Local Interest in Culley Letter.
Thomas Culley, former chef at the Putnam inn and who has many friends in Danielson, was heard from by the Bulletin in connection with a letter with much interest. Culley has had an interesting career, being for years a reward on the part of the White Star line in sailing to port all over the globe. His present war experience in France is not his first, for he was in the Boer war in South Africa. He has often said that the greatest experience in life is excitement, and he is bound to be with the big show if there's half a chance.

Sentiment Against Frame Buildings.
A sentiment seems to be developing in the city against allowing the construction of any more frame buildings in the business section. The chief objection is that the buildings are bad fire risks and for that reason might be considered a danger to surrounding property.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating drugs are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold —the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

ITALIAN STEAMER CAPTURED BY AUSTRILIANS IN ADRIATIC Had 300 Serbian Refugees Aboard—Being Towed to an Albanian Port.

Berlin, Feb. 3 (via wireless to Say-ville)—The steamer Koenig Albert, flying the Italian flag and with 300 Serbian refugees on board, has been captured by Austrian war craft in the Adriatic, it was announced today by the Overseas News Agency.

The agency's announcement says:
"An Austrian-Hungarian submarine stopped the former North German Lloyd steamer Koenig Albert in the Adriatic. The steamer had been captured by the British at the beginning of the war and afterwards put at the disposal of the Italians.

The steamer, which flew the Italian flag, carried 300 Serbian refugees.
The submarine, after stopping the steamer, called a destroyer, which towed the prize to Beche di Cattaro, Albania.

The Koenig Albert has not figured in news dispatches since early in the war, the last available record of her being under a London date on Aug.
8, 1914, embodying a report from Milan that the Italian authorities at Genoa seized the Koenig Albert, together with the Moltke, of the Hamburg-American Line, the action being taken, it was stated, when the captains demanded a supply of coal, although they already had coal on board. The Koenig Albert had arrived at Genoa on July 17 from New York.

How a pipe of "Tux" does bubble over with good cheer and sunny comfort! There's something about the mellow taste of "Tux" harshness and bite from the to-
