HERE IS NEWS
 Big fire last night resulting in serious losses. This is frightful news to a man not insured. How about you? Few men remain uninsured from design. But many keep putting the matter off through carelessness or forgetfulness. How is it with you? Let us insure you today while this reminder is fresh in your mind. The cost will be trifling—the effort little.

CHIEF BENDER FILES SUIT AGAINST FEDERAL LEAGUE.
 Former Mackman Seeks $1,085 Due Him.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23.—Charles A. ("Chief") Bender, a former player with the Philadelphia American League baseball club, who this year played with the Baltimore team of the Federal league, filed suit in court here today against the Federal League of Professional Baseball Clubs, asking judgment for $1,085, which he claims is due him on a contract for his services. In his petition Bender alleges that he signed a contract for two years at $7,500 but, recently was unconditionally released. The Pittsburgh Federal League club and the Buffalo Federal League club playing here today were made the garnishees in the suit and the papers were given to Deputy Sheriff Edward Swartwood, a former National League player, to serve.

New England League Will Hold Special Meeting.
 Boston, Sept. 23.—The New England League of Baseball clubs will hold a special meeting in this city Saturday, President Timothy H. Murane announced today. The future of the league is expected to be discussed.

Leaders Add More Strength.
 Boston and Philadelphia, now believed to be certain pennant winners in the American and National leagues, respectively, fortified themselves more strongly in their positions yesterday by winning double headers. Both teams now have arrived at the stage of the campaign where they can see little of the games remaining on their schedules and yet outdistance their rivals.

W. AND J. PLAYS GOOD FOOTBALL
 Small Pennsylvania College Makes the Big Ones Take Notice of Their Work on the Gridiron—Coach Folwell, "Miracle Man of Football," Says He Has a Fine Bunch of Recruits That He Will Weld Into a Crack Team.

And now, we will train the spotlight upon Washington and Jefferson, the college that has been the mainstay of the winning the undisputed football championship of the east last year.

W. & J. is one of the smaller colleges; in fact it's the smallest college that plays big league football. But for two years it has been one of the very biggest colleges in the east, speaking—in all these United States. Its eleven were the sensations of the football world. Its 1912 team was the greatest scoring machine of that year, and it quit the season with an unbeaten record. Its 1914 machine was almost as powerful offensively, and after beating Yale went through the season suffering only one defeat—a 10 to 9 fluke victory by Harvard.

As to 1915—well, we'll introduce to you Bob Folwell, the "Miracle Man of Football," who wishes to say: "W. & J. ought to have a good team this year. Never saw such a great looking bunch of recruits in my life."

"That's not much for a coach to say but it's a lot for the modest recluse of Gettysburg, Pa., who has two great eleven's with some of the lightest, dullest looking material that ever answered the call of a coach for recruits for his 1913 and 1914 successes.

"Had to do it," is Folwell's explanation. "W. & J. is a small college—only 50 students. That meant only 50 candidates for recruits. My job was to get together a football team—not to complain about the lack of material. But I wasn't the one who turned the trick. It was the players. They were light and green at first—but they developed quickly." W. & J. lost some of its brightest stars through graduation. Spiesler, the 150 pound halfback who was the peer of them all last year, Spiesler, a man faster than any ends who tried to catch him, and a center who few lines could throw back when he hurled his whole power into the plunge. Patterson, a stellar tackle, mythical eleven also was graduated. So were some of the other stars of 1914. But, there is promise that the new comers will fill the voids left by Webecher, who played in the line

last year, will be the regular center, succeeding Cruickshank. McLean, a veteran of three seasons, will be back at guard. Wagoner and Booter, veteran substitutes are waging a hip-and-tuck battle for the other guard position.

Witherspoon, the real "find" of last year, is sure of one of the tackle positions. Keaton, who comes from Detroit where he made a great recovery as a prep school linesman, probably will be the other tackle. Lally, from Niles, Ohio; Lyne from Cambridge, Ohio; Henry from Mansfield, Ohio; Slideman, from Cleveland, and Wimberly, a sub-tackle last year, also are trying for positions in the line.

Gollins, a newcomer from Ohio, is out for one of the flanking jobs. But he has plenty of competition and the selection of the regular ends probably won't be made until after W. & J. has played one or two of its scheduled games. Prominent among the other candidates are: McPherson, P. Drew, A. Fleming and Rose, who were substitutes last year; Jack Bovill, from Detroit, brother of R. Bovill who played at end for three years; Taggart, from New Canaan, Ohio; and Hill, the famous end of the Kiski prep school last year.

There's a large flock of candidates for the quarterback job, including Stobbs, Egan, Moser and Shields, from Greensburg, Pa. Folwell is finding it a big job to make his selection from this quintet of youthful stars.

Ten great looking footballers yearn for the other backfield jobs. Heyman is one of them—and his ambition surely will be realized. He played and last year but will be switched to regular fullback position this year. J. Drew, McCright and Buhle are other substitute veterans who are in the fight for the halfback vacancies. Loughrey and Silva, two newcomers.

Spending a lot of consideration and time on each of the candidates, Folwell played on the Greensburg prep school last year—the team that scored 450 points against 0. And this pair was largely responsible for 450 points. Webecher and his last year's team over a stretch of two seasons; won 92, scored nearly 700 points against 1914. But, there is promise that the new comers will fill the voids left by Webecher, who played in the line

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL MARKET UNSETTLED.
 Caused by Rumors Concerning Status of Anglo-French Credit Negotiations.

New York, Sept. 23.—Uncertainty respecting the status of the Anglo-French credit negotiations, together with some unsettlement in the stock market today. Rumors more or less plausible, but emanating mainly from irregular sources, suggested a disagreement between the contracting parties as to certain fundamentals. Denial of any friction or differences was made later by the commission and resulted in a partial recovery, with investment issues in the van.

Trading was again on a very unusual scale of activity, however, suggesting a million shares, but dealings were under greater restraint in that fluctuations were less violent. In place of the 10 and 20 point advances or declines which characterized recent turbulent sessions, changes rarely exceeded 5 points. There were a few notable exceptions, however. American Motors falling 1 1/2 to 32 1/2. Willys-Overland 6 to 210. Bethlehem Steel 5 to 354 and International Nickel, a new-comer, advanced 10 3/4 to 219 3/4, and closed at 212.

Because of its high price and large overturn of the previous day, the copper advanced 1/2 to 112 1/2. American Woolen, reported to be in receipt of profitable war contracts, added another 4 points and a new high price of 57.

The tone of the bond market was easier, on moderate renewal of European selling. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,160,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.
