FOUND DOCUMENT NEARLY ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD. Mrs. Ruth DeMonte Has Land Grant Signed by James Monroe.

While looking over old papers this week, Mrs. Ruth DeMonte came across a document that is 99 years old. The document is a grant of 160 acres to John Winters, father of the late Charles J. Winters, well known in this city, and Mrs. DeMonte's great-grandfather, in payment for his services during the war of 1812. John Winters was a private in Porter's company, 27th regiment infantry, during the war of 1812. There was no money in the treasury to pay the soldiers after the war, a special act was passed granting land payment on military bounty in the southwest quarter, section 11, township 12, north in range, four corners in tract appropriated for military bounties in Illinois. The document, although nearly a hundred years old, is in very excellent state of preservation.

Mrs. DeMonte also came across another paper, dated Nov. 15, 1855, signed by J. M. Edwards, commissioner of the land office, ratifying the original grant. There also a paper containing a map of the tract with John Winters land marked. The land in 1855 was 100 acres. Its present value is not known to Mrs. DeMonte. She intends to look the grant up in an endeavor to discover the present occupants.

WEDDING. Ward—Minner. A social event of interest was the pretty wedding of Gladys Lucile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gardner Miner, and Reginald Horatio Ward, which took place Wednesday evening at the bride's home, 31 Huntington street, in Norwich, Conn. The house was very lovely with its decorations. A profusion of wild flowers were effectively used. White and pink, with a touch of yellow, were the prevailing colors. At 7.30 o'clock, as the bride chanted from Lohengrin was played by Miss Martha L. Brown, the bride and groom, with their attendants, Miss Almiria G. Frink and Harry W. Ward, brother of the groom, entered the parlor.

Before a bank of ferns and flowers they were met by Rev. Edward P. Phares, pastor of the Norwich Town Methodist Episcopal church, who impressively performed the marriage ceremony. The single ring service was used.

To a wild rose was softly played during the ceremony, and the wedding march by Mendelssohn at the close. Preceding the ceremony O Promise Me, De Koven, was rendered by Mrs. W. Haselden of Hartford, an aunt of the bride. Mrs. Haselden gave two other selections, Old English Garden, Ruth Temple, and Japanese Love Song, Thomas Gray, at the evening. Miss Browning was accompanist.

The bride was very lovely in a dainty gown of white crepe de chine with silk tulle trimmings. She wore a full veil and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

The maid of honor wore rose colored silk tulle with trimmings of old rose tulle and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids wore pink and white dresses and carried pink roses. The groom wore a gold Masonic chain.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, where Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gardner Miner, the bride's parents, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bliss Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Berry catered.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward left on an evening train for a wedding trip. On their return they will be at home after July 1st at their newly furnished home, 31 Huntington avenue.

The bride going away gown was a fancy colored tulle made suit with hat to match. There were a large number of handsome wedding gifts in china, silver, cut glass, besides money and household furnishings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward are among the well known young people in Norwich and have a wide circle of friends. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. W. G. Haselden of Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Johnson of Fisher's Island, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leishman of New Haven.

EAST LYME MAN ACQUITTED BY JURY. Joseph Perino Was Charged With Violation of the Liquor Law.

Joseph Perino of East Lyme was acquitted by a jury in the criminal superior court of London Wednesday afternoon of the charge of violation of the liquor laws. Perino was accused of keeping and selling intoxicating liquors in his store and boarding house in Niantic. Trial of the case was started Tuesday afternoon and when court adjourned at 1 o'clock the state had put in all its evidence. The state's witnesses were Deputy Sheriff Manual J. Martin of New London and Constable Charles R. Tuttle of Niantic who made the raid on Perino's place last January. They told about the raid and seizing some whiskey and beer.

The defendant also testified Tuesday afternoon and denied the accusation. The four boarders at Perino's testified that they purchased liquor for their own consumption and that each paid his proportionate share of the cost. It was this liquor that was seized.

The arguments were started shortly after 1 o'clock and were heard by Prosecuting Attorney Charles B. Whittlesy and Attorney Clayton B. Smith for the defense. Judge Waller finished his charge about 2.30 when the jury retired returning in about 23 minutes with the verdict of not guilty.
