Get $25 A Week Position. Come in and verify the facts from our office files concerning all our advertising.

A resident of Norwich whom many people in Norwich know well has just accepted a private secretary position, paying $20 a year and another one, as well known, has accepted a position paying nearly as much. Two others accepted positions this week at $200 a year and several positions at the present writing remain unfilled.

Of course it goes without saying that they are all Norwich Commercial School graduates and the following facts coupled with the results of the past eight years, right here in Norwich, have backed up all the promises that were made by this school eight years ago and which competitors said it was impossible for us to keep. In other words we have made good.

This is not a branch school visited occasionally by its owner.

The owner, proprietor and principal of the Norwich Commercial School, being a resident and taxpayer of this city naturally takes great pride in this institution and he is not making promises of unknown worth or relying upon the results accomplished in foreign fields to pull his school through.

Mr. Crandall introduced Blindfold Typewriting to Norwich eight years ago, as well as other up-to-date business methods now in use only in Norwich Commercial School.

Initiation is the sincerest flattery and those schools claiming in their advertising to do greater things in the future than they have done in the past, and to do as well as the Norwich Commercial School, seem to us, to admit that the past has not met with the approval of their students.

Our students are our best friends and advertising them, ask them and those who have attended elsewhere from a week to nearly two years. Come in and talk the matter over with them.

Someone has said, "A thorn of experience is worth a wilderness of warning."

Our Norwich record of the past eight years is a positive indication of what may be expected of us in the years to come.

Others may try to equal our record but many of the leading business men feel, as we do, that we are so far in the lead, as of now, that it will be hard, if ever possible to overtake us.

During the past year we have placed young people in positions that have paid from $10 to $25 a week and occasionally higher and sometimes lower according to the ability of those placed.

The above statements can be verified by anyone interested enough to look over our office records. If you are interested in getting a thorough business training it is not necessary for you to take the promises or guarantees of unknown parties. Verify the facts concerning this school right here in Norwich, they speak louder than words.

If you want to know something about Eastern Connecticut's leading stenographic school, call on the announcements each day. They will open your eyes in a wonderful way concerning the possibilities in this part of the state at the present time, and the possibilities of securing employment.

"The winds and the waves are on the side of the most able navigators." Let us prepare you to sail the seas of business where the opportunities for winning social and financial distinction are unsurpassed.

Another Paralysis Conference Friday

Health Officers of Eastern Connecticut Towns Will Meet With Dr. E. J. Brophy Here to Consider Means of Preventing Entrance of New Yorkers Without Certificates—Leads Are Suspected by the Authorities—No New Cases.

But the health authorities in this section remain agreed that as rigid exclusion as can be enforced is the only preventive method and the conference on Friday is to make this exclusion a little more effective.

Case Did Not Develop. In Norwich Wednesday there was nothing new to report in the way of paralysis, save that the child one doctor had under observation had been eliminated as a possible sufferer from the disease.

Two Men on New London Road. To help out Officer John Donovan at the Norwich-Montville High in the arduous task of seeing that the children who are constantly coming to this city in automobiles and trucks have their proper health certificates, William Enos was appointed Wednesday afternoon by the Town Health Officer, Thomson and Town Lecturer C. K. Bailey. The two health guards will work in unison on the New London road and the latter being travelers will be made much more expeditious than heretofore, when only one man had to do the duty.

New York Children Sent Back. There was no change in New London Wednesday. There were six children on the New London line steamer which left for Montville High in the morning. They were bound for Versailles, two for Norwich and one for New London. The three children for Norwich were taken to the city and held up by Inspector Savage, the two for New London being turned over to the New London health authorities.

General Situation Encouraging. Other matters of importance in connection with the general situation will be talked over and suggestions received and acted upon. It is felt that the general situation in New London county at present is encouraging, the precautions have proven valuable to a large degree in preventing the spread of the contagion and the authorities are desirous of maintaining and enforcing the exclusion orders, in spite of criticism that is being made about the fact that their action is for the best interests of the people of eastern Connecticut.

Local Authorities Will Stand Firm. That there has been friction between local health officers in New York and health officials in several Connecticut towns has been reported by Dr. Charles E. Banks, senior federal surgeon in charge of Interstate travel in New York city, who has been in the city since his arrival here on Tuesday.
