NORWICH TOWN

Unexpected Death of Charles A. Hull—Giving Night at Methodist Sunday School Festival—Heavy Mail Has Delayed Rural Carriers—Notes by the Way.

Charles A. Hull, whose death occurred Sunday at his home on the Canterbury turnpike, was born in Stonington, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hull. At the age of six years his father's family came to Norwich.

LAID GIFTS AT MANGER.

Old and Young at Methodist Christmas Festival Generously Provide for the Needy. Christmas night at the First Methodist church the Sunday school room was decorated with evergreen and large trees at either end of the altar were gaily dressed with presents for the children and many grown folks.

After the principal features of the decoration and interest was the manger and stall constructed in one corner of the vestry and which received from many packages and gifts from young and old for the Deane's room. This program was carried out with the violin and piano solos being of especial excellence.

Exercises by School Pupils. The Christmas exercises Thursday afternoon for the primary and intermediate departments of the Town Street school were held in Miss Grant's room.

Monday morning telegrams were out of order on East Town street, Huntington lane, Town street, the New London turnpike and on the hills about; some caused by falling trees breaking the circuit, the big elm at Harland's corner fell directly across Town street, cutting telephone wires and stopping traffic. Vehicles had to go under way, a large pine tree on the Jewett place on East Town street was blown over and another at Fitch's corner.

Heard About Town. Willis White from Fort Trumbull, New London, spent the week end at his home on Peck's Corner.

After spending a week in New York, Miss F. M. Terrill has returned to her home on Washington street.

Allison C. Rogers left Monday afternoon for Boston, after passing a few days at his home on Washington street.

Misses Edith and Alice Warner and their brother Lewis Warner, of Sunderland, Mass., spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Warner of Bliss place.

R. F. D. carriers and the parcel post carrier were loaded with packages Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday morning. Because of the heavy mail the R. F. D. carriers were late in starting from the local office.

Mrs. Martha Bred of Boston was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Augusta Pratt, of Carter avenue, over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Grandy of Stonington have been visiting Mrs. J. Storms of Palmer avenue. Mrs. Theodore Johnson, of Worcester, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson, of Carter avenue.

ANXIETY FOR HEALTH OF HENRY FORD

Felt by Members of His Family and Business Friends.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 27.—Anxiety of the family and business friends concerning the health of Henry Ford, who is returning from his European peace journey, was relieved today by the announcement of a cablegram to Mrs. Ford from Stockholm. The message stated that Mr. Ford was only slightly ill and that he would come to Detroit immediately after landing in New York.

Officials of the Ford Automobile company denied that they were worrying over Mr. Ford's safety.

Winsted.—Mr. and Mrs. Loyal S. Humphrey of No. 246 Oak street celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Christmas day.

GENTLE RUBBING HELPS VARICOSE VEINS

Rubbing the swollen veins nightly for about two minutes with a gentle upward stroke brings benefit to sufferers and is mighty good advice, says an authority.

After the rubbing, which should always be toward the heart, because the blood in the veins flows that way, apply Emerald Oil (full strength) with brush or hand.

This simple home treatment for a few days and improvement will be noticed, then continue until veins are reduced to normal. It is very concentrated and penetrating and can be obtained at any modern drug store. It is so powerful that it also reduces gout, rheumatism and neuralgia.

Often—Why Not Always?

Like almost everyone in Norwich we believe you often take advantage of BULLETIN WANT ADS.

But the point we make is, if BULLETIN WANT ADS are good, OFTEN in filling wants, why aren't they good ALWAYS for such wants?

If you have a phone, use the phone in sending in your ad. If you have no phone, use the corner mail box.

ANY WAY is a good way to send in your WANT AD, if that way gets it to The Bulletin Office.

POETRY

THE SHEPHERD CARE. Thy spirit, Lord, is on the unquiet deep; Beyond its utmost meets, which Thou mayest not pass; though billows foam and belowing winds from the tumultuous gloom Smile the tormented bark, still doth Thy hand In its wide compass hold the tameless sea; And granite-rooted hills; nor may the floods That crown their bodiful fangs round palm-girt isles Move from its fostering bed one traced sea-kie.

That yet shall wake to lift to prosperous sails swaying fronds. O Eye that slumbers not! O Heart, whose tender vigil never ends! Teach me that in the circuit of Thy love Tempest shall bring undoing unto none.

Even the least of those, whose helplessness Nestles within Thy bosom's cherishing; When thunder peals and Thy stuns, From alleyside, and fiery bolts descend; Full charged with sudden doom, what Waste midnight shudders into denser night. Somewhere the light lies still on breathing flowers, And soft airs still the violets in green fields.

And birds with pulsing throats break into song Above the perfumed nests. Somewhere the dew Falls cool on peaceful meadows, and Ruminant with content, lie calmly couched.

By pasture bars; and all along the vale Home lights begin to twinkle, and a Mellow and hushed steals through the scented dusk— A lullaby, a lullaby o'er a drowsy babe.

Lord, what's aye Thou shalt appoint for Or calm or storm, Oh, let me not forget. The world is Thine, and all is well to him Who trusts Thy patient care. Afar or near, In dark or light, no hurt shall come to me. For that my times are in Thy guardian hand.

And by Thy path, Thy wardens wait; at whiles To me in starry moments there shall Low murmuring of celestial voices, borne On perfume of wisps whence deathless summer breaks, Its sure blossoms round my Father's
