WESTERLY CROWDS AT FAIR

Many Go to Kingston for Governor's Day Events—Interest in Firemen's Day Today—John Shea Stricken With Apoplexy Thursday—Accident to George Lord—Jurors Summoned for September Term.

A very interesting exhibit at Kingston fair is that of the state fisheries commission, which includes swimming fish of both salt and fresh water species. There is also an exhibition of some very large sea lobsters and a shark, a dead one, that is even larger than the "ferocious man eater" that can be seen for a dime in a tent in the midway.

There is also quite a big display of modern garden implements, including motor driven machines, and in the same section are many vehicles, including a chemical fire engine.

The fair will close today (Friday) and it is termed Firemen's Day as the annual muster of the Rhode Island and Veteran Firemen's association is to be held on the grounds and there will be a special train for prizes for squirting and hose reel races.

Thursday was the big day of the fair and the attendance was fully up to the standard and, to a degree, made good for the general attendance of Tuesday and Wednesday. All regular and special trains from the west and east brought in many patrons to the fair, which hundreds of others came by automobiles.

When the special train from Providence arrived with Governor Beecman and staff, Senator Lippitt, Congressman Stines, and others prominent in the politics and business of Rhode Island, they were met at the station by a delegation from the fair management and escorted to the fair grounds. After lunch, and after a general get-together of politicians, great and small, from all sections of the state, there were brief speeches by the governor, the senator and congressman. The party of distinguished visitors from down Providence way departed on a special train late in the afternoon. The horse racing of Thursday was some improvement over that of the day before. There were two events as follows:

Toger Williams Driving club stakes, 2.25 clear track, $400. William Guy, bay mare, John Cavanaugh, Providence, won in three straight heats. Time, 2:25 1-4, 2:27 1-4, 2:27 1-2.

Lady, h. m., Spiveyway stable, Providence, second; Millie W., b. m., H. Atherton Bailey, South Providence, third.

Named race, purse $400: San Jacinto, b. g., won in three straight heats. Time, 2:18 1-4, 2:21 1-4, 2:21 1-4. Mabel Corser, b. m., second; My Colonel, b. h., third; Emerald, b. g., fourth.

Several patrons of the fair, willing to pay a fair price for a fair dinner, complain that in one of the tents, where the meat, the mashed potato, the piece of sweet potato and butter, were served on one plate, in cheap restaurant style, the price for the dinner was one dollar. The aforesaid patrons declare that such imposition does not tend to popularize the Kingston fair. However, they would cheerfully submit to this particular imposition at half the price.

The big midway privileges were all taken by the fair fakirs, and as a result there was a very few. The fake wrestlers, the dancing girls from Frisco, and the wild cannibal, were allotted places contiguous to the midway.

Many went to the Kingston fair from Westerly, Thursday. It is expected that another large contingent will go to the fair today (Friday) from Westerly, accompanying the Westerly Veteran Firemen's association, who have entered their machine, Star, in the squirting contest, at the annual muster of the Rhode Island Veteran Firemen's association.

The ballot to be used in the fall election in Rhode Island will be of the blanked pattern and, as a prominent politician said, it will be of "all wool and a yard wide." It will be the largest ever used in the state, and these parties will be represented on the ticket: republican, democrat, socialist, social labor and prohibition.

Besides the women and children, several candidates for presidential electors, United States senator, congressman and other state officers, there is a constitutional amendment and three bond issues.

The constitutional amendment provides for the condemnation of certain land for state park and other purposes. The first bond issue proposition provides for $100,000 known as the "Charitable and Penal Institution Loan for the construction of new buildings and repairs and alterations to other structures at the state institutions."

The second bond issue is for $120,000 for the completion and equipment of the armory for mounted commands. The other bond issue is for bridge construction to raise $200,000 for the erection of bridges on the highway system.

At a meeting of the Rhode Island democratic state central committee it was decided to hold the state and congressional conventions in the Elks auditorium, Providence, on Thursday, Oct. 5. The state convention will convene at 1 o'clock, and the congressional conventions will be held at the close of the state gathering. The caucuses at which the delegates to those conventions are to be selected should be held not later than Monday, Oct. 2. Each representative district is entitled to two delegates and two alternates, which shall be selected by a representation of eight, and two delegates to the congressional convention.

John Shea, designated as "Indian Jack" to separate him from several other John Sheas in Pawtucket and Westerly, was stricken with apoplexy when in West Broad street, Thursday morning. Patrolman Wheeler, with assistance, conveyed Mr. Shea to the Pawtucket police station, where he was attended by Dr. Michael H. Scanlon. Subsequently Mr. Shea was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Shea.

Harry Hoxie, and is in a very critical condition. A few months since Mr. Shea was struck by a railroad train at the John street crossing, in New London, and taken to the Lawrence hospital in that city. Since then he had been an indolent man and had resolved to lead a life of sobriety and industry. There is but slight chance of recovery from the shock he received Thursday.

George Lord, while at work in the Westerly mill of the American Thread company, Thursday, slipped and fell, causing a dislocation of the left ankle and severe lacerations of the leg. He was taken to his home in Liberty street, where he received medical attention. It will be several weeks before he will be in condition to return to his accustomed employment.

Sergeant Karl Rittman, Eleventh company, Coast Artillery Corps, won the rifle championship last year and, in the annual contest at the state range, with a score of 135 out of a possible 150, he was the victor. Private E. G. Zetterstrom and Corporal O. W. Strom of the Seventh company, but Rittman won by making the best score in rapid fire. The contest was shot at 200 yards rapid fire, and 300 and 600 yards at slow fire, with ten shots for each distance range. The competition was open to all Rhode Island guardsmen. It requires Rittman the front entrance and to decide the match. The three leading scores in detail were:

Sergt. Karl Rittman—

Corporal J. A. Clark, First company, scored 134, and Sergeant Joseph Pennington, Eighth company, 133.

Produce Totten, who is making moving pictures in Westerly and vicinity, wanted to have an exterior scene enacted in front of the Broad street Christian church. He said the structure would answer for an old type of colonial courthouse, and he only wanted to use the front entrance and the lawn. There was not much opposition, but when Mr. Totten said he wanted to put a sign over the entrance to read "Country Court House" the minister Dupont put the quietus upon the proposition, as he did not propose to permit the front and wood ferns to be a courthouse and sheriff's office, even for a brief period, fearing that the designation might become permanent. It is understood a local artist had planned to picture the placarded church to be used on postal cards. The scene was enacted at the Central firehouse.

Wednesday was Grange day at Kingston fair, and there was a very large attendance in competition for prizes. The float of Westerly Grange was awarded first prize, and was decorated with flowers and grain, and bearing three representative members of the grange and real live goats. It is evident that the animal got the goat of the judges. The second prize was awarded Ashaway grange, the third to the Kingston Grange, and the fourth to Kent County grange.

Mr. Ryder was taken to St. Raphael's hospital.

JEWETT CITY

Golden Rod Wedding at Congregational Church, When Miss Marian Adelaide Paine Becomes Bride of Arthur Hall Strickland—Norwich Recorder Performs Ceremony.

The Congregational church was filled with relatives and friends Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, who had gathered to witness the marriage of Miss Marian Adelaide Paul of Jewett City and Arthur Hall Strickland of Middlefield. The decorations were of white and gold, and the platform and choir loft being arranged with a bank and border of the white and gold. The bride and groom forming the center flat area. Begonias and house ferns were used to add to the effect. The piano was decorated with a border of ferns, and ornamented with golden rod in large brass baskets. Golden rod was arranged at the vestibule and other entrances.

The March from Lohengrin was played by F. Leonard, organist of the church, who also played several selections before the ceremony. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Leonard, officiated. The bridegroom and best man were the Rev. J. H. Leonard and Arthur Hall Strickland of Middlefield, who were followed by the two bridesmaids, Miss Jean Courtney Burleson wearing a pink and white trimmed with silver lace, and Miss Dorothea Williams Burleson, in pink pompadour taffeta and silver lace. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white and pink flowers. The bride wore a white tulle gown, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Franklin John Bohanan, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Greenfield. The full Episcopal service was used. As the procession left the church, Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played.

The groom's gift to the bride was a home on North Main street and was followed by a dance in Riox hall. The bridesmaids were decorated in pink asters and foliage plants. Mrs. Aaron Ward roses were used in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Strickland will visit various places in New Hampshire on their wedding trip. They are to reside in Middlefield. The bride's traveling gown was gray taffeta with black and old rose velvet hat. The groom's gift to the bride was a home on North Main street and was followed by a dance in Riox hall. STONINGTON

Miss McMahon Resigns at Broad Street School—Officers Selected by Visiting Nurse Association.

Miss Susan McMahon has resigned as teacher in the Broad Street school, Pawtucket, and the resignation has been reluctantly accepted by the school committee of the town of Stonington, who, consider Miss McMahon to be one of the best teachers in the school of the town. Miss Helen M. Tuttle has been transferred from the school in Mystic to succeed Miss McMahon. According to the statement of a committeeman, Miss McMahon's salary was increased from $500 to $800 last year. She was re-elected to continue in the position, unless another $100 was added to her salary and given an assistant. Later she made the request that she be assigned to teach in the fourth grade in the Broad Street school and be relieved of the responsibility of principal. This request was granted, but she finally resigned. The successor of Miss Tuttle has not been named.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy for the Disease Has Been Found. Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by Lee & Gosgood and drug stores, gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much. Rheuma passes its deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way. Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the form of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism, in its various stages, and of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition."—Dr. Lyons. This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma.
