OBITUARY. John Looby Jr. After an illness of five weeks with rheumatism and later pneumonia, John Looby, Jr., died at the home of his parents, at No. 25 Vermont street, Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock.

John Looby, Jr., the son of John and Mary Barry Looby, was 23 years and 10 months old. He was born in this city and had spent all of his life here. He had for some time assisted Capt. Dury at the Michigan Park.

Mr. Looby was a member of Court Sachem, Foresters of America, and he belonged to the St. Mary's T. A. B. society, also the Eastern Star, the Union, Maurice, a conductor on the Shore Line Electric Railway, and a sister, Miss Helen Looby.

As a son and brother, Mr. Looby was dutiful and lovable, and as a friend he was loyal. He was an ideal young man, and his loss is a serious blow to his family. He is survived by his father, Mrs. Luella Page Hoovey, and a sister, Miss Helen Looby.

Mrs. Luella Page Hoovey. After an illness of many months duration, Mrs. Luella Page Hoovey, wife of William B. Hoovey of 19 Prospect street, New London, passed away Monday evening at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hoovey made her home in Greenfield with her brother, the late William H. Page. At a later period she lived with her mother at the Park Street Methodist church, Park Street, East Side, then called City Gardens. While a resident of Norwich, Mrs. Hoovey was a member of the old East Main Street Methodist church. Some thirty years ago she moved to New London, where her activities were transferred to the Federal Street Methodist church. For six years she was president of the W. C. M. S.

There are left to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother, three daughters, a son, a daughter-in-law, a grandchild, a daughter, Mrs. James N. Steery, and a grandson, Allen W. H. Steery.

Charles W. Moody. Charles W. Moody, 85, a native of Nantucket, who did the boiler work and iron plating work on the confederate vessel Merrimack, when she was preparing to explode in the Chesapeake in the Civil war, died in New London, Tuesday night of pneumonia. Mr. Moody also did the repair work on boilers and iron plating at the Merrimack after the battle with the Monitor. He is survived by three daughters.

APPRAISAL COMMITTEE VISITS LAND

Looked Over Wheeler Property at State Hospital in Connection With Condemnation Proceedings—About Sixteen Acres Involved—Hearing to be Held on August 2nd.

The appraisal committee appointed by the Superior Court in June in connection with the condemnation proceedings brought by the State of Connecticut against land in the vicinity of the Norwich State Hospital for the insane, in the interests of the institution, visited the locality and looked over the land in question. In all there are about fifteen or sixteen acres concerned. The state hospital will be higher than the land, and it is to be used for institution purposes. They were unable to make any settlement with the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wheeler and the matter was taken up with the court.

Last month at a session of the superior court in this city, a committee of three were appointed as appraisers of the condemned land. Those serving on the committee are Attorney Charles Torrey of Putnam, Woodbury O. Rogers of Norwich Town and H. J. Dawley of this city. One of the committee men said Tuesday night that they had visited the locality on Tuesday and that they had not reached any decision relative to the appraisal.

The majority of the land is owned by Charles H. Wheeler and the remainder, about 10 acres, is owned by Mr. Wheeler. Part of Mrs. Wheeler's land lies between the road and the trolley line, and other part is located between the trolley tracks and the woods at the top of the hill. The piece owned by Mr. Wheeler is occupied by a small red cottage.

Hon. Allyn L. Brown and Andrew Davies represent Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and the state is represented by Attorney Arthur M. Brown. A hearing in regard to the matter is to be held in this city on Wednesday morning, August 2nd, at 10:30 o'clock.
