Mercantile Bureau to Hold Open Meeting in Buckingham Memorial Monday Evening—Use of Credit Rate System to be Explained—Matter of Vital Interest to Local Merchants.

In order to give the merchants of Norwich a clearer understanding of the benefits derived from the credit rating system which is in actual use in several cities of the state the mercantile bureau of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce has arranged for an open meeting to be held in Buckingham Memorial on next Monday evening and they have secured as the speaker of the evening F. C. Townsend of Hartford. The matter of a credit rating book is now in the hands of a committee appointed from the mercantile bureau to investigate systems and methods in vogue in other cities. They find that Massachusetts and Maine have quite a well appointed credit rating system and the system is also used in the larger cities of this state. These rating books are in use by doctors, dentists and banking houses in every city where the credit rating system is being installed. The system may be installed with or without a collection department, this to be left at the discretion of the committee and board of directors. The itinerant vendor is another condition which is altogether prevalent and the following are some of the items which will be discussed: The use of stamps out the wandering peddler who pays neither rent nor taxes and takes big profits away from the city. Another item will be the furtherance of the bureau organization and to give explanation on any questions asked at that time.

OBSERVED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Grosvenor Received Congratulations From Many Friends.

At the home of their daughter, Louise P. Grosvenor, in Pomfret, Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Grosvenor observed the golden anniversary of their wedding, more than 50 years ago.

An delightful surprise of the afternoon for all the assembled guests there was another wedding—that of Miss Louise Payson Grosvenor, daughter of the bride, and her bride and groom, and William van der Laan, of Amsterdam, Holland, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. F. M. Edwards, pastor of the Pomfret Congregational church. Guests who congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor found the opportunity to extend congratulations to Miss Grosvenor who was announced some time ago and to express best wishes to the bride.

Mr. Grosvenor is the son of John William and Phoebe Spalding Grosvenor, and was born May 11, 1839. In 1862 he entered the United States as a member of D company, Eighteenth Connecticut volunteers, and fought through all the campaigns in which the state participated. He was wounded during one engagement and has since felt the effects of the injury and privations suffered in the war, although he has always been an active and very useful one.

Mr. Grosvenor was state treasurer of Connecticut from 1897 to 1899 and has twice represented his town in the house of representatives and his district in the senate.

Three daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor—Mary M., Julia A. and Louise P.

WANTS INFORMATION ON MUNICIPAL WATER SUPPLY

Secretary Black of State Board of Health Preparing to Send Out Blanks.

Dr. John T. Black, secretary of the state board of health, is preparing blanks to be sent to officials in charge of municipal water supplies and to the owners of companies which furnish water to the public, says the New London Telegraph. The blanks ask information on the condition of the water and other matters pertaining to the supply. The state board of health determine if the water is free from contamination. The general assembly at its last session, passed a law giving the state board of health supervision of the sources of all water and ice supply in the state. It also empowered the board to require those in control of public water supply to furnish information regarding the water works.

There are 14 sewage disposal plants under the supervision of the state board of health. They are of special interest to the people of the state, as it is expected that on their success will largely depend the solution of the problem of the purification of the inland waters of the state and the removal of sewage from the Sound.

More information at hand in the office of the state board of health it is believed that Meriden was the first city in the state to establish a sewage disposal system.
