TWO VERDICTS IN COMMON PLEAS

Both of the Accused Found Guilty—Sentences for John Dawgowitz and John A. Clark—One for Breach of Peace, the Other for Non-Support—Business of Criminal Session Concluded.

The jury in two cases in the criminal common pleas court here on Wednesday found the accused guilty. When the second case had been disposed of by the pronouncement of sentence the criminal court adjourned without day, having concluded the business of its November session, which lasted two days and included the trial of the 12 cases.

The court came in at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning. Judge C. B. Waller gave additional instruction to the jury in the case against John Dawgowitz and John A. Clark, who were charged with breach of the peace upon their brother Edward. Tuesday afternoon the jury found the case without day, and at the time court adjourned for the day they reported that they had not agreed on a verdict.

Two of the jurors asked several questions of the judge on Wednesday morning before the jury went back to the jury room and were answered upon the points upon which they inquired.

After deliberation the jury finally brought in a verdict of guilty and Judge Waller sentenced John Dawgowitz to a term of 30 days in jail, which amounted in all to $51.48. The prisoner secured the money by sending word to Stonington and was taken to the jail there on Monday. John A. Clark while he was waiting for the money to arrive.

Non-Support Case.—The non-support case against John A. Clark of this city was taken up in the morning, after the Dawgowitz case had been disposed of.

Mr. Clark, whose attorney was Judge John H. Barnes, was accused of failing to support his wife and his 13-year-old son. Mrs. Clark was the first witness. She testified that they were married in Athol, Mass., in 1901 and that they lived together in 1915, living for a long time in Tatville, where her husband was in charge of a store and an agreement that Mr. DeLo Carlo had signed, which was asked to do so.

Mr. Clark was recalled to the stand and testified that he had not lived with his wife since the time they were in Danielson on July 12, 1915. Mr. Bossey, who had signed the agreement, identified by one of the witnesses.

After the arguments by Attorney Barnes and Attorney Whitteley, the jury returned the case at 3.20. Shortly after 4 o'clock they returned with a verdict.

Judge Waller made the sentence 60 days in jail or in lieu thereof for Mr. Clark to furnish a bond of $5 per week for the next 12 weeks. The attorney for Mr. Clark stated after court that Mr. Clark would furnish the bond.

ARGUMENTS BEGUN IN BLUE, RED AND YELLOW SIGNS ON HIGHWAYS.

Will Show Main Travel Routes and Indicate Danger Points.

Highway Commissioner Charles J. Bennett made final arrangements on Wednesday to begin work on the establishment of a color route code for the designation of the main traveled highways of the state. The quality of the roads is being determined by the department Wednesday forenoon, and the signs will be placed on the roads by the department.

The signs will be painted on telegraph poles, and the color route code will be done under the general supervision of George E. Hamlin of the highway department, who has charge of the preparatory work. The supervisors of road construction, the Bureau of road construction, the Bureau of road maintenance, and the Bureau of road inspection, will be in charge of the work.

PLOT TO EFFECT ESCAPE OF SING SING PRISONERS.—Conspirators Had Outside Aid—Former Officers Restored to Duty.

Ossing, N. Y., Dec. 8.—A plot to effect the escape of Sing Sing prisoners from the Sing Sing prison was discovered by Warden Thomas Mott Osborne, who promptly set aside the result of the recent election in which prisoners had outside aid, the plan involving the supplying of automobiles which were to be waiting near the prison for the escapees.

The delivery was to be made on a night when the delegates to the league met.

It was a scheme to use the machinery of the Welfare League against the system and against the warden, said Osborne when it was all over those who had engineered the thing might be at liberty, prison reform would have been given a black eye, the system of self-government discredited and old conditions perhaps restored.

Huesher is 22. He and the girl, a granddaughter of the woman with whom he boarded in this city, went away together October 15. He was arrested in Worcester, Mass. He pleaded guilty today.

SEWER HEARING.

Jointly Held by City and Town Representatives at Mr. Del Carlo's Residence.

There was a hearing held on Wednesday afternoon at the mayor's office in the town hall on an application by Mr. Del Carlo for a sewer connection to be made by which he can obtain a way to allow sewage to discharge into the sewer.

The town gave him $1,000 and the city gave him $500 towards the expense, and now there is objection on the part of some property owners against allowing anything but water to be discharged into the sewer, which is entirely covered in.

Mayor Murphy, Civil Engineer G. E. Pletcher, Councilman C. J. Fanning, and First Selectman Casper K. Bailey and Town Councilman H. H. Pettit participated in the joint hearing. The matter was talked over but without coming to any conclusion. It is understood that the town will pay for the sewer which Mr. Del Carlo has signed regarding the use to which the sewer could be put stands as a serious obstacle in the way of its availability as a general sewer.

THEFT OF OVERCOAT Charged Against Dennis O'Neill—Coat Sold for 15 Cents.

Dennis O'Neill, about 26, was arrested Wednesday night about 9 o'clock at Mr. Ida King's boarding house on Main street and charged with the theft of an overcoat earlier in the evening.

Sergeant Kane made the arrest after it had been found where the coat had been sold at a West Side second-hand store for 15 cents, and the police were satisfied that it was O'Neill who had stolen the coat from the King house.

HOUSING CO. OPTIONS Held on Two Tracts of Land for More Buildings.

The Norwich Housing company, which has under construction at Thameville the first six of the twenty-two-family housing flats, is to build, has options on two other tracts of land which it is expected may soon be closed and that construction work on these other tracts will then begin.

The land in Thameville on Spring Garden avenue was bought from the Norwich Land Improvement company.

WOODCUTTING CASE. Avery vs. Snicer Should Reach Jury Today in Superior Court.

In the superior court here on Wednesday the trial was continued in the case of Sherwood G. Avery, who is suing Dwight Spicer and George L. Ingalls for $1,000 damages on the claim that Mr. Ingalls, who had bought wood from Spicer in a family of four, had cut over on a land belonging to Mr. Avery and removed a large number of trees.

By the middle of the afternoon both sides had all their evidence in and the arguments were begun. The case will be put forward to next Tuesday, as it was considered that the case on trial would be ready for the jury.

COURT OPENED AT 11 O'CLOCK Wednesday morning as the attorneys had been to the court at Spicer's residence to take depositions to be used in the case, as he was not able to be in court because of injuries which he received last Saturday afternoon, when he was thrown from his wagon by an automobile that struck it in the street.

Attorney C. V. James, who with Attorney Hadlai A. Hull is counsel for the defendant, read the deposition of Mr. Spicer and also a deposition from his mother that had reference to the boundaries of the land in question and which were given by Winfield Bailey and Lebbeus L. Lathrop, who told what they knew about the lines and the original owner.

William A. Burgess, Walter C. Lathrop and Alonzo I. Pierce were other attorneys for the defendant. The attorneys for the defense rested at 2.52, and both sides rested at 3.10.

Attorney C. W. Comstock made his closing argument for the plaintiff, speaking until 4.10, and was followed by Attorney C. V. James for the defendant, who spoke until the time for court to adjourn at 4.30.

Attorney James is to conclude his argument, Attorney Hull to speak for the defendant and Attorney Comstock again for the plaintiff before Judge William L. Bennett makes his closing argument.

There are two sets of plans made by different civil engineers, several photographs and a number of deeds for the land in question. The jury is to take with them when they retire to the jury room to consider the case after the judge has made his charge.

WEDDING. Hoxie—Clarke.

At Lebanon on Wednesday afternoon Myron Joseph Hoxie of that place and Miss Gladys Mina Clarke of Liberty were united in marriage by Rev. Hollin A. Campbell. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage at 2.30 and was attended by a number of guests.

The bride wore a gown of blue serge with fur trimming and a black hat. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hoxie and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Clarke. She was formerly a school teacher in Lebanon for about three years.

Mayor Too Busy to Attend Congress.

Mayor T. C. Murphy, who had been elected to represent the city at the 4th annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress to be held at Washington, D. C., Friday and Saturday of this week, found that he will be unable to make the trip.

The accumulation of municipal and personal business that he finds ahead of him makes it impossible to get away at this time.

Places For Discarded Toys.

BEGIN WORK ON STATE HOSPITAL DAM.

Reservoir Work Will Be Done by Inmates of Inebriate Farm.

Thursday morning the inmates of the inebriate farm at the Norwich state hospital will commence construction work on a reservoir which is to be built at the hospital. For some time past the inmates have been engaged in removing stones and brush from the farm.

There are now 48 inmates at the farm and the work passed by the general assembly allows the trustees to provide additional quarters if deemed necessary. The matter of providing accommodations for ten or twenty more inmates will be taken up at the January meeting.

The superintendent states that now he has a dozen or more applicants on the waiting list. Accommodations may be made for these applicants by building a slight addition to the dining room, with dormitory quarters above.

When the dress rehearsal of the vaudeville entertainment was given last Saturday evening at the amusement hall at the hospital, the men at the inebriate farm were allowed to attend. Though it is a mile from the farm dormitory to the main hospital building, they were allowed to go both ways without any attendants and none took advantage of the confidence reposed in them by failing to report back at the farm on time.
