RACE DAY POKER'S BURST

Three on Trial in Superior Court—Charge With Attempt on Men Getting on Trolley Car at New London—Detective Was Watching as They Were Working—Prospective Victim Felt Hand in His Pocket. Three men, Max Fugenburg, Joseph Green and Abraham Specker, all of New York, were on trial in the superior court here all day Thursday, charged with an attempt to operate as pickpockets in New London on a trolley car last June. The principal witness against them was a Providence detective who testified that he watched the pickpocket attempt from the time one of the trio gave the signal to go to work until the intended victim spotted the game by making a grab at his pocket in which he had felt the hand of one of the three.

Pending the trial two of the men have stayed in jail since their arrest on last race day in New London, but the other has been out on bonds. Their attorney Thursday was G. Curtis Morgan, while State Attorney Hull was assisted by Attorney George Thayer of New London. Judge William H. Williams presided and the following jury was chosen for the trial: Charles M. Dimes, W. H. Baker, Julius A. Brand, Norwich; Charles C. Zabriske, Preston; William C. Sherman, Colchester; George Moler, Griswold; George H. Dimon, Lebanon; E. M. Maine, Prang; H. Babcock, North Stonington; Nelson L. Stark, Bozrah; George A. Kennedy, Lebanon; Albert G. Brown, Voluntown.

The first witness was John C. Haran, a Providence detective. Haran said that he knew Fugenburg, but he did not know the other two men. He testified that about noon on last race day he saw the three men standing at the corner of State and Main streets in New London, getting on a trolley and discharged and took on passengers. Among the 75 or more passengers who boarded the car was a man with a suit case. He was among the three men when he saw Fugenburg nod his head toward the man getting on the trolley and the trio crossed the street and approached the car. Green and Fugenburg got on each side of the man and grabbed handles of the car with the evident intention of hindering the man from getting on the running board. Specker, who was behind, raised the man's coat. The man evidently suspected that an attempt was being made to get into his pocket, dropped his suit case and remonstrated with the three men.

The trio separated immediately, but they met again in Main street at the Savings Bank of New London. The witness then went down toward the railroad station where he met Henry H. Jarvis, a street car conductor, testified, and further testimony as to the arrest and the action of the three men was given by W. M. Kane and Robert C. Karney, of Providence, New Haven road detectives. One of these said he saw the three men get off a train that day that came into the New London station from the way of New York. They saw him looking at them and he thought they were going to get on the trolley. He saw them get on the trolley and he saw them get off at New London when they heard there was to be a boat race there. However, no railroad tickets were found on them when they were arrested.

It is understood that the state police have taken up the record of the three men and have found that they are credited with the authorities there with being crooks who are known as "touch" and "pick" pockets. He has been in the custody of Probation Officer Mansfield. He is 13 years of age and the girl in the case is 15 and lives in Ledyard, where the state policeman last summer has been out under bonds of $1,000. He is represented by a New York lawyer, who was in town Thursday and also Attorney Burrows of New London.

After the court adjourned on Wednesday afternoon, State Attorney Hull brought the case of the witness des Stierlieb adultery case in his room in order to question them, but the case was not brought up on Thursday. This is the case in which a New York woman was accused of adultery, but the man concerned in the case has made the claim that he was offered $150 to be a witness in a questionable circumstance with the woman. She denies any guilt.

MOTORMAN DISCHARGED. Leon I. Keach Was in Accident at New London Street Corner. Manager Samuel Anderson of the New London lines of the Connecticut company, has rendered his decision in the accident that took place at the corner of State and Main streets in New London a week ago, when a rear end collision occurred, resulting in injuries to several passengers and extensive damage to the cars. Motorman Leon I. Keach, who was at the controller of the colliding car has been discharged. Notice of the finding was received by Keach's discharge was received by Keach on Wednesday afternoon.

It is understood that the finding showed that Keach operated his car at an extremely reckless speed and that the motorman was guilty of gross carelessness and negligence. The accident occurred on Friday night. Two cars were being operated from Ocean avenue to the parade and Keach was running the second car. The first car had stopped at the corner of State and Main streets, and it was crashed into by the second car, which had made the trip through Bank street at a reckless rate of speed. Keach's excuse for the fast speed was that he was attempting to make up for lost time.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. The Paramount feature on the bill for Wednesday and Thursday at the Auditorium theatre was 'The Girl of the Golden West', which ranks among the best western pictures that have been brought to Norwich by the management. The scene of the story is laid far out in the mountain ranges, and centers around a typical road-side saloon kept by a greedy and fearless western girl. She fell in love with a road agent for whom a $5,000 reward was offered, not suspecting his identity. The sheriff, who was also a gambler of note, was informed by a jealous Spanish girl that the man was the much sought agent. A man who had been following her followed without result and the sheriff accidentally discovered his man hiding in the girl's cabin. He himself was shot and the sheriff suggested that they play a game of poker, she for the freedom of the man she loved and for the girl's hand. He cut the scene with a better day, and brought happiness to the brave and the man she won. The title role was admirably carried by Mabel Van Dusen who was backed up by House Peters and a large cast.

The 18th episode of 'The Broken Coin' and a travel picture were the other numbers on the programme. Alaskan waters produce 80,000,000 salmon yearly.

Notice from the secretary of state's office has been received at the local police headquarters that the automobile license of Edward Plontkowsky of this city has been suspended for ten days following a hearing by the secretary. Mr. Plontkowsky was concerned in an automobile accident on Sept. 6 in the vicinity of Jewett City in which the car of Alfred A. Freedy of Pawtucket was slightly damaged. The secretary of state found that Mr. Plontkowsky was in too much of a hurry to pass 30 feet and failed to make himself known after the accident.

GYMNASIUM BUILDING FOR WOMAN'S COLLEGE. Was Staked Out Thursday—Tennis Courts in Use.

The Women's college gymnasium building at New London was staked out Thursday morning. The site of the tennis court, the building which is to be the very latest in style and construction, will have glass on three sides, which can be thrown open, making an open air court. On the fourth side will be dressing rooms and the office of the instructor, which will be heated. The building is to be 40 by 60 feet, a one-story concrete building, enough for the use of the college at the present time. The tennis courts were used for the first time Thursday, Miss Woodhull, instructor in the gymnasium, drilled some of the students in the game, as tennis is required as part of the work in this course.

Work on the hockey field was commenced also on Thursday, clearing dirt rocks and stones within a four foot surface and the grading of the ground. It is expected that the field will be ready for use by the first of the week.

MEMORIAL TABLE FOR CAPT. JOHN MASON. Erected by C. G. Eldridge at the Old Camping Spot.

In Trumbull's history of the discovery of America, printed in Norwich in 1812, he says, "the existence of Connecticut was to be determined by the result of a battle between Mason and the Pequots." In commemoration of this very important struggle and Mason's victory, Charles Eldridge has erected a memorial table three feet by eight on the west side of his house lot in Old Mystic, adjoining the highway. On this tablet are inscribed the names of May 25, 1637, Captain John Mason, near here crossed the Mystic river going to Forter's Rocks, 30 rods S. W. camping there, and during morning des the fort and exterminated the tribe of Pequot Indians.

COMMISSIONERS ADOPT CLUB LICENSE APPLICATION. Decide Upon Form That is to Be Used.

The county commissioners of the state have decided upon a form of application for liquor licenses for clubs, under the law passed by the legislature of 1915, which goes into effect Nov. 1. The commissioners will give a hearing on each application that is filed and will make investigation as to the suitability of the club before the application for license is granted. The form of application that has been adopted in the state is as follows: Club Certificate Application No. To the Board of County Commissioners of Hartford County: The Association, Club, Society, acting by Vice President Secretary, Treasurer, Chairman Board of Governors, House Committee duly authorized by vote of said Association, Club, Society, hereby apply for a Club Certificate to entitle it to have in its possession and dispense to its members, spirituous and intoxicating liquors as an incident to its social life, under the provisions of Chapter 296, Acts of 1915, at the quarters of said Association, Club, Society, located at Street, Town of Dated this day of 1915. PROTECTING ANIMALS. State Humane Society Has Kept Eye on the Various Fairs.

Reports received at the office of the Connecticut Humane society from field agents throughout the state who have been attending the fairs indicated an unwelcome activity in the protection of animals from inhumane treatment and in the education of individuals along lines of kindness and humaneness. It is a regular part of the fair work undertaken by the society to follow the fairs and extend a protecting hand not only to working stock, but to animals on exhibition as well. According to Miss Mary Lalley, secretary of the society, the organization, through its field agents, has put a stop to the practice of supplying ducks as targets for rifle practice in prize contests which have netted concessionaries rich returns in the past. Also while it has not been found necessary to destroy any stock at the fairs this year, much has been accomplished for their protection through warning to careless or deliberately cruel drivers and once any stock has been necessary to intervene in the races themselves, usually when chain whips or other cruel goods were used. In gulling tests for prize money have also been forced to interfere with certain inordinate demands made upon the animals.

THE PORTOUS & MITCHELL CO. VOGUE OF FUR TRIMMINGS. This to Be a Great Season For Bands of Fur on Coats and Suits—Some Striking Examples.

Some particularly beautiful furs are shown at the openings this week. Many coats and sets in fur have been purchased by women who like to have an early choice of the season's goods. Hudson seal is extremely popular this fall. There is a big demand also for fox, lynx, fish, skunk, opossum, mink and for touches of ermine on dressy furs. Fur trimming for suits is strong, no matter what the material or cut of the suit. One to which attention was called yesterday was an elegant suit in black hifon broadcloth, having the well liked plain skirt, the coat in Russian tulle, with scalloped edges, wide belt and trimming of fox fur. Very smart was a copy of an important suit, developed in this instance in a light blue broadcloth. This was 'tolly' trimmed with embroidered bands, the same embroidery adorning the collar and cuffs. The skirt was a plain, dark material and there were fancy buttons for finish. An effective combination in a suit developed in this instance in a light blue broadcloth. The coat was cut blouse style and the skirt flared with a few side plaits. 'Trape' was the hint of a smart tailored suit in English mixture, its skirt with the new side pockets, the coat also having natty patch pockets. Suits, coats, waists and dresses, the latest put on the market by designers here and abroad, await your inspection and choice just now. Why not select when choosing is a delight and a satisfaction? Read the fashion hints offered today by The Bulletin's advertisers, as an aid to your purchasing!
