SHOWS THE WORK OF TOWN'S SCHOOLS. 33rd Annual Report is issued—90 Page Pamphlet.

The third annual report of the public schools of Norwich has been issued and ready for distribution, copies having been placed at the town clerk's office where they can be secured. On the opening pages are a list of the members of the town school committee, the officers, the standing committee, the school calendar, the school session, and the no-school signals.

Part I is devoted to the educational survey of the largest of the larger with the report of Superintendent of Schools, Edward J. Graham. In the conclusion of his report Mr. Graham says: The school year has been marked by no radical change in system or policy. The cooperation of the various departments of the system with the committee and the teachers has given us a year of harmonious and progressive school activity.

I take pleasure in calling attention to the special reports appended. Progress in our schools will continue as long as we have the active support of the people, the cooperation of the public press, and the interest of teachers and parents. I wish to express my appreciation for the courteous treatment, hearty cooperation and generous support which I have received from the entire staff of the school system.

There are also reports of the supervisor of drawing, Mary G. Henderson; supervisor of music, Mary E. Rogers; supervisor of domestic science, Grace P. Rogers; supervisor of manual training, Gordon A. Harvie; report of the evening school by Helena E. Coughlin, and a special report on vocational education prepared by the superintendent under the direction of the school committee. Part 2 is devoted to statistics, and Part 3 to teachers, janitors and text books. In the book are excellent pictures of the manual training wood-working class and the domestic science cooking class.

The report is an attractively arranged 90-page pamphlet which has been issued from The Bulletin's job room.

BUILDING PLAN GAINS HEADWAY
In Meeting of 75 Enthusiastic Business Men—Teams Formed to Push Systematic Campaigns—New Subscriptions Received—Determined to Bring Campaign to Successful Conclusion Within a Week.

New impetus of the kind that promises an early success for the raising of the stock subscriptions for the building company that is to be organized to erect dwellings to take care of the housing situation, resulting in future employees coming here for the Hopkins & Allen Arms company was given at a committee meeting held at 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms in the Thayer building.

Seventy-five men were present at the meeting, occupying all the available seating room, when John J. Corkery, who had been made general chairman of the campaign, addressed the meeting in an emphatic way upon what an important undertaking this is to be for this community.

He had had some experience, he said, and a great deal of advice about the way to proceed. With such enthusiasm for this campaign, the enthusiasm that comes through faith in the work we have in hand, the spirit of fair-mindedness by the Hopkins & Allen people, who had been willing to meet the Norwich business men at any point and on any terms, the organization of $50,000 for the building company, which was available for use as a down payment on the houses, that the majority are right, but when they decide unanimously it seems impossible to the contrary.

In the Thayer campaign three years ago, when $75,000 was raised, many said that it could not be done in a short time. It was shown to be a wrong. Every succeeding day something is done that was said to be impossible the day before.

He felt, he said, that this matter of providing satisfactory housing accommodations for the employees of the Hopkins & Allen company was so important as far as the business future of the city is concerned as anything that has been presented to the attention of the citizens of Norwich. The Hopkins & Allen company will eventually employ about 1,500 hands, will bring about 1,000 new hands to the city, and at least 500 new families. The question naturally arises among the members of the committee, what are we going to do with them? I feel sure, and you feel sure, that we are housing them all wrong. Every succeeding day something is done that was said to be impossible the day before.

In our canvass we are confronted with the inquiry whether the making of plans will be permanent. It is the opinion of the people who have given the most thought to this is worth anything it will be permanent at least for five years. It is the opinion of the people who ought to know most about this are wrong about the duration of the run-down business. The knowledge of the men at the head of this concern is not confined to the making of plans. It is practical and machine of ability and they know how to do things. Consider for a minute the investment they will have made in the city. It is the opinion of the people who have now or in the future. The best asset they will have is one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six, eighty-seven, eighty-eight, eighty-nine, ninety, ninety-one, ninety-two, ninety-three, ninety-four, ninety-five, ninety-six, ninety-seven, ninety-eight, ninety-nine, one hundred.

SETTLEMENT IN GILBERT TRANSPORTATION CO. AFFAIRS. Indicated by Court Order Made by Judge Thomas.

Stockholders of the Gilbert Transportation company, which was organized in 1908, and a special report on vocational education prepared by the superintendent under the direction of the school committee. Part 2 is devoted to statistics, and Part 3 to teachers, janitors and text books. In the book are excellent pictures of the manual training wood-working class and the domestic science cooking class.

Judge Edwin S. Thomas, of the United States court, has made an order authorizing J. A. McKeown, Daniel Noyes, George W. Carroll, William A. Somers, Albert Boardman, C. Edward Smith, James L. Case, Herbert R. Branche, Otto E. Wolf and John J. Corkery.

It is expected that the charter can be received by Saturday. The organization of the company will not take place until after the money subscribed has been paid in.

MERCHANTS' WEEK PLANS PROCEEDING WELL. Organization Committee Ready to Report This Morning.

Through the active work that has been put in by the committee on organization for Merchants' Week, it will be possible to have a meeting this morning at 10 o'clock in the Board of Trade rooms in the Thayer building where all the merchants who have signed their intention of participating in Merchants' Week will be expected to be present and others who may have inadvertently been overlooked in the canvass will be welcomed.

Other committees are to be appointed and further details towards the planning of the week will be discussed so that the meeting will be of importance to all who are to cooperate towards the success of the plan, which already bids fair to succeed in good measure the success that has attended the previous observances of Merchants' Week.

STOP DUMPING INTO SHETUCKET RIVER. At Rose Alley Dock—Major Pillsbury Has Had Complaints.

Acting on a suggestion from Major G. B. Pillsbury of the corps of engineers, the district engineers office at New London, Mayor T. C. Murphy is to see that there shall be no more dumping of refuse matter into the Shetucket river in the vicinity of the Rose Alley dock.

Major Pillsbury wrote the mayor that the dumping of refuse into the Shetucket river is a matter of complaint through letters about this dumping of refuse material into the river. Investigation has been made but not sufficient to warrant a prosecution under the laws for the preservation of the navigable waters of the United States. This dumping is objectionable both from a sanitary and a property owners in the vicinity and in a cumulative way on the maintenance of the channels in the river.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO GET DIVORCE EVIDENCE. Trial Begun in Superior Court Here—Hyman Pollock, One of Accused, Testifies for State.

In the superior court here on Thursday morning, with Judge William H. Williams presiding, the trial was started in the case in which Louis Sternlieb, Samuel Golomb and Hyman Pollock are charged with conspiracy.

Pollock has been in jail since he was arrested in the early morning of Feb. 9th in the apartments of Mrs. Dora Sternlieb at No. 39 Water street, while the other two men were taken into custody on bench warrants on Wednesday and gave bail in $1,000 each.

The information charges that Louis Sternlieb, husband of Dora Sternlieb, being desirous of obtaining witnesses to testify falsely that Dora Sternlieb was guilty of adultery, did conspire with Hyman Pollock and Samuel Golomb, both of Norwich, to procure and enable Louis Sternlieb to obtain in form and fraud of law witnesses to testify that Dora Sternlieb was guilty of adultery and conspiracy.

Enthusiastic applause greeted his words, and he was followed by Robert W. Robinson, C. S. Sargent, Walter H. King, of the Board of Trade, President William H. Cruickshank of the Chamber of Commerce, G. D. Noyes, George W. Carroll and H. B. Branche.

Additional Subscriptions. Reports were made that additional subscriptions since the last meeting had increased that made the total individual subscriptions now reach $74,000.

George W. Carroll, who had taken five $100 shares had increased this to ten. J. J. Corkery had taken one share, W. E. Peckham, J. W. Wutcher, one, C. B. Holbrook two, E. C. Madden three.

Others who spoke in a particularly encouraging way were Frank H. Crozier, Mayor of Norwich, President Frank J. King of the Board of Trade, President William H. Cruickshank of the Chamber of Commerce, G. D. Noyes, George W. Carroll and H. B. Branche.

Accused Man Testifies. Hyman Pollock one of the accused, was next brought to the stand and gave his testimony through Attorney Herman A. Wolf, 2nd, as interpreter.

He said that he had worked for the Sternlieb concern in their clothing factory for about a year and that he was approached by Louis Sternlieb with a proposition that he should get into Mrs. Sternlieb's apartments as he had been told by her that she had been having trouble with her wife on Monday night, which was Feb. 8th.

Max Sternlieb, father of Louis Sternlieb, testified that the witness with his wife and children saw Golomb in the shop that night. A line of questions that the state attorney took up was objected to by attorneys Perkins and Geary and the jury was excused while the state attorney explained to the court what he meant to do to prove a conspiracy to get a divorce.

Upon resuming examination of Max Sternlieb, this witness testified that Louis Sternlieb and a man named Goldberg were in the shop all that night up to the time of the breaking into the apartment and Golomb was upstairs in his room.

The state attorney asked the witness if the witness had not told the attorney the other day that Golomb threw a glass bottle down on the pavement. The state attorney also questioned whether this was not a signal and the witness gave answers so that Judge Williams said an interpreter had better be used.

Attorney A. Wolf called attention to his capacity and the witness through him said that Golomb told Sternlieb that he threw a bottle of medicine down and then Golomb threw down some potatoes because he couldn't come down and because they weren't sleeping together he wanted the people to know that Golomb was in the room.

Mr. Sternlieb was asked if they listened to the store that night to see if they could hear anything going on upstairs. He said they did, but said he didn't hear anyone walking on the roof.

Court adjourned at 4:30 o'clock till the next morning at 10 o'clock to resume the trial.

EXPRESSMAN'S WAGON HIT BY AUTOMOBILE. Philip Barry's Outfit Demolished—He is Slightly Hurt.

While crossing the trolley tracks in front of the Davenport building on West Main street at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the express wagon driven by Philip Barry was struck by the automobile owned and driven by Sylvester P. Kelly, cashier of the express wagon crossing from the bridge near Yonkers, N. Y. Mr. Barry and Joseph Kelly, who accompanied him, were thrown from the wagon, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

Traffic Officer Michael Carroll requested Mr. Kelly to report at police headquarters, which he did, but Acting Chief Twomey found no reason for holding the driver and he was allowed to proceed to his home.

Mr. Kelly stated that he was passing through West Main street en route to Putnam when he encountered the express wagon. He was driving to the right of the highway. He was making an effort to pass another team when a collision occurred and the collision was purely accidental. The express wagon was badly damaged.
