GERMANS BOMBARD RUSSIAN POSITIONS

From the Northwest of Riga to the Middle Stripa It Has Been Steady

PETROGRAD REPORTS AUSTRIANS SURROUNDED

Russians Have Apparently Ceased Their Operations in Asiatic Turkey—Are to Encamp on the Plains to Escape the Rigorous Weather of the Mountains—There Has Been Little Momentous Fighting Anywhere in the War Theatre Except by the Artillery.

After having driven the Turks from a region about forty miles in length in Asiatic Turkey to the west of Lake Van and put them to retreat down the Mush valley, the Russians seemingly have ceased their operations in this particular vicinity for the winter. It is announced by Petrograd that the Russians here will be able to leave the rigors of the mountains and descend into the plains, which are favorable for the encampment of their troops for the period of the winter. Large numbers of prisoners were taken by the Russians in their drive of the Turks, in addition to heavy guns, machine guns and other war material. The Russian official communication confirms previous statements that the Turks, northward of the Caucasus, have been driven in upon the fortifications of Erzerum.

There has been little momentous fighting anywhere in any of the war theatres except by the artillery. German positions at Steenstraete, south of Roye and north of St. Mihiel, have come under the attack of the Allies on the western line, and considerable damage has been done. The latest French communication does not mention fighting in the vicinity of Neuville, or south of the Somme, where positions recently were captured by the Germans. The Berlin report, however, says these positions have been held against repeated French attacks. From northwest of Riga to the middle Stripa there has been a considerable bombardment by the Germans of various Russian towns and positions. Petrograd reports the surrounding by the Russians of an Austrian detachment in the middle Stripa and the annihilation of most of the Austrians, the remainder being captured. The Italians and the Austrians have opened another fierce artillery duel along the front of the Austrian-Italian line. No reports have been received from the Balkans except a semi-official statement from Berlin that the Italians have thrown another infantry division and several batteries of artillery into Avlona, Albania, their intention being to hold this important point against the advance of the Austrians.

Rulers Brought About the War

NOT CAUSED BY PUBLIC OPINION, SAYS WILSON

INVASION NOT FEARED

President In Advocating Preparedness Declares Make Good On Trusteeship of the Whole Western Hemisphere

No Time to Be Lost.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—The United States has made preparations for immediate war, as far as the navy is concerned, and the present naval force is inadequate in size, President Wilson declared tonight in an address before several thousand persons in the Auditorium here. "We mean business," he said, in speaking of the preparedness plans of the administration. "We have given to the present fleet of the United States an organization such as it never had before, I am told by Admiral Fletcher," the president declared, "and we have made preparation for immediate war, so far as the navy is concerned." The army, the president said, as at present constituted, is not large enough for the ordinary duties of peace.

NO TIME TO LOSE.

The president repeated his warnings that the United States is a mission of peace, and that the United States is a mission of peace, and that the United States is a mission of peace. "When I see some of my fellow citizens spreading rumors where the sparks are falling, I wonder what their ideal of Americanism is," the president said. America, the president said, had been cruelly misjudged by the nations now at war. "I know that on the other side of the water there has been a great deal of cruel misjudgment with regard to the United States," he declared. "The United States is a mission of peace, and that the United States is a mission of peace, and that the United States is a mission of peace."

OUR MISSION A MISSION OF PEACE.

"They do not feel the conviction of America that our mission is a mission of peace and that righteousness cannot be maintained as a standard in the midst of arms. They do not realize that back of all our energy we are a body of idealists much more ready to lay down our lives for a thought than for a dollar. We suppose, some of them, we are holding off because we can make money while others are dying, the most cruel misunderstanding that any nation has ever had to face. We are not asking ourselves shall we be correct if, because it shows that the very fundamentals of our life are not comprehended or understood."

RULERS BROUGHT ABOUT THE WAR.

"The rulers of the world have brought about the present war, Mr. Wilson declared. "I thank God there is no man in the United States who has the authority to bring on war without the consent of the nation," he said. "The task of the United States, he said, has been to assert the principles of law in a world in which the principles of law have broken down. We are not now thinking of invasion of the territory of the United States," the president declared. "It is not what I am making us think. We are not asking ourselves shall we be prepared to defend our own homes and our own shores."

NO SELFISH PURPOSES.

"Is that all we stand for? To keep the door shut securely against our enemies? What about the great trusteeship set up for liberty of national government? We stand pledged to see that both continents of America are to be left free to be used by their people as they see fit. We are not now thinking of invasion of the territory of the United States," the president declared. "It is not what I am making us think. We are not asking ourselves shall we be prepared to defend our own homes and our own shores."

Appeared to be the Missing Vessel Sighted Off Coast of Florida at 5:30 P. M. Yesterday.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Despite the continued absence of any word from the submarine K-5, missing since Sunday morning, naval officials here, including Secretary Daniels and ranking officers in the department, were confident tonight that the under-water craft had not been destroyed. They believed that the vessel either had proceeded as ordered to Key West or had developed some trouble with its engines, which caused its temporary separation from its sister ships.

Every effort was made, however, to locate the K-5 and definitely establish its safety. Captain Bryan, commanding the navy yard at Charleston, S. C., the nearest station to the port where the vessel was last seen, was ordered to direct a thorough search.
