GIFT TO HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Guilford Smith Provides Valuable Gas Apparatus.

St. Joseph's hospital has been presented with a new model gas apparatus comprising warm ether attachment and rebreathing bag for analgesia and anaesthesia, by Mrs. Guilford Smith of South Windham. This apparatus is a valuable acquisition to the operating equipment of the hospital and assures a safe and sure method of giving anaesthesia.

Food Sale.

The ladies of the D. A. R. held a food sale at the W. C. T. U. rooms on Valley street Friday afternoon. Considering the weather there was a good attendance and sale.

Discomforts of the Storm.

Willimantic was a wet city Friday. The rain started in late Thursday night and continued all day soaking everything in good shape. The snow about gone from the streets, but plenty of ice remains, making it pretty slippery walking. Many cellars and basements were flooded there being a couple of feet of water in the cellar of the opera house building this morning. The rain caused the snow and ice which had gathered on the roofs of buildings to slide off, some of it coming down in bunches. A number were out with picks and choppers getting rid of the ice on the sidewalk. There were no sessions at the public schools, the fire alarm ringing at the usual time.

Mrs. Parsons Recovering.

Mrs. Ashton Parsons, who has been a patient at the private hospital, has returned to her home on Lincoln avenue.

Girls' Club to Open New Rooms.

At the last regular meeting of the Windham Girls' club the adopting of the constitution was finished. It was voted to open the new rooms on Valley street Thursday, March 2, and to publicly extend an invitation to all officers and members of all women's clubs and organizations to come in during the afternoon and evening and look the rooms over.

Profitable Sale.

In spite of bad weather there was a good attendance at the food sale held by the Women's guild of St. Paul's church in the church house Friday afternoon. Nearly every article of food was disposed of and a good sum of money was realized.

George B. McCracken of Mountain street is entering his niece, Miss Leola Franklin of New Britain for the week end.

Cooperative Buying.

Following the principle of cooperative buying for which the city was organized, the Farmers' club of South Windham has ordered four car loads of lime from a firm in Danbury and has paid cash for the same.

PURSE OF $250 IN GOLD.

Presented Rev. W. S. Beard, Who Leaves Congregational Church.

It was intended to present Rev. W. S. Beard a purse of gold at the reception last Wednesday night, but after consideration the public presentation was dispensed with and a committee called at his home and presented him a purse of $250 in gold, the farewell gift of his parish and friends of other denominations.

FUNERAL.

Frances M. Watson.
The body of Frances M. Watson was brought to this city Friday from Fairpoint Hill, Sprague, by a special car arriving here at 1 o'clock. Burial was in Willimantic cemetery. Funeral Director Shepard having charge of the arrangements.

SALESMEN GOT LEFT.

Whereupon They Made the Station a Storm Centre—Annoying Mishap on Friday.

At the local station there was a heated argument Friday morning. Several traveling salesmen from Hartford en route for Providence missed the 9:52 train and made things lively for a while for the local officials. Upon their arrival on the 9:55 from Hartford they were informed that the train for Providence would not leave until the Hartford train pulled out. The Providence train makes up here and back onto the third track and the train for Hartford comes in on the first track.

track. It makes it difficult for passengers to climb through the train on the first track so the train on the third track is supposed to wait until the other pulls out. These men waited until the Hartford train left and then the Providence train had gone also. Train Announcer Killoury was as much surprised as they, as he was waiting to announce the leaving of the train. The men turned on Yardmaster Palmer and demanded an explanation. He seemed to think that it was due to carelessness on the part of the men who had left. However, he did all he could to straighten out matters and help them to their destinations. Most of them were bound for Providence and had to wait for the 12:14 going by way of Blackstone. One man was going to Lisbon and was to drive from there to Glasgow, a team having been engaged to meet the 9:52 train. Another said that he had used mileage for a number of years but this time he had bought a ticket. It was raining steadily and a railroad station on a rainy day is not the best place to cultivate one's temper. With that philosophy that is part of the traveling man's nature they made the best of it. The local officials do not seem to have been faulted, but rather the conductor of the Providence train who did not wait until the Hartford train on the first track had gone.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Edward A. Morris.

Ida May, wife of Edward A. Morris, died at her home, 1420 Main street, Thursday night. She was 72 years of age. Mrs. Morris was born in this city May 13, 1876, the daughter of Andrew S. and Lydia O. Dennet Martin.

Players of Loyal Livingstone Team Defeat New London Lodge at Norwich—Dangerous Crossing of River Before Bridge is Completed.

The members of the Loyal Livingstone Lodge team journeyed to Norwich last Friday night and won the semi-final from the New London lodge there in the final match of the Samaritan lodge of Baltic. The 4th Friday in March in Norwich. The following players represented Livingstone: Fred L. Johnson, Fred L. Johnson, Albert Hilton, John Bottomley, James Royle, Arthur Royle, Joshua Peterson, Andrew Peterson, Fred Levin, Thos. Rhodes, Thos. Cooper, Wm. Jackson, Wm. Haseler. The score was 12-0.

Friday's rain storm made walking very dangerous. The ground is covered with a solid sheet of ice. Nearly all of the snow was washed away but the ice did not melt because of the cold, although there was a heavy rainfall.

Dangerous Way of Crossing River.

The people of Central Village who live across the river, have been in a bad fix since the bridge near Bragg's mill was washed out last week. Workmen immediately began work on a new iron bridge and only the cement foundations were completed and the bridge was put out of the spring. Since then in order to cross the river people had to go over the railroad trestle or to go around by the old bridge. Many of the school children cross over by means of this trestle and it is very dangerous for a child to taste defeat from that side.

COLCHESTER'S $15,000 FIRE

Cutler's Department Store With Contents Burned—Insured for About Half Their Value.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Colchester, Feb. 25.—The worst fire that has visited Colchester for several years occurred Friday morning. The block on the corner of Hayward and Lebanon avenues was burned to the ground. The building was about 30x50 feet and has two and one-half stories. It was occupied by M. M. Cutler & Co. a department store. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler occupying the second story as their home. The alarm was given about 5:30 a. m. The fire started on the first floor about midway of the building. The fire company responded at once, but had some difficulty in getting the engine, the fire engine leadways and when water was played on the blaze it could not be subdued. The firemen then worked to save the residence of Charles T. Williams, which was only about 15 feet from the burning building. The wind being from the east was in the firemen's favor and Mr. Williams' place was saved, only being badly scorched. The burned building was valued at about $7,000 and Mr. Cutler's stock on goods about $5,000. The building and contents were insured for about one-half their value. The building was built several years ago by the late Elijah Bansom and was occupied by him as a dry goods store and was one of the best business blocks in town.

Thank Offering Service—Pink Envelopes Yield Good Sum—Funeral of Capt. Amos Rogers.

The annual thank offering service of the Missionary society of the Baptist church was held Friday afternoon in the church parlor. The feast record as opposed to compulsory military training in the public schools. The educators, however, favored a plan whereby the "American youth" who were opposed to compulsory military training could find special schools available.

The action of the department was generally regarded as a compromise. It was said that although there are many advocates of a strong national system of preparedness, as well as many opponents of such an organization, the majority of the people was to keep military out of the graded high schools. Most of the delegates, it was said, favored the special military school plan.

MUCK RAKING IN CHICAGO GRAFT CASE.

Trying to Delve Into Past Life of Mrs. Eaton, the Complainant.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Frequent clashes between counsel for the accused and counsel for the complainant, Mrs. Eaton, touched on her acquaintance with the late Dwight M. Sabin, former United States senator from Minnesota, and insisted that he be permitted to question the witness at length.

Secretary Moore Steadman, Mrs. Eaton's attorney, protested that the incident was not germane to the investigation, and declared that if the past was to be delved into he would insist on a complete inquiry which would include other besides his client.

Mrs. Sabin, who had been summoned as a witness, did not take the stand. She said she knew nothing about either Mrs. Eaton or Mrs. Rowe.
