

I should have you in my store today.

WHY?

Because I have SOMETHING for everybody. There is hardly a fruit, meat, poultry or vegetable but what you can have, and as I announced last week, YOU will share in the savings I have made by moving to my new location.

The cleanest and prettiest market in Norwich.

Somers' reputation with a great many seems to stand for "THE BEST OF EVERYTHING, BUT RIGHT IN PRICE."

NOW, We want the public to actually know Somers, and know him for quality, variety and fair dealing.

My clerks are instructed to give every person service, and should anything go wrong or displease, Somers is always ready to adjust.

Therefore, let it be revealed in the minds of the public what the name SOMERS stands for.

Come, See the Market.

FEWER DEATHS IN STATE IN SEPTEMBER

Total Was 1,478—Board of Health Recommends School Inspection.

According to mortality reports received by the state board of health, there were 1,478 deaths in Connecticut during the month of September. This was 130 less than in August and 47 less than in September of 1914. There were more than the average number of deaths during September for the five years preceding.

The death rate expressed as an annual rate per 1,000 estimated population was 14.1 for the large towns, for the small towns 13.5, and for the whole state, including state institutions, 14.5. The deaths from infectious diseases were 163, being 10.2 per cent. of the total mortality.

The importance of school inspection by the health authorities is emphasized in the monthly bulletin of the board. The bulletin points out that about one-third of the population of given communities is congregated in the schools each day, and says:

"The public officer whose duty it is to protect the health and lengthen the lives of the people in any town should be vitally interested in the schools."

"Medical inspection is concerned with the prevention of contagious diseases and the discovery and correction of physical defects which serve to retard the progress of the municipality."

"Health instructions should be something more than the bare facts of anatomy or physiology; it should convey to the mind the principles of the science of hygiene, and the measures used to protect others. The formation of hygienic habits is the end to be sought in health instruction. Such habits can be more effectively formed if the child's surroundings are first made hygienic and his physical handicaps removed."

"The bulletin says that the school nurse has proven herself one of the most effective forces in bringing the removal of physical defects, through her visits to the homes of the pupils she will in a large proportion of cases detect and remove them, and intelligent help of the mother."

BRIDGEPORT MAN DEAD IN BATHROOM

REACHES 75TH ANNIVERSARY Central Baptist Church Will Celebrate Three Quarters of a Century of History—Organized Sept. 14, 1840, With 37 Constituent Members—Has Membership Now of 743—Former Pastors and Members Will Return for Three Day Celebration.

Brought back by their desire to participate in the anniversary services of the Central Baptist church, which will begin this (Saturday) evening a three-day programme that will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its organization, former members now in other cities, and the only living former pastor, will come here today and unite with the church members in observing the happy event.

Rev. P. C. Wright of Philadelphia, whose pastorate immediately preceded that of the present pastor, Rev. Joel B. Slocum, D. D., is to return for the celebration, while two other pastors who will have prominent parts in the programme are Rev. Clarence M. Gallup, D. D., of Providence, and Rev. M. Joseph Twomey of Newark, N. J., both former members of the church, who are including the ministry and were ordained in this, their first church home.

Repairs and refinishing in the church that have been going on through the summer have been completed and the reopening of the auditorium for services will be one part of the anniversary celebration. It has been completely refurnished, a new carpet has been laid, the roof has been repaired and other repairs made that put this part of the edifice in perfect order.

The formation of a social union, that began on Sept. 14, 1840, with 37 constituent members, and Rev. Minner G. Clark as pastor, in the 75 years 11 different pastors, including the present pastor, have served it, and it now has a membership of 743. The present church edifice has been occupied since it was dedicated in 1872 by Rev. J. D. Herr, D. D., on Oct. 14, 1892.

Plans for the present anniversary celebration have been arranged under the direction of a general committee comprising Shepard B. Palmer, Allyn L. Brown and Arthur H. H. Mitchell, with the aid of numerous sub-committees and begin with a reception at the church tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. During the reception hour there will be music by Swann's orchestra, and the church has been decorated with autumn leaves.

Those who will receive will be Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Slocum, Rev. and Mrs. M. Joseph Twomey and Dr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Gallup. The evening is meant to be of a social nature than a formal character for the church membership and those in the congregation.

The following are the programmes that have been arranged for Sunday and Monday:

10:30 a. m. Sunday. Organ, Doxology, Invocation, Psalm 23, Hymn, How Firm a Foundation, Scripture, Anthem, I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me, Let Us Go into the Wilderness, Dr. E. H. Brophy, Dr. J. W. Callahan and Dr. Harper.

First Selection: Casper K. Bailey is now giving his entire time to the duties of his office and has established office hours from 9 a. m. till noon and from 2 to 4 p. m. each week day and till noon on Saturdays. Miss Nellie Harrington, who is bookkeeper in the tax collector's office, is temporarily acting as clerk for First Selectman Bailey, who has turned over his business to a foreman.

NEEDLESS CALL FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT Boys Had a Bonfire in Yard at Rear of 312 Franklin Street.

At 5:45 o'clock Friday afternoon the autochemical and Chemical Co. No. 3 responded to a telephone call for a small blaze in the rear of No. 312 Franklin street. Boys had started a bonfire and were burning barrels, when someone thought the services of the firemen were needed to extinguish the flames and sent in the call. A stream of chemical from the auto put the fire out in short order. The call was needless as the fire was in the yard away from the building and could easily have been extinguished.

With South Manchester Concern. Alfred Hough, who for the past few months has been employed by the W. W. Keen company, has entered the employ of the J. W. Hale company of South Manchester, and will take up his new duties in a few days. Forging Register.

ASKED POSTPONEMENT OF CHARLTON TRIAL

Como, Italy, Oct. 15, 155 p. m.—Miccili Picardi, counsel for Portes Charlton, the young American accused of murdering his wife at Lake Como, has again asked for a postponement of Charlton's trial on the murder charge, as the attorney has not had sufficient time to study the case, having been indisposed in Rome.

For this reason it is possible that on Monday next the court will simply postpone the trial to later date, the postponement of October 25 having been suggested.

There Are

Hats such as Dick Turpin, of highway fame, might have worn with propriety—provided that you will grant that he could do a proper thing.

There are hats which will represent in an unmistakable way, almost every nation which is now at war—almost every thing from Hindoo Turban to Scotch Bannet, via Italy and Russia.

Even Mexico is brought to mind by a stunning sombrero, like sailor with soft-wool propensities.

There are tall hats, short hats, big hats, little hats. There are hats which are as sober as an early Puritan and some that have a little spice of wickedness—the clever kind—peeping out at you. There's a hat for every woman.
