearth of teachers. We are in need of trained workers. When we forget ourselves in our Christian work then we find joy in it.

Buyers Lillibridge Farm. Beverly Haven of Washington street has purchased the D. W. Lillibridge farm on Plain Hill.

In a Few Words. Helen Reynolds is taking a classical course in high school. Joseph Prue is taking a commercial course in high school, beginning this year.

Arthur LaMarsh received $5 for first prize at the Berlin fair for the best variety of corn and 50 cents for the most perfect ear.

Robert Stott of Plain Hill is filling silos in different parts of the town.

Charles Rodd of Hanover was the guest Saturday of friends on Otobandod avenue.

Daniel Falvey of Stanton visited at the home of F. W. Barber on Plain Hill over Sunday.

Mrs. Louis Olsen of the Scotland road goes today (Tuesday) to attend the Rockville fair.

During William Smith's absence because of injuries received Saturday, L. A. Fenton is taking his place in the market.

Mrs. May Furtham returned this week to her home on Vergason avenue after two weeks' visit with friends in Mansfield City.

After returning last week from a trip to New York, George LaPan of Ballouville farm is visiting his son, Frederick LaPan, in Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Stott of Otocum have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. David W. Lillibridge of Plain Hill.

Mrs. Harry Beebe of Otobandod avenue meeting will be held Thursday evening of this week at the home of Mrs. Luella Gorman on Otobandod avenue.

Monday was the 83d birthday of Mrs. William S. Laighton. She received pleasant reminders of the anniversary and enjoyed calls from friends.
