W. U. T. WORKMEN HALTED.
Not Permitted to Use Abutment of Footbridge or Curb as Guy for Pole.
A gang of workmen, employed by the Western Union Telegraph company, had a run-in with the city authorities Thursday morning when they ran a reel of steel cable across the north abutment of the foot bridge and through the iron work as a guy for a 60 foot pole being set up on the railroad property about 30 feet away from the bridge. Mayor Dunn saw the men working and forced them to stop until Aldermen Graves and Jacobs arrived, when it was decided that neither the bridge nor the curb, which the men suggested as an alternative, could be used for this purpose. superior court in this city, an action for damages for an alleged assault in the latter's saloon on the night of May 18, 1914. The case was heard by Judge Webster and William S. Johnston. One hundred and twenty-three votes were cast, Mr. Graves receiving 59, Mr. Webster 12, and Mr. Johnston 50. The choice was made unanimous.
For second alderman at large, A. L. Gellinas was nominated by Nelson Daniels and was unanimously selected.
Arthur D. Chaffee was unanimously selected for city clerk and treasurer, and Frank L. Fowell nominated by L. B. Lincoln for city sheriff.
For assessors, Alphonse Chagnon, nominated by A. L. Gellinas, and Frank Larrabee, nominated by C. F. Risendorf, were chosen.
Charles L. Boss was placed in nomination for auditor by C. F. Risendorf, and Clay W. Burnham by city Westershead. The latter received $6 out of 180 votes, and the choice was made unanimous.
William S. Congdon, chairman of the city committee, was selected for the same position by a viva voce vote. The chairman then called for a few remarks from the nominee for mayor, George F. Taylor.

George F. Taylor, who was greeted with applause as he came forward, said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see the city committee members here. We are not carrying it on as we would a private business. It costs too much to run. But much of the expense is fixed and cannot be made more economical. It is a problem to know what to do with our streets and our ice plant. How can we get a better return out of them? If elected, I will give my best service to the city."
After empowering the city committee to fill vacancies, the meeting adjourned and the fourth ward caucuses were held with the following results:
First ward—A. L. Gellinas, chairman; H. T. Burr, clerk. Nominees for alderman, C. G. Case, members; for the city committee, A. L. Gellinas, E. M. Young, George S. Elliott, W. C. Norris, Harold Wilmham, A. L. Washburne.
Second ward—N. A. Daniels, chairman; L. B. Lincoln, clerk. Nominees for alderman, A. N. Vaughn; members of the city committee, N. A. Daniels, George R. Bartlett, R. O. Branche, W. U. Webster, William A. Arnold.
Third ward—Chairman, C. Smith, clerk. Nominees for alderman, Clifford Smith; members of city committee, Marvin Hall, C. Smith, N. Bacon, Jr.
Fourth ward—W. A. King, chairman; C. W. Burnham, clerk. Nominees for alderman, E. W. Jacobs; members of city committee, William E. Lutton, E. P. Chesbro, Sr., Clinton Wood, C. W. Burnham, A. L. Washburne.

For the defendant, Edmund Parent testified to the fact that he was the plaintiff's father and that he was the owner of the saloon in which the assault took place. He testified that he was the one who was injured and that he was the one who was taken to the hospital. He testified that he was the one who was taken to the hospital and that he was the one who was taken to the hospital. He testified that he was the one who was taken to the hospital and that he was the one who was taken to the hospital.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE.
George F. Taylor Nominated for Mayor by Republican Caucus.
The republican caucus for nominees for the coming city election was held in the town hall at 8:30 Thursday evening, and, as predicted, George F. Taylor was chosen unanimously to run for mayor. The caucus was very harmonious and was attended by about 200 voters. Predictions of republican success next month were heard on every side. Only two contests developed. In the first, George M. Graves defeated William E. Webster for alderman at large, and in the other Clark W. Burnham was chosen auditor over George F. Taylor, who held the office for the past 22 years.
William S. Congdon, chairman of the city committee, called the meeting to order and asked for nominations for alderman. William A. Arnold was chosen, and for clerk Louis B. Lincoln was selected.
For mayor, E. P. Chesbro placed in nomination the name of George F. Taylor, and he was the unanimous choice.

AS WE GROW OLDER
Our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings.
What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.
Scott's Emulsion is a scientific oil-food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs.
