Incidents in Society

Mrs. Grosvenor Ely of Washington street is visiting in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Allyn L. Brown have returned from a trip to Providence. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Allis of Broadway spent a few days in New York early in the week. Daniel L. Brown of the Harvard Law school spent Thanksgiving day at his home in town. Mrs. Daniel M. Lester of Warren street is the guest of friends in Troy, N. Y., for a few days. The Thursday Evening Bridge club is to meet this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Eben Learned of Huntington place. Miss Mary Hyde of Pratt institute has been spending the Thanksgiving recess with her sister, Mrs. W. Tyler Olcott. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Mitchell, Jr., entertained a few friends informally Thursday evening at a chafing dish supper. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard and family of New York are visiting Mr. Shepard's sister, Mrs. Frederick T. Shaples, of Washington street. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bond Jr., of New London spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Bond's mother, Mrs. Bela P. Learned, of Broadway. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hardy and son Donald of Amherst are guests of Mrs. Hardy's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Allis, of Broadway. Miss Mary E. The New Orpheum theatre on Bank street, New London, has been sold to a New York Motion Picture corporation which will assume the management of the theatre on Monday. The theatre was formerly conducted by the Orpheum Amusement company, W. S. Davis, of Pawtucket, president, who is lease and manager of the Davis theatre in this city.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which Lee & Osgood, the popular druggists, are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy. This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind. Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, let Lee & Osgood refund you your money back and they will cheerfully refund it. A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food. Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fair proposition could be made? Lee & Osgood give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-o-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

$200,000 AT STAKE APPEAL

Brought By William B. Eccles Over Bequests in His Brother's Will to Rock Nook Home—Superior Court Will Have to Decide on Construction of Will on This Point.

William B. Eccles of Preston, England, the brother of the late John Eccles, by his attorneys, William H. Shields and William H. Shields, Jr., took an appeal in the probate court before Judge Nelson J. Ayling on Wednesday to the superior court of New London county to be held on the first Tuesday of December and bonds were given by the appellant to prosecute the appeal to effect. All the papers in the appeal were served on Thanksgiving day by Deputy Sheriff George H. Stanton. The appeal is taken from the probate court's decree that decided that the effect in law of the bequest in the will of John Eccles to the Rock Nook home for children, which was erroneously described and understood by John Eccles to be a corporation, was to create a public charity and trust that might be administered by such trustee as the court of probate might appoint. The appellant, William B. Eccles, claims that the express terms of the will created no trust and that the phraseology of the will created an absolute legacy; that the Rock Nook home for children, having no corporate existence and having no legal entity of itself, failed to answer the description of the legatee intended in the mind of John Eccles as expressed in his will; and that therefore the will failed to dispose of the property to an existing corporation, person, or entity, the property represented by those legacies was undisposed of at the time, and by law goes to John Eccles' heirs of whom William B. Eccles is the sole one. A few of the facts of the Norwich probate court took the view that the bequests to the Rock Nook home for children created a public charity, and the court concluded that the state of Connecticut should be represented in the future trials that are to take place over the construction of the legacy to the Rock Nook home. Carrying out that view Judge Ayling directed that service of all the papers in the appeal should be made on Hon. George E. Hinman of Windham, attorney general of the state of Connecticut. Attorney General Hinman very likely will appear representing the public interests in the questions that are to be litigated. The appeal proceedings involve directly the disposition of the $200,000 legacy given to the Rock Nook home for children and the legacy of two-thirds of the remainder of the estate amounting to about $150,000. The decision in this appeal thus involves the disposition of about $350,000. The case now has reached a point where the vital issues of the legality or illegality of the so-called Rock Nook home legacies is to be finally determined. In their answer before the recent probate court hearing, the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., the executors, claimed that for a long time prior to the death of John Eccles he was a member of and actively interested in the work of the United Workers and was particularly interested in the work of administering and carrying on the Rock Nook home as provided for under the deed of Moses Pierce to the United Workers; that for many years prior thereto he had been familiar with the workings of this charity and with its beneficial results; that he had frequently expressed his intention of providing liberally for this charity known as the Rock Nook home, in his will; that there is no other home of this nature and description within the city of Norwich or in that vicinity, carrying on similar or like work, nor any other charity of this general nature in which John Eccles was interested at or about the time of the execution of his will or of his death, to which his bequest could naturally be paid. All the other bequests under the will have been paid and there remains now in the hands of the executors the sum of $252,061.86 from which the disputed legacies and the expenses must be paid.

BODY OF BOY WAS QUICKLY FOUND.

Policeman Henderson Located It About Where Companion Pointed Out. The body of Martin Robak, 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robak, of No. 68 Thames street, was recovered from the bottom of the Thames river at 3.35 o'clock Friday morning by Officer Frank Henderson and Henry B. Lewis. The body was located on the east side of the river and was pulled to the surface of the water on the second cast. It was close to the launch from which the body was said to have fallen and on which some articles of his clothing were found. The child fell into the water Thanksgiving afternoon about 3 o'clock from a launch tied to the wharf in the rear of the Norwich Grain company's barn. The boy's absence alarmed his parents, and a search was started by the police, who found a 6 year old boy, William Thompson, of 44 Summit street, who told about the Robak boy falling into the water, and guided the police to the place. Medical Examiner Charles C. Gilchrist viewed the body and gave Undertakers church & Alien permission to take charge of it.

SUDDEN DEATH OF COL. CHARLES T. STANTON.

Well Known Resident of Stonington Had Heart Disease Attack. Col. Charles T. Stanton, one of the best known residents of that section of the state, died suddenly at his home at Stonington Friday night from heart disease. He was 75 years old. In 1861 he was graduated from Yale university and was one of the earliest presidents or commodores of the Yale navy. During the Civil war he was colonel of the Twenty-first Connecticut Volunteers and used of his right arm at the battle of Council Bluffs. He was aide-de-camp on the staff of General Hawley. For ten years he was collector of customs at Stonington. He took a prominent part in Grand Army affairs and was also president of the First Congregational church society. Three sisters survive.

RED CROSS AID Sent Mrs. Robert W. Perkins Following President Wilson's Plea—Box Recently Forwarded.

At a recent meeting of the executive board of the local Red Cross it was decided not to attempt any general work or to open a room downtown until after the holidays. Mrs. Robert W. FIVE GENERATIONS At Thanksgiving Dinner at Home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith.

A Thanksgiving gathering quite out of the ordinary was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith in Mchegan when five generations were represented. These were Mrs. Susan Bates, 27 years old, her daughter, Mrs. John A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Smith's son, Luron N. Smith, of Springfield, Mass., and his daughter, Mrs. Charles Brooks, of South Coventry, and her little daughter, Audrey Lewis Brooks. F. S. Jerome Was Speaker. On the programme of the 47th convention of the California state fruit growers held at Visalia, Nov. 15-20, Franklin S. Jerome of Watsonville, formerly of this city, made an address on The Standard Apple Act of 1915. Boosted His Own Record. George P. Madden, who has been holding the duckpin record at the Elks' alleys with a mark of 120, set the figure at one point higher on Thanksgiving afternoon by rolling 121.

SHELTERING ARMS FAMILY ENJOYED THANKSGIVING.

Bulletin Prize Turkey Was Delicious—Music in the Afternoon. Thanksgiving day at the Sheltering Arms was an unusually pleasant one this year for the family of 16 there. Many friends showed their interest by gifts of flowers which were arranged in the rooms, there was a Thanksgiving dinner at the appropriate time, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon a delightful musical programme was carried out. The matron, Mrs. J. Parker Gifford, had the general direction of the observance of the day. The dinner table was decorated with ferns and yellow chrysanthemums, and 12 of the 15 members of the family sat down to enjoy the bountiful laden table. With them were the matron and the two nurses. The 20 1-4 pound prize turkey which had been donated for the dinner by The Norwich Bulletin was delicious. Served with it were all the customary accompaniments for a Thanksgiving dinner, including mashed potatoes, creamed onions, mashed turnips, squash, cranberry sauce, celery, mince pies, cheese, candy, fruit, nuts, tea and milk. At 4 o'clock a musical programme was given to the great pleasure of the family. Miss F. Elizabeth Lane very pleasantly gave several of the songs and Miss Ruth Potter entertained with piano numbers and songs. After the music, ice cream, furnished by Charles L. Hubbard, together with cake and crackers, was served.

CITY OF PROVIDENCE COMMENDS VISITING NURSE Their Experience Gives Encouragement to Norwich Committee.

The committee of the United Workers, which is in charge of the public meeting to be held on next Tuesday evening in the town hall to bring before the citizens the subject of securing a visiting nurse, has found much of encouragement regarding what the work of such a nurse would be in the experience of Providence as indicated in the report of a public meeting of the District Nursing association of that city. Continuance of the work and generous support for it was advocated at the meeting. These nurses, said continuing in its broadest sense, not only caring for the individual, but preserving the public health. Daily going about in the city's by-ways and dark places they are discovering and bringing out into the sunlight of science the incipient mental and physical defects of childhood, many of which are easy of correction in the beginning, but if, by reason of poverty and neglect, they are allowed to develop, they may blast the life of the individual and prove a positive injury to the community. The assistant superintendent of nurses in her remarks stated that call for a nurse may be sent to the office by anyone. The nurse answers all new calls, but she is not allowed to continue on a case unless there is a physician in attendance, to whom she shall be subject in all medical and surgical matters. The superintendent of health said in part: "As health officer I do not come here to dwell on the humanitarian aspect of your work, but I want to state a few simple facts to show what you are doing to prevent sickness and to save lives. "Your educational work among mothers for the purpose of decreasing sickness among babies was begun in a small way at first in 1908. In five years previous to that time out of each
