REPUBLICAN HOUSE DELEGATES

Amos A. Browning Elected Chairman and C. S. Holbrook Clerk of Caucus at Town Hall—No Contests in Choice of Delegates and Town Committee.

With Amos A. Browning as chairman and Charles S. Holbrook as clerk, the Republicans of Norwich convened in caucus at the town hall on Thursday night and chose a town committee and delegates to the state convention. There were no contests and the business of the caucus was very harmonious. The caucus was held at 8 o'clock by Frank H. Smith chairman of the town committee who called for nominations for a chairman. Casper K. Bailey nominated Amos A. Browning and he was unanimously chosen. Mr. Browning took the chair and asked for nominations for a clerk. E. A. Cherry nominated Charles S. Holbrook, who was appointed to fill the office. The order of the meeting was read by the clerk.

After the clerk had read the call Chairman Browning spoke of the importance of the day laying stress on the importance of selecting the best and wisest men to guide the republican party to victory this year. Four years ago the republican party was elected to the presidential year, said Chairman Browning. Speaking of referendum, Chairman Browning said it was a matter of the wisest men to guide our party that it was a dead issue. Recall is another issue or question that is dead. Hardly anyone believes in recall as they did four years ago, and why? Because there is no need of it. I don't believe the question of tariff has been settled yet. We will be content with the question of competing with the world at large.

We are here tonight to select delegates to the state convention. In that connection there are a number of things that might be spoken of here. No one is wise enough to forecast who will be nominated at Chicago. So far as the republican party is concerned the question is one of deep uncertainty. It seems to me here locally and elsewhere that the republican party in all its campaigns during the year. Let us, acting in the majority, select the best men, the wisest men to guide our party, said Chairman Browning in conclusion.

The first business was the election of delegates to the Republican State convention and the Congressional District Convention to be held in Hartford 11th and 12th for the election of delegates to the Republican National Convention.

CLUB LICENSE LAW FULL OF HOLES.

Places No Restrictions as to Number of Hours Clubs May Sell.

The law passed by the legislature of 1915 which authorizes the county commissioners to issue liquor licenses or certificates to incorporated clubs, apparently has a hole in it. It does not seem to meet a worse fate it seems likely that it will receive a thorough revamping by the legislature of 1917. The law provides that no club shall sell more than one quart of liquor at any one time and that they give continuous performances in the dispensing of liquor. It appears that there is no penalty attached to the law and it is very generally understood that the penalty for violations are not of much avail. On the other hand, if a club is an incorporated club, it is not subject to the law of violating the laws regulating the sale of liquor, there is no way that the law provides for collecting the penalty.
