TWO DUPONT DIRECTORS REMOVED FROM COMPANY. No Time For Differences in Midst of Big War Contracts.

Wilmington, Del., July 12.—Additional details of the differences among members of the Dupont family over the ownership of securities of the Dupont Powder company were received today on the witness stand by Pierre S. Dupont, president of the company, one of the defendants in the suit involving about $5,000,000 of powder stock. The action was brought in the federal court by Philip P. Dupont, Alfred I. Dupont and certain directors of the company, the complainants alleging that the stock involved in the suit offered for sale to the company by T. Coleman Dupont should have been purchased by the company instead of by defendants who are charged with having bought it for their own personal benefit.

Earlier cross examination today President Dupont said that Alfred I. Dupont and William Dupont had been deposed as directors and officers of the company because he "felt for a long time that their actions were not open and above board."

"They had charges against officers and employees, President Dupont testified that he had not been sustained and that they showed lack of cooperation. President Dupont testified that he had informed Alfred and William Dupont that the company was in the midst of the largest work of its career, that it had immense contracts to carry out, that everybody must work together and in consequence they 'must' either mend their ways or get out."
