Good Opportunities for Graduating Engineers.

College and university students who specialize in the highway engineering branches of civil engineering courses will find unusual opportunities of securing early employment and good pay after winning their degrees.

Q., where Mr. Collins took charge of the carding department of a large mill there in which he worked for twelve years and resigned his position there and came to Baltic where he was employed as an overseer in the Baltic Mills Co. carding department for 13 years. Owing to ill health Mr. Collins resigned his position on the 15th day of March, 1913. Mr. Collins was considered one of the best men in the country in the carding department. mercy in New York city state that there is a lack of trained road engineers, and sixteen say that preference would be given to graduates of college highway engineering courses in the appointment of additional road engineers.

Nearly 1,600 engineers are now employed by the twenty-four state commissions and in addition about 2,000 are employed as county and city engineers in nineteen of the states.

Salaries of highway engineers range from $300 to $5,000 a year. The average is about $1,800.

There has been a tremendous increase in highway improvement throughout the country during recent years, and the demand for good roads is growing rapidly. Highway commissions report that they anticipate the number of engineers employed by the state highway departments will be doubled at least within five years.

Enactment of the federal roads bill appropriating $75,000,000 for construction of public roads during the next five years, provided the various states appropriate an equal amount, assures the expenditure of $150,000,000 on main state highways in that period. This will greatly stimulate the building of minor roads by the states and counties.

More than $250,000,000 is now spent annually in the United States for road construction repair and maintenance.

VOICE FROM THE DEEP.

Before the war "seamen's return" tickets were issued by most railway companies from seaport towns at reduced rates. A well-dressed young man asked for one of these tickets the other day, but the booking clerk demurred.

"Seamen's tickets are issued only to sailors," he snapped.

"Well, I am a sailor," was the reply of the applicant.

"But how am I to know that your statement is correct?"

"Give me a ticket," he said; "be a sailor!"—London Answers.

JOSEPH SMITH - THOMAS HUGHES KELLY

Thomas H. Kelly and Joseph Smith, who sailed from New York on July 15 on the Philadelphia to distribute $50,000 that had been collected here for Irish relief and were not allowed to land in England, got back to New York on the same vessel. They issued a statement which said: "They were taken to their cabins by detectives and subjected to personal search of the minutest character, their pockets emptied, pocketbooks opened, all papers, cards, letters, notebooks, etc., scrutinized and read and their arms, weapons and tools to ascertain anything was concealed about their persons. It was the sort of examination that arrested criminals are usually subjected to."

"My little girl was five years old when a rash broke out on her back and arms and also all over her face. When it first came out it was very red and then it began to form into eruptions like smallpox, and her face was so full of the eruptions that you could not put a pin head between them, and her eyes were closed. She was a terrible sight. She cried night and day the eruptions itched so badly, and I had to tie her hands so that she could not scratch. She also had a fever and was sick.

The rash was very bad for three weeks. Then I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and the eruption broke to heat and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Watson Haines, Garnerville, N. Y., Oct. 21, 1915.
