Mrs. W. J. Bartlett, Suffragist, Corrects Statements Made by H. H. Spooner—Daughter of Mrs. Sarah D. Naylor to Contest Will Leaving $150,000 Estate to Seabury Doane Brewer—Moose on Exhibition.

"Much of our time is taken in correcting the claims that were made by the anti's," said Mrs. W. J. Bartlett Thursday afternoon in discussing a matter that developed as a result of an inadvertency of H. H. Spooner, secretary of the Connecticut Temperance union in addressing the temperance gathering at the Congregational church Wednesday. It is no longer understood from this, however, that Mr. Spooner is an anti, but his criticisms have been concentrated on the suffrage association did not work at the last session of the legislature for the passage of the bill providing that women be permitted to vote on the license question in Connecticut raised the ire of some of the suffragists among his audience and they immediately withdrew from the hall.

The suffragists took particular exception to the claim that the said speaker, an attorney, represented them in opposition to the bill permitting women to vote on the license question when that bill was up for a hearing before a legislative committee. Mrs. Bartlett says as to this, that no paid speakers represented the suffragists at Hartford at the last session. On the other hand, she says that Mrs. Ella B. Kendrick, a past corresponding secretary of C. W. S. A., did appear before the committee in favor of the bill to let women vote on the license question and that the C. W. S. A. was anxious for the bill to pass, as this would give them their additional rights at the polls.

The energies and the organization of the C. W. S. A. at the capitol, however, were concentrated on the effort to obtain an amendment to the state constitution that would have conferred full suffrage rights upon them. They were not content with the bill on the passage of the bill providing that women vote on the license question, although they were that it became a law.

Following Mr. Spooner's address Mrs. Bartlett got in touch with suffrage leader, a sufficient quantity to meet their difficulties until the time when the supply is generous again.

"The Natural Shortening"

Make delicious pie crust after this recipe

Mix one scant teaspoon salt with one and one-half cups pastry flour. Chop in scant half cup chilled Cottolene. Mix in gradually three tablespoons cold water. Mix well, but do not knead with hands. If soft, lay paste in pan and place on ice till chilled. Sprinkle flour on molding-board; flour rolling-pin; roll out flat, then roll up into form of jelly roll; stand it on end; pat down and roll into circular shape. When rolled into proper size cover sides and bottom of pie dish. Fill in pie material. Roll top crust in same way, making several incisions to allow for filling and puffing in baking.

Cottolene makes pie-crust light, flaky, wholesome: it excels for all shortening and frying.

Its use is simple and you can get it in pails of various sizes to suit your convenience. Ask your grocer for a supply today.

much over the "40 mark" even after it had been shown the date on the calendar, Judge L. H. Fuller made some interesting comment Thursday afternoon on other backward and irresponsible springs.

Judge Fuller says that this spring is not the worst ever, although a great many people are willing to go as far as that in giving it a bad name. He recalls that in the spring of 1875 there was not a cherry blossom to be seen before the twenty-first day of May. This spring is real balmy compared to what the April and greater part of May 1875 turned in as weather exhibits, he says, and as for 1884—well, this spring has had no chance as yet to show what is going to happen on Memorial day—but on May 29 of the year mentioned there was a frost that cut the leaves from the trees, nipped corn just sprouting from the ground and turned black much of the spring vegetation.

After observing that it looked like rain, Judge Fuller buttoned up his overcoat, pulled on his gloves and started for his office, which is a very comfortable office, always well heated.

YOUTH IN OLD AGE

How to Live to be One Hundred Years Old. With proper attention to diet, prevention of colds, exercise, plenty of sleep, proper care of the skin and the use of a strengthening tonic like Vinol, years may be added to one's life.

A Civil War Veteran, Mr. W. H. Bowers, of Steubenville, Ohio, says: "I am 77 years of age; I suffered from general weakness, nervous breakdown and dizziness. An old doctor recommended Vinol. It built me up so that I was able to go to work as strong and well as ever."

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptonate and a mild tonic wine.

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble weakened system of old people, we will return the amount of money paid for it. G. G. Engler, Broadway Pharmacy, Norwich.
