RUSSIAN RELEASE BUKOWINA CAPITAL

Troops Are Now on the Left Bank of the River Pruth, 20 Miles Northwest of Czernowitz

NO CESSATION IN GREAT RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE

On the Entire Front from the Pripet River in Russia and Through Galicia to Bukowina the Austro-Hungarians and Germans Are Being Driven Back—In Eleven Days the Russians Have Taken Prisoners, 1,781 Officers and 120,000 Men and Captured 130 Guns and 260 Machine Guns

—The Fighting Around Verdun Has Dwindled to Intermittent Bombardments—Russian Torpedo Boats Sink a German Cruiser.

An advance of about twenty miles by the Russians, who have Czernowitz as their objective, is chronicled in the latest Russian official communication. Having previously crossed the Dniester river and taken Horodenska and Zaleszczyki, the Russians have now driven their men to the left bank of the river Pruth and captured the town of Sniatyn, which lies only twenty miles northwest of the Bukowina capital.

News from the front from the Pripet river in Russia and through Galicia to Bukowina has been that of a cessation in the great Russian offensive. Along the entire line, according to the Russian war office, the Austro-Hungarians and Germans are being driven back and the Russians are still taking thousands of prisoners and capturing guns, machine guns and war supplies. In the eleven days drive, 1,781 officers and 120,000 men and 130 guns and 260 machine guns have been captured.

On the lower end of the German line in Russia, north of Baranov, Ichi, the Russians have advanced and captured the proposed German offensive and taken the initiative into their own hands. Here, after violent artillery preparation, they seven times assayed to storm the German lines. Berlin says, however, that all their efforts failed and that they were repulsed with heavy losses.

The fighting around Verdun has dwindled to intermittent bombardments.

months there having been no infantry attacks anywhere on this front since Tuesday when French positions west and south of Thiaumont farm were captured by the Germans and 733 Frenchmen were prisoners.

The Canadians around Zillebeke in Belgium are holding to the 1,500 yards of ground recaptured from the Germans Tuesday, although the Germans are heavily shelling them.

The latest advance on the Austro-Italian war theater, credit the Italians with repulsing violent Austrian attacks on the Posina front. On the other sectors of this line the Austrians are bombarding the Italian positions.

The German auxiliary cruiser Herzman has been attacked and sunk in the Baltic southeast of Stockholm by four Russian torpedo boat destroyers, according to Berlin. Reports from Sweden and Denmark concerning the fight say it was between Russian torpedo craft and a German auxiliary cruiser. The German vessel was sunk and trawlers which were conveying German merchantmen. In addition to the auxiliary cruiser and the German trawlers twelve of the merchantmen are reported to have been sunk.

New Haven Road Files Answer to C. S. Mellem. In Suit Brought by Letter to Recover $78,222 Alleged to be Due Him.

New York, June 14.—Answer was filed today by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company to the suit brought by C. S. Mellem, former president of the corporation, to recover $78,222 alleged to be due him for expenses and services to the company in 1915, which Mellem claims the company owes him up to January 13 last for salary under a five-year contract at $30,000 a year.

The company asserts that while the agreement to be in force by Mr. Mellem was entered into on July 18, 1913, it was abrogated by a letter from Mellem to the board of directors dated Oct. 20, 1913, in which he requested the board to terminate his services. The company also claims that thereafter the directors ceased to avail themselves of Mr. Mellem's advice and that the company never performed any services under the agreement which set forth that he was to be paid for acting in an advisory capacity. The company also claims that he was not to be paid in compensation for services, but as a gratuity for past services and in consideration of his resigning as president.

The claim for expenses likewise is rejected by the company for similar reasons and because it is alleged, no demand for the sum named ever was made to the company.

TO UNDERMINE AMERICA

Foreign-Born Citizens Are Trying to Levy a Species of Political Blackmail—President Walked in Parade.

Washington, June 14.—A charge that foreign-born citizens of the United States are trying to levy political blackmail and undermine the confidence of the national government was made by President Wilson in a flag day speech today. His assertion sounded the keynote of one of the foremost issues on which he tonight to say whether he had made a declaration of war against Germany, and as many of the other seven members of the sub-committee as can be present.

Selection of Manager. Arrangements for the conference were made late today by Mr. Crane. It was announced that the manager of the Hughes' campaign probably will be selected then and that persons of the executive committee will be discussed. The sub-committee is empowered to name the chairman and the executive committee.

No Announcement of Hughes Choice. No announcement concerning the nominee's choice for at least a chairman, or campaign manager, has been made. It is understood that the sub-committee will continue to consider all available candidates until his meeting with the sub-committee. In pursuance of policy, Mr. Hughes is refraining from discussion of political affairs for the present. Mr. Hughes declined to say whether he had made a tentative choice. Mr. Crane also declined to comment on the situation.

To Continue Informal Conferences. In the meantime Mr. Hughes will continue his informal conferences here with party leaders, the reception of old and new friends and supporters. The only long conference was held at his country house, Mr. Wickert's, attorney general in President Taft's cabinet, who will take part in the campaign management.

Mr. Wickert expects to keep in close touch with the nominee from the time he is selected and probably will be among Mr. Hughes' close advisers. A report that Mr. Wickert might be chosen campaign manager was denied at his country house.

Hughes Attends Theatre. The nominee went to the theatre tonight. It was the first evening since his arrival here that he had not devoted to work. His presence was provided for his departure from the city over Sunday, his return here on Monday to confer with the national sub-committee and his departure on Monday night for Providence, where he will reside until he departs for Thursday. The problem of selecting a summer residence is presenting difficulties. It is likely, however, that he will reside in the mountains which would be a location in the mountains not too remote from the city.

Species of Political Blackmail

"It works underground, but it also shows up above ground," said Mr. Hughes tonight. "There is a species of political blackmail, and there are those at this moment who are trying to levy a species of blackmail. Do what you will, but you will break our backs at the polls. That is the sort of thing that we are trying to prevent. It will turn with a might and triumph of sentiment which will teach these gentlemen a lesson for all that loyalty to this flag is the test of tolerance in the United States."

Dietyalty Active in United States. "There is dietyalty active in the United States and it must be absolutely crushed," declared the president, speaking emphatically. "It proceeds from a minority, a very small minority, but a very active and subtle minority."

NEW AUSGLEICH BETWEEN HUNGARY AND AUSTRIA

Action of Budapest Chamber of Commerce is Withheld from Public.

Zurich, Switzerland, June 17.—Austrian and German newspapers arriving here have failed to publish detailed accounts of the action of the Budapest Chamber of Commerce in adopting emphatically worded resolutions, which the new Ausgleich between Hungary and Austria shall be for only ten years.

The Ausgleich is a working agreement between the two nations for carrying on the monarchy's affairs dealing with the army and navy, customs, finance, diplomatic service and other governmental departments common to both countries. The present agreement will expire in 1917 and there has been some discussion of having the new Ausgleich continuing for 20 or 25 years, on the ground that it would be impossible to organize within a shorter time an alliance of the magnitude desired by Austria.

According to Hungarian newspapers the Budapest Chamber of Commerce's resolutions are declared to reflect the opinion of a majority of the members of Parliament.

Dropped Out to Review Parade. The parade started from the capitol grounds and ended at the White House where the president dropped out and took his place in the reviewing stand. Secretary Baker, Secretary McAdoo, Redfield, and Wilson, Postmaster-General Burdick and Attorney-General Gregory, who had marched at the head of the employees of their departments and by Secretary Lansing. All Carried American Flags. Almost every man and woman in the president's audience carried an American flag. Before the parade began a cannon fired a national salute of 21 guns and the Marine band played the Star Spangled Banner, while a band of the Army band played the hymn of the white monument, 150 feet above the ground. Secretary Lansing presided at the head of the parade and emphasized the duty of present-day Americans to preserve unswerving loyalty down by the founders of the republic.

GENERAL BRUGNOTT AND AUSTRIAN TROOPS

General Brugnott, the commander of the Russian army against the Austro-Hungarian troops, with success that is admitted at least in part by the Teutons, is the world's most conspicuous military figure just now. Many stories are told of his simplicity and devotion to duty. The map shows the "Valley of the Danube" and the "Danube" and "Danube" of which the Russians have just succeeded in regaining the line passed from the Austrians. The two sides are in a bitter struggle in the battle line where the Russians began their advance. The point where the Russians broke through is about 100 miles north of Czernowitz, Bukowina, and the Austrian border. The arrows opposite Kronenstadt indicate the point where, according to dispatches from Berlin, another furious Russian attack has been made.

GLYNN'S SPEECH STIRS DEMOCRATS

Demonstration Follows Demonstration for President Wilson at Democratic National Convention

SLOGAN IS PEACE, PREAREDNESS, PROSPERITY

In the Keynote Speech Former Governor Glynn of New York Asserted That No Other President Since the Civil War Had Faced Such Crucial Problems Nor Displayed a Grasp of Statesmanship More Profound Than Has President Wilson—In Support of President Wilson's Foreign Policy, Glynn Cited Historic Parallels to Show That Other Presidents Had Adjusted Threatening Foreign Situations Without Resorting to War—Adjournment Taken Until 11 a. m. Today.

St. Louis, June 14.—The democratic national convention at its first session today heard the keynote of American peace and preparedness, none had ever heard before, as proclaimed by former Governor Glynn of New York, as temporary chairman and speaker of the convention after demonstration of its approval of President Wilson's peaceful conduct of foreign affairs.

Stirred into Rousing Cheers. The convention which had gotten under way with such perfunctory demonstrations as mark every national gathering of the kind, soon stirred itself into rousing cheers as Chairman Glynn cited historic parallels to show that other presidents, including republicans, had adjusted threatening foreign situations without resort to war.

"The policy of the administration," he declared, "has been that of American as the American flag itself."

Settled Trouble by Negotiating. As he went down the list of presidents, recounting their action to avoid war, the delegates caught the spirit of his argument and as he referred to each particular president some delegate would call out a name.

"What did he do?"

"He settled the trouble by negotiating," was the reply which Glynn invariably returned. "The convention would roar its approval."

William J. Bryan, as a newspaper correspondent in the press stand, was with emotion as Glynn pictured the victories of peace, but he laughed with the crowd when a Texas delegate, interrupting Glynn, leaped to his chair and cried:

"And don't forget that policy also is satisfactory to William Jennings Bryan."

Demonstrations Interrupted Glynn. Aside from a sixteen-minute demonstration which began when Chairman Glynn had arisen and a fifteen-minute election, Glynn's speech was sprinkled with demonstrations which he found sufficient to stem them, he could not go on. It was plain that the points on the delegates were the recall of President Wilson's efforts to keep the country out of war.

May Not Satisfy Fire-Eaters. "This policy," he said, "may not satisfy the fire-eater and the swash-buckler. But it does satisfy the mother of the land at whose heart and breast no insidious war has placed an empty chair. It does satisfy the daughters of this land from whom bluster and brag have sent no living brother to the dissolution of the grave. It does satisfy the fathers of this land and the sons of the land who will fight for our flag and die for our flag when reason brings the rifle; when honor draws the sword and when justice breathes a blasphemous word against the flag. The last of the words were dropped out in a roar of applause that swept the convention floor."

"Repeat it," cried the delegates, "repeat it."

"All right, be quiet and I'll repeat it," responded Glynn, and he did to applause and cheering.

Extols President Wilson. No other president since the Civil War had faced such crucial problems, none had displayed a grasp of statesmanship more profound.

"Whether the course the country has pursued during this crucial period is to be continued and whether the principles which have been asserted as our national policy shall be endorsed or withdrawn," Glynn told the convention, was the paramount question for which the delegates were called to decide.

"No lesser issue must cloud it," said he, "no unrelated problems must confuse it."

Adjourned Until 11 a. m. Today. After hearing the keynote speech the convention adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow. Committees then went into session to prepare their work for the session.

Big Coliseum Was Filled. Today the Big Coliseum holding about 15,000 people, practically was filled and despite the hot weather, the temperature, it was fairly comfortable. On their way to the convention they were greeted by a throng of suffragists spread along twelve blocks of Locust street, the most traveled route to the Coliseum.

Suffragists in Yellow and White. The suffragists, seated on chairs ranged along the curbs, were arrayed in white and yellow and held banners. The waving lines of yellow gave the demonstration the popular name "Golden Lane."
