

SCUTARI CAPTAL IS MOVED TO SCUTARI

Removal Made When Austro-Germans and Bulgarians Gained Command of Kosovo Plateau

SERBS PRESSED BACK TO ALBANIAN FRONTIER

Monastir is Still in the Possession of the Serbians, But the Bulgarians are Pushing Toward It—General Von Callwitz in on His Way Down the Vardo Valley to Help Bulgarians Attack the Anglo-French Forces—Cordial Relations Have Been Established Between Greece and the Entente Powers—Russia Has Concentrated a Large Army on the Rumanian Frontier, Which Force is Causing Berlin Some Uneasiness.

London, Nov. 25, 9:55 p. m.—As a result of the success of the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians in gaining command of the Kosovo plateau, the Serbian government has moved to Scutari, while the army is defending the little fringe of Serbia which lies between the Stinka river and the Albania and Montenegrin frontiers. It can be provisioned from Scutari, from which place the Montenegrins built good roads during their occupation.

Serbs Still Hold Monastir. Monastir is still in the possession of the Serbians, but the Bulgarians are pushing toward it, while the army of General Von Gallwitz is reported to be on the way down the Vardo valley to help the Bulgarians attack the Anglo-French forces.

Heavy cannonading continues on the western front; winter has put a stop to any movements on the eastern front, while the Italians are persisting in their offensive and are daily getting nearer Gorizia, across the Isonzo, and Rovereto and Riva, in the Trentino.

Cordial relations between Greece and the entente powers have been established with the Greek government assurances that no attempt will be made to interfere with the allied troops should they under any contingency be forced to cross the Greek frontier and that, as heretofore, railway and other facilities will be afforded them.

Greek Ships Allowed to Proceed. That the entente powers are satisfactory to the allies is shown in the fact that Greek grainships which had been held up at Malta have been allowed to proceed to their destinations, relieving what would have been a very serious shortage of bread supplies if their detention had been prolonged.

It is understood that the allies have also promised Greece a monetary indemnity after the war for any damage which might be done through the occupation of Greek territory.

Attitude of Rumania. With this thorny question out of the way, the British public has centered its interest upon the attitude of Rumania and the intervention of Russia. It is quite well established that Russia has concentrated a great army near the Rumanian frontier and despatches state that a large number of heavy guns have arrived at Odessa from Japan for its use. However, the direction in which this army will move will be dictated by the policy the Rumanian government adopts.

Berlin Shows Uneasiness. Berlin shows some uneasiness, but beyond that and the statement of the Rumanian premier, M. Bratianu, that the relations between Russia and Rumania were never better, there is nothing to go on.

To Raise Funds for Defense Plan

SECY McADOO FAVORS TAXATION RATHER THAN BONDS

$112,806,394 ANNUALLY Suggests a Reduction in Income Tax Law Exemption on Single Person From $3,000 to $2,000, on Married From $4,000 to $3,000.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Increases in internal revenue rather than an issue of bonds to meet the first year's expenditures of the administration's defense plan are advocated by Secretary McAdoo of the treasury in a formal statement issued tonight giving an estimate of the federal government's revenues and expenditures up to the end of the fiscal year beginning next July.

$112,806,394 Additional Revenue. Estimating that congress will continue in effect the present emergency tax law and customs duty on sugar, the secretary estimates that $112,806,394 in additional revenue will be needed for the expenditures for 1917, including $93,900,000 for new measures for national defense.

"Can Easily Be Raised." "This amount," says the statement, "can easily be raised by internal taxation without appreciable burdens upon the American people."

Reduction in Income Tax Law Exemption. Mr. McAdoo suggests a reduction in the income tax law exemption on single persons from $3,000 to $2,000 and on married persons from $4,000 to $3,000; changes in the curtax imposed on incomes above a certain figure, and new taxes on gasoline, crude and refined oils, horse power of automobiles, other internal combustion engines and various other things.
