A RIGHT ABOUT FACE.

It is impossible to overlook the change which has taken place at Washington the past year. It is well remembered how in his last annual report Secretary Garrison of the department of war made a number of important recommendations in connection with those which had been made by his predecessors for the strengthening of the army.

HOW AUSTRALIA FEELS.

As far as known Australia has not been consulted as to the manner in which any of the campaigns of the allies should be conducted. It has nevertheless furnished funds, vessels and men, the latter in large numbers for the carrying on of the conflict.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Whether it is Mexico or Turkey, there is no lack of methods of committing atrocities. There are days in October which run a close second to that much talked about day in June.

VIOLATING INTERNMENT.

That they are tired and sick of the inactivity which accompanies internment following the strenuous days during an earlier period of war, unquestionably expresses the feelings of the Germans on auxiliary cruisers Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich, but that nevertheless is not a sufficient excuse for any of the crew or officials to attempt to break their parole.

due advantage of the liberties which are allowed them, but it does call for strict obedience to the terms of the understanding that they shall remain here until the end of the war.

Such acts as the reported attempt to ship on a freighter or disrespects for length of time allowed for such offenders, but it is reason enough for stiffening the restrictions and for bringing about such orders the few are causing the many to suffer, even though no such acts might be contemplated by the other members of the interned party.

A BIRD REFUGE. Through its laws, the establishment of a state game preserve, propagation and the distribution of various birds Connecticut is doing much for their preservation, but it can be appreciated that the plan of E. C. Converse to build a model bird refuge on his big estate near Stamford is a move in the half of the century which calls for much commendation.

When a little tomato sauce is left over, try cooking an egg in it. Season with cayenne and Worcestershire sauce. The tomatoes should be boiled when the egg is dropped.

WHEN THINGS FADE. A powder comes for the purpose of restoring faded color to thin fabrics without dyeing them. It is a little pasted box in all the light colors—lavender, pink, blue, ecru and other pastel shades.

TO REMOVE SCORCHING. When a garment is scorched with too hot an iron, all traces of it may be quickly removed by dampening the scorched place with peroxide of hydrogen, then press and place where sun may shine on it.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY. New milk, skimmed milk and butter-milk all have a general emollient effect upon the skin.

Light hair that has a tendency to become oily is only aggravated by frequent washings. A hairdresser declares that rubbing into the scalp a strong solution of salt and water and then drying in the sun will leave the hair light and fluffy.

There are many lotions and remedies for pimples, but the best advice for this condition is to be careful of the diet, avoid many sweets and frequent indulgence in rich food and pastries. Include plenty of greens and fruit in your diet, drink water freely and do not nibble sweets between meals and at bedtime.

Pineapples should never be overlooked as a food, for they are one of the best of the many foods for building up and giving tone to the system. One cannot have a natural, clear complexion where stomach trouble or indigestion exists, but if pineapples will vanish, the above trouble will vanish; they may be eaten for breakfast, luncheon or dinner.

When the best and happiest housekeeper knows to the writer was asked to tell the secret of her speed in householding, she replied: "I never iron with a cold iron, but with a hot one, or go to my kitchen to prepare a meal without a clean small hand towel pinned to my apron belt on one side and a similar dish towel pinned on the other. Try it, and you will be surprised to see how much time and how many extra steps you will save."

TO CLEAN WHITE HATS. The white felt hat is much in evidence this summer, but its beauty is gone when it becomes soiled. To clean it, brush it thoroughly with a soft clean brush; then take some flour which has been dried in a slow oven, mix it with bread crumbs and rub into the felt with your hands.

Wool embroidery and odd fur trimmings are features. Many coats are high waisted either in back or front. Broad striped coats are worn for sports over white dresses.

Anti-German riots in London. President Bismarck's country house destroyed by Germans.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

All the strips of fat left from a steak should be left in a dish and tried out in the oven. They will make excellent fat for frying.

Large patterns in tablecloths are less economical than small ones, for the simple reason that the long threads break sooner than the short ones.

A left-over of mashed potatoes can be made into a cupful of good soup with the addition of milk, a bit of butter and some celery salt.

A little ironing board with a cretonne case is an excellent thing for women who travel, as it can be put into the trunk with the electric iron.

Old rubberized raincoats can be cut up to make cases for rubbers or slippers. Also to cover the bottom of a trunk when laundry is sent away from home.

THE HOUSEWIFE.

A skirt of white voile lifted at the side discloses ever so many fluffy white net ruffles.

Sleeves flare at the wrist. They are gathered into a band or they may be shirred, to the elbow.

Very full sleeves of white tulle, caught into a cuff at the wrist, add a note of aliveness to a costume.

Jersey scarfs in wide stripes are used about the neck and as girdles with white morning frocks.

Sleeves on some of the new evening frocks are no more than little ruffles, sometimes of tulle edged with beaded and sometimes held out with a flexible wire at the lower edge.

The velvet sport coat, with plaid skirt is popular get-up for informal wear this autumn.

The evening cap, first used in Paris, is notable in gowns—gowns for country wear, of course.

WORTH KNOWING. How to do up lace or net curtains and have them the same color as when new is something of a problem.

USE OF RIBBON IN CORSETS. Not for many years has ribbon been employed for forming corsets, and when last it was popular it formed the girdles, the young girls and women with slight figures adopted.

Instead of pencil, use a coarse darning needle to make the perforations in a linen or percale frock. In this way you can mark both sides at once, and will have no unsightly pencil marks to erase when the dress is made.

TO KEEP A PLACKET FROM TEARING. Fasten the top or bottom hook and eye with a small piece of wire. It cannot come unhooked, cannot tear or rip, and saves the strain on the goods just below the placket at the spot where the material is weakest.

Have a pair of tweezers at hand to aid in pulling threads out of the scalloped edges worked in button-hole in color. The scallops are either cut out or they are simulated by the colored thread.

HOME MADE TOWELS. A pad has developed among fastidious women for making their own towels. They buy for the purpose fine French linens or good quality German huck for general family use.

MATCH HANGINGS. The latest idea in bedroom furnishing is to have the comforters match the window hangings.

ADD SASSAFRAS OIL. When washing articles in gasoline pour in a few drops of oil of sassafras, about five drops to a quart of gasoline.

THE WAR A YEAR AGO TODAY. Severe fighting near Nieupoit and in Alsace. Germans repulsed by Belgians at River Yser and by French at St. Die.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. The Object of the Serbian Campaign. Mr. Editor: In your editorial in the issue of Oct. 14th, entitled "The Drive into Serbia," I notice that you say in regard to Greece and Rumania, "Both of these countries know that if they are going to profit from the war, they are going to be through the success of the entente allies."

OTHER VIEW POINTS. After all in this country, as in all other countries, real prosperity is based on good crops rather than on the feverish antics of speculative securities. The one endures, while the other...
